TO ARRAIGN THE ALTON.

The Interstate Commerce Commission in Session at Chicago.

Railroad Employes Trying to Unite---Rail News and Notes.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—The spacious club room of the Palmer house was crowded this morning with railroad and business men interested in the proceedings of the Interstate Commerce commission. Chairman Cooley called the body to order shortly after 9 o'clock, and the members present were: Hon. W. R. Morrison, Illinois; Gen. Walter L. Bragg of Alabama; Judge Augustus Schoonmaker of New York and Judge W. G. Veazey, Vermont, the member recently appointed by President Harrison.

The commission went into secret session for the purpose of deciding upon the order of business, and upon the opening of the public session, the charges that have been filed against the Chicago and Alton road will be taken up. There are several of these charges, but the one that attracts the most particular attention is that in which the Alton is accused of violating the law in publishing a through tariff on cattle from points beyond the Missouri river without the consent and against the wishes of the company operating the initial line. The complainants are the Rock Island road and the Interstate Commerce Railway association.

The question is an important one, and the decision will make a valuable precedent. Chairman Walker of the association in question, and formerly a member of the commission, has already decided against the Alton in the same case.

Other cases docketed and to be heard during the session, which will last for a week at least, include charges of discrimination on shipments of dressed beef and live stock against the Michigan Central and New York Central, and charges of rate discrimination brought by the Produce exchange and the Detroit and Cleveland boards of trade against the Lake Shore, Michigan Central, New York Central and Boston and Albany roads.

WILL THEY UNITE?

Engineers, Brakemen and Switchmen Talk of Joining Their Forces.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 30.—A joint conference of representatives of the Switchmen's National union and the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Firemen and Railroad Brakemen opened this morning at the old city hall. Its object is to satisfy the federation of the three bodies which was recently accomplished, and as the Grand lodge of each organization has ratified the arrangements, the proceedings will be of a somewhat formal character.

The failure of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers to become identified with the federation is believed to be mainly due to the opposition of Chief Arthur, and the question is likely to be raised in a vigorous manner at the national engineer's convention to be held in Denver next week. It only needs the support of the engineers to make the federation the strongest labor organization in the world. Mayor McCallin welcomed the delegates at the opening of the conference this morning.

Rail Notes.

The Eastern Minnesota company began this morning running trains from the new Michigan street depot.

Union Depot company officials will be here Wednesday to let the contract for the Sixth avenue viaduct.

Their Future Policy.

By this evening the future policy of the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic railway company will be settled upon, and Duluth may expect a change in the low rates that have prevailed during the past few months. Private advices to The Herald from Marquette give the information that the officers of the road held a lengthy session last week, holding in earnest discussion of the situation, with the result that rates will be somewhat advanced, but not so much as to be inimical to Duluth's interests or to give the St. Paul-Chicago crowd a chance to control the through Eastern traffic. Tomorrow, it is expected that the new rates will be published.

ANGRY JACK TARS.

British Seal Stealers are Mad That They Cannot Pillage Without Hindrance.

OTTAWA, Sept. 30. — Reports from British Columbia today say that the United States cutter Rush, which has gained such notoriety this season in connection with the seizure of Canadian sealers in Behring Sea, will shortly leave Sitka for the South, calling on her way down at Victoria.

It is feared that owing to the indignation which exists against the officers and crew of the cutter among crews of seized vessels and their friends over the confiscation of their summer's work that serious trouble may arise, as the men are determined, they say, to avenge their wrongs in this way if the British government is going to deny them protection. It is said that it will give the local authorities all they can do to prevent a conflict. The military force stationed at Victoria is to be held in readiness to quell any disturbance.

The Weather Unsettled.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—A storm of considerable intensity is central north of Minnesota. Rain has fallen in the Upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys and in all districts to the eastward, except New England and the Middle Atlantic states, where the weather is cloudy and threatening. There has been a slight rise in temperature in all directions.

Knights of Labor.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—Nearly all the members of the executive board of the Knights of Labor have arrived in the city for a week's session. Important questions affecting the organization in the entire Southwest, embracing Missouri, Kansas, Indian Territory, Arkansas and Texas, are to be considered, and the revolt among the local Knights, with the charges and counter charges that have been made, will make the meeting one of great importance to the order.

SWEET PEACE.

A Minister of Peace Trying to Wave the Marital Olive Branch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—It is reported on good authority that an eminent prelate of the Catholic church has undertaken of his own authority to bring about a reconciliation between Mrs. James G. Blaine, Jr., and her husband, and incidentally to promote better relations between the unfortunate wife and her parents-in-law, Secretary and Mrs. Blaine.

Blanche Nevins Blaine is a devout adherent of the Catholic faith and this fact alone would stand in the way of her sueing for divorce on the ground of abandonment, even if as is the case, her love for her husband were not still too strong to warrant her in tolerating the idea. She is now a helpless invalid, inflammatory rheumatism being her ailment, and according to the report in question her sad condition has appealed to the sympathies of the prelate.

Those in a position to know assert with confidence that if he is interesting himself in the case his influence is such that success will be certain.

Socialistic Labor Party.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—The closing session of the National Convention of the Socialistic Labor Party of the United States and Canada was called to order this morning at the West Twelfth street Turner hall by Thomas Morgan. Many of the delegates are already homeward bound. Legislation in relation to factory labor and child labor will be considered during the day, and resolutions condemning trusts and combinations of capital will be discussed.

Dutch Strikers.

ROTTERDAM, Sept. 30.—A number of striking dock laborers manifested a disposition to return to work today, but they were prevented from doing so by the arguments and threats of their comrades. Two Dutch men-of-war, three gunboats and two sloops-of-war are moored in the river. Forces from these vessels will be landed in the event of the strikers creating disorder.

To Fight to a Finish.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Jem Smith and Jack Wannop will fight to a finish near here today. The betting is heavy, Smith being a decided favorite, and great interest is manifested in sporting circles over the outcome. Smith has been trained by Jem Howes at Brighton, while Wannop has put in his time at Plough Inn, Bromley.

The Ex-Queen Visits Her Son.

BELGRADE, Sept. 30.—Ex-Queen Nathalie paid a visit to her son, King Alexander, today. All foreign representatives, with the exception of the ambassadors of Germany and Turkey, afterward waited upon the ex-queen.

$205,000 for Parnell.

DUBLIN, Sept. 30.—Subscriptions to the fund to meet the expenses of Parnell in his defense before the Parnell commission have closed. The total amount subscribed is £41,000.

Off For the Capital.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The Golden Gate commandery of the Knights Templars left here on a special train today en route for the national capital to attend the triennial conclave. The party numbers about 200.

DIED.

Dr. Charles H. Graff Quietly Passed Away Sunday.

Dr. Charles H. Graff, who has been on the verge of the grave for the past four or five days, died early Sunday morning. There has been taken from the ranks of physicians of this city an earnest worker, an enthusiastic scientist and a doctor of much more than local fame. Dr. Graff was but 35 years of age but his record has been equalled by but few members of his profession in the West, while in Duluth his death has left a void hard to be filled in many families where he was relied on as the family physician. About a month ago he succumbed to an attack of typhoid fever, to which any man but a busy physician would have surrendered long before, and was very ill. The fever left him nicely but nervous prostration set in and could not be checked.

Dr. Graff has been a resident of Duluth for about nine years and stood at the head of the medical fraternity here, having a very large practice and being eminent all through the Northwest. He graduated in the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania in 1870, and afterwards went to Heidelberg, where he also graduated. Twice since he located in Duluth he has been to Europe, studying at both Vienna and Stockholm. On one of these visits he made a trip through Italy, Turkey, Egypt and Asia Minor. Dr. Graff was never married. He leaves a large amount of property, mostly in real estate and other investments, in this city and vicinity.

Dr. Graff's home before coming to Duluth was at Worthington, Armstrong county, Pennsylvania, and there his parents have lived. E. D. Graff of Worthington, Peter Graff of Utica, N. Y., Frank Graff of Kiltaning, Pa., Philip M. Graff of Duluth, his brothers, and Mrs. Kirkpatrick of Pittsburg, are now in Duluth, his parents not coming on because of their age. The funeral services will be held at his late residence on Third street, corner Second avenue west, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, and the body will be interred here.

Saturday's Races.

The results of Saturday afternoon's boat race were not satisfactory. In the first place the water was choppy, interfering with the race very materially and spoiling the possible speed; in the second place there was a most provoking lack of courtesy and sense shown by the occupant of a cruising canoe which sailed across the course, fouling one of the contestants in the working-boat race. In the race for the Burke trophy, H. D. Pearson against C. E. Wheeler, Pearson again won, in a little over eleven minutes for the 1½ mile. Kershaw against Smith, in working boats, was an even race until the idiotic episode occurred by which Smith was apparently deliberately cut out of the race by a crossing canoe. For the doubles Wheeler and Smith won against Hopkins and Smith, keeping the lead from the start.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

The following variations in temperature were recorded at Pioneer Fuel company's office in Hotel St. Louis block, for twenty-four hours ending at noon today: 12 m., 53 degrees; 3 p. m., 60 degrees; 6 p. m., 59 degrees; 10 p. m., 54 degrees; 7 a. m., 54 degrees; 9 a. m., 54 degrees; 12 m., 59 degrees. Maximum, 60 degrees. Minimum, 53 degrees. Daily range, 7 degrees.

Boys brigade will have a reception, with coffee and cake for refreshments, this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Bethel.

Tower people are talking of making a special effort at entertainment, through the Business Mens association, for the Duluth excursionists next Friday.

Fixtures for the new quarters of the State bank are being put in today at the Pastoret-Stenson building.

An assessment amounting to $14,860.81 was made this afternoon for work on Seventh avenue east and Washington avenue.

W. H. Nesbitt is back from an extended visit to Canada. He took in the Toronto exposition which was a very fine affair. At Cowansville fifty-four miles from Toronto he spent a pleasant week. Mr. Wistar was about twenty years ago a resident of Duluth, and has kept posted on her growth ever since then, but every visit he makes to the city astonishes him. Armstrong was the postal clerk in charge of the fast mail which flew the track at Steubenville, Ohio, last June, killing three clerks outright and seriously wounding everyone on the train. Mr. Armstrong comes here for rest in the hope that a change of climate may do him good. He is obliged to use crutches and can move only with great difficulty.

Stole Their Clothes.

A few days ago a man—one of the genus tramp—was given work in a lumber camp just outside West Duluth. Saturday morning he complained of being ill and was accordingly granted permission to stay in camp, while his companions went to work. When they returned from their day's labor it was only to find that the sick man had vanished, taking with him all the men's clothing and everything else of value there was about the place.

MARINE MATTERS.

A New Officer—Work at the Sault—General Notes.

Only 200 bushels of the Oceanica's "to-preserve-identity" cargo of wheat were wet, as a result of the recent collision with the R. L. Fryer. The Oceanica will need two new frames on the port bow, and plank and ceiling on the main deck. She will also need a new forefoot.

President Harrison has appointed Charles Waller as second assistant keeper of the light station at this place. The office is an entirely new one, and the recent establishment of the range light made it a necessity.

Another thrilling account of a marine disaster has been telegraphed from Superior. The steamer C. W. Elphicke was reported as being greatly damaged in a collision near there. The captain and crew of the vessel know nothing about it.

The Sault Ste. Marie News says: "There will be three times the work done on the new government lock this winter and next summer than has been done on the water power canal in the last twelve months. The coffer-dam is now water-tight and the pit can be kept dry with one small pump. The contractors expect to complete their contract by next fall, though contract time is June next. In addition to the excavation the contract of Collins & Farwell calls for 5000 cubic yards of stone piling and 1000 cubic yards of retaining wall. The work of taking down the old lock gates has begun, and the wall next to the rapids is being strengthened.

FOR SUMMER VISITORS.

The Isle Royale Copper Company to Bid for Summer Travel.

Major W. F. Richie of London, one of the leading stockholders in the Isle Royale Land company, Limited, who has been with the exploring party on Isle Royale during the last two or three weeks, has left for England. As stated some time ago, the company is composed of a few individuals who are endeavoring to utilize in a business-like way 84,000 acres of Isle Royale land.

And it is not only for its mineral wealth that they intend to develop Isle Royale, which has long been noted as the most attractive place on the lakes for fishing and camping; it is to be transformed, if possible, into great summer resort. Next spring a large hotel is to be erected, and cottage lots will be laid out. The advantages of Isle Royale as a summer resort are many, its beautiful scenery, its fishing, its resorts for the camper and boatman, are well known here. There is, too, no natural obstacle in the way of the project. Though Isle Royal is 500 miles from Chicago, 150 from Duluth and 600 from Detroit, present traveling facilities would be sufficient to place the proposed new summer resort in easy reach of all these population centers. There is now no settlement on Isle Royale and but one public boat stops there, but it has a number of the best harbors, and all the steamers plying between Duluth and the lower lakes could make regular stops in some one of these harbors without material changes in their present time. The insular position of Mackinaw Island is a great point in its favor as a health resort, giving it cool lake breezes; but Mackinaw, only four miles from the mainland, is not to be compared with Isle Royale—forty miles from shore in Lake Superior, fifty-five miles in length, 150 miles further north than Mackinaw, and within easy reach of the hunting and fishing grounds in the unbroken forest on the north shore of Lake Superior.

The company intends to make the island the "toniest" resort on the lakes. It is now being explored and surveyed topographically and for mineral, and next season the work of transformation will begin.

Davy Crockett's Son.

CRANBURY, Texas, Sept. 30.—Col. Albert Patton Crockett died at his residence, on Ruckters street, last Thursday, in the 73d year of his age. He was one of Hood county's pioneer settlers, locating here in 1854. His death removes the only remaining son of Davy Crockett.

The Engineer Arrested.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Seth Twombley, the engineer who had charge of the fast freight that wrecked the passenger train on the Rock Island road at Eighty-seventh street Tuesday night, was officially placed under arrest last evening. The warrant was served upon Twombley as he lay in his bed at his home.

Professor A. C. Parsons is the founder of five leading business colleges of Michigan.

ARE THE MILLS YET SOLD?

Mr. Mayer of Chicago Makes a Few Remarks that Tell But Little,

But He Indirectly Vouches for the Van Dusen-Star Sale.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Levy Mayer of this city, on whose authority the statement was made public on Sunday that an English syndicate had purchased large milling and elevator properties in the Northwest, was this morning shown a dispatch from Minneapolis in which Mr. C. A. Pillsbury is quoted as making certain statements regarding the sale of his mills. Mr. Mayer was asked for a statement of the exact facts and answered as follows:

"My information is that the original contracts of sale of the Pillsbury and Washburn mills expired on Aug. 1, last, and were renewed for a period of sixty to ninty days. Governor Pillsbury was in London during August, while I was there for the purpose, it is said, of aiding in the consummation of the sale. I believe that ex-Governor Washburn was also there. Contracts for the sale of these mills expire in a few days. The indications, I am led to believe, point to the sale going through, but of course, until sales of that magnitude are accomplished, no positive statement can be made."

Mr. Mayer was then further asked regarding that part of the dispatch regarding the Van Dusen and Star elevator system. Picking up the dispatch Mr. Mayer read as follows: "Charles M. Harrington, local manager of the Van Dusen and Star Elevator system denied that there was any truth in the report of the sale of those sytems." Commenting on this statement Mr. Mayer said:

"Mr. Harrington is a very nice gentleman. I strongly suspect that the Minneapolis reporter did not interview the genuine Harrington. If he had, and Mr. Harrington had spoken at all, he would have said that the contract for the sale of the Van Dusen and Star systems had been made; that in fact Mr. Harrington as secretary of one of the companies had attached his signature to that contract; that the contract had been delivered to me, and that a portion of the purchase price had already been paid into one of the Chicago banks."

FIRE AT SUPERIOR.

Serious Damage to the Plant of the Northwestern Adamant Company.

WEST SUPERIOR, Sept. 30.—[Special.]—About noon today a fire destroyed a portion of the Northwestern Adamant Manufacturing company's plant. The loss is about $3000. The origin of the fire is unknown. The fire is still burning, but the fire department has it under control.

A Move on the Cronin Chess Board.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—When Judge McConnell's court room was opened this morning the counsel for the defense in the Cronin case renewed their motion that the summoning of veniremen be taken out of the hands of Sheriff Matson and be entrusted to a special bailiff to be appointed by court. Counsel for the state admitted that the statute is mandatory on the subject, and the motion was accordingly granted.

Mrs. Potter's Burglar Escapes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 30.—James Brown, alias J. D. Hunt, the young man who stole Mrs. James Brown Potter's jewels from the Arlington hotel last winter, escaped from jail last night. How he made his escape is a mystery.

The Great Mexican Storm.

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 30.—The main force of the great storm that visited Bajio country within the past few days has abated, although in this track desolation is apparent on all sides. The second crop of corn, which was very large, is a partial loss. This will entail great suffering to laboring classes.

The Railroad Commissioner's Report.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Horace A. Taylor, commissioner of railroads, has filed with the secretary of interior the annual report of the operations of his bureau for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1889. The commissioner discusses the situation in the West and Northwest, and makes some suggestions as to existing evils and the remedies, as well as some recommendations as to necessary legislation in order to better protect the interests of the government and render the operations of his bureau of more practical importance.

It begins to appear that the gallant Corporal Tanner was not quite the harmless creature in the pension office he has been represented to have been, and yet there is nothing to show that he was dishonest. He was weak and confiding to such a degree that any designing subordinate appears to have found no difficulty in perpetrating any sort of crookedness he might desire to perpetrate. It is now reported in Washington that the report of the commission appointed to investigate the pension office, which has been jealously kept from the public, reveals a condition of affairs which was little short of scandalous. Several of Tanner's subordinates, notably his private secretary and a deputy commissioner, are charged with re-rating and making cases special on a wholesale plan, the deputy himself getting $6000 by a re-rating which he himself put through. The private secretary was given charge of the commissioner's stamp and used it with great diligence in disposing of business without Tanner's knowledge. It appears that these smart employes ran the office and Tanner as well to their complete satisfaction. Now it is quite time they were run out of office.

If the dispatches from Europe are to be taken as indicative in any degree, there is some expectation there that Germany is contemplating the possibility of another war with France. Count Von Waldersee, the successor of the veteran Von Moltke as the head of the German war department, has been making a pleasure trip through Switzerland, and it is alleged that he has improved the opportunity to map out a route by which the German army could enter France, provided it was ever thought advisable to draw from the veins of that republic the life blood left there after the war nearly twenty years ago. Ever since that memorable raid upon Paris, Germany has appeared to be filled with regret that the process of strangulation was not proceeded with until there was not a flutter of the heart of the French nation, and has at various times given evidence that the agreeable task of throttling a country would be resumed with gusto upon the slightest provocation. If it be true that the German minister of war has taken the sneaking way he is reported as having taken to map out a route for his army through the territory of neutral Switzerland, it must strike the average person as a contemptible proceeding. The little republic of Switzerland would be almost entirely powerless to prevent the sacrilege, should it be attempted, and it would be an act that ought to raise the arm of every European power in protest against it.

Because of many conspicuous examples it has become the fashion to look upon the marriage of actors as very like a farce, and to doubt the virtue of all who adopt the stage as a profession. There are constant and notable exceptions, but there is plenty of warrant for such a popular sentiment. The cause for it is that actors who marry with the purest motives fail to protect themselves against the numerous temptations to disloyalty that their lives force upon them. That this need not be so is made evident by many notable examples of happy lives led by actors. But they have not been lived under ordinary conditions. They have had safeguards thrown about them such as are not necessary in any other walk of life, and they suggest that to secure peaceful and happy married lives people must take cognizance of their proposed mode of life and adopt such rules of conduct as will neutralize any special conditions which may be present. In a forthcoming work on "Dramatic Opinions" Mrs. Madge Robertson Kendal brings out this point very clearly. She says:

I have often been asked, I may say by thousands, both in letters and in conversation, as a matter of interest by my friends and curiosity by others, why my husband and I always act together, and have never been parted. I wish to state to the public why it is so. My father was an actor who said he believed that the greatest amount of domesticity and happiness in a life devoted to art could exist upon the stage, provided husbands and wives never parted. If, on the contrary, a man, because he could earn ten pounds a week more, went to one theater whilst his wife for a similar reason went to another, their interests tended to become divided; their feelings ran in separate grooves, and gradually a shadow would grow up at home which divided them forever. On my expressing a wish that I should marry an actor, he said that only on this condition would he allow me to marry my husband—that we should never be parted.

The Chicago Times calls on the Northwestern, the Milwaukee and St. Paul, and the Rock Island to join the Burlington and Northern in its effort to hold the commerce of the Northwest from going by the way of the Sault. It claims that the four roads named can make rates that will be accepted as conclusive reason for shipments by way of Chicago. Perhaps they can for a day, but what rates can the Chicago roads afford to make which cannot be met by the northern lines? Then what becomes of the conclusive reason for shipments around the Chicago angle? The Times would not have them make ruinous rates, but if not how can they hope to compete for business that naturally follows the most direct and cheapest channel? And if ruinous, why should they sacrifice their owners to gratify Chicago vanity? Duluth competition was a side show which Chicago pooh-poohed until it got beyond a joke, even in the biased eyes of the Garden city. Now the head of the lakes is frankly recognized as a dangerous competitor which will surely absorb the commerce of the region West, unless it can be in some way confined to its crooked old channels. Hence the call for war to the knife, and instant rate cutting. This is a distraction which calls off the Chicago mind for the time from the absorbing question of how much must be put up to get the World's Fair.

It is evident that the plan of the Mozart association meets with the approval of the substantial citizens of Duluth, and that if its affairs are well managed it will prove to be of immense benefit to the city. Its work is to be in the line of what is needed throughout the whole social fabric of the city—unification and direction. There is a large and discriminating musical taste in the city. There are many most excellent vocal and instrumental performers, professional and amateur, and they are doing good work in forming a correct popular musical taste. But their efforts fall short of accomplishing what they ought to accomplish because there is no community of effort nor systematic public appreciation. A thousand popguns may be discharged at a wall a thousand times without an impression being made, whereas if the combined energy of the thousand thousand popgun shots were concentrated in one discharge of a Krupp gun the wall would crumble to earth. Under the efforts of the Mozart association, if properly exerted and properly supported, Duluth should become the best musical city in the West. And that means very much more than having a large number of citizens who are able to tell from what opera an air they hear is taken, or furnishing for a creditable concert a large and appreciative audience. Ethics and music are very closely related. Other things being equal, a cultivated person is far more likely to be a moral person than is an uncultivated one. And of all cultivation, music has the most intimate relation to morals. A prevailing and correct musical taste is worth a great deal to a city, and is an able ally to the churches in the work of Christianizing the people. Therefore it seems to be incumbent upon Duluth citizens to do whatever lies in their power to promote the work undertaken by the Mozarts, and upon them to do the work they have taken up thoroughly and honestly.

TALE OF AN ESQUIMAUX.

[Nebraska State Journal.]

An Esquimaux sat on a chunk of ice,
In the land of the northern pole;
He cracked his heels and he whistled twice
At a sight that alarmed his soul.

For a stranger came over the fields of snow
At a speed that was fearful, quite;
His cheeks were pallid and thin with woe,
And the frost on his beard was white.

"Oh, prithee, pause," cried the Esquimaux,
"From whence do you come so fast?"
"I come from a land weary leagues below
This realm with its storm and blast.

"I come from a land in the far aff south
And I've traveled ten thousand miles
Since last the sun like a beaming mouth
Turned loose on the earth his smiles.

"I've clambered the mountains, on raging streams
Full oft I've been heaved and tossed;
I umpired a game for two baseball teams—
Alas! And the home club lost."

SPORTING NOTES.

Pittsburg, Indianapolis, Cleveland and Washington were winners Saturday in the league ball games.

Never in the history of base ball has such even playing been seen as the New York and Boston teams are doing now. Never has a base ball race been so close, nor has ever such interest existed over the result as excites thousands of lovers of the national game over the ending of the league pennant race. Each of these two nines has six games to play next week and both meet the Pittsburgs and Clevelands. The result is in as much doubt as at the beginning of the season.

It is rumored that the Brotherhood of Baseball players will take Milwaukee into the fold next season.

The Western association winds up its season today.

The League season closes Oct. 5, the Association the 15th.

The Boston ball nine has taken in $140,000 this season at the home games.

Baseball games played yesterday by the Western association:

At Milwaukee—Milwaukee, 15; Omaha, 6.
At Milwaukee—Milwaukee, 6; Omaha, 1.
At Sioux City—Sioux City, 6; Des Moines, 5.
At Sioux City—Sioux City, 8; Des Moines, 12.
At St. Paul—St. Paul, 1; Minneapolis, 5.

By the American association:

At Brooklyn—Brooklyn, 7; Baltimore, 2.
At Philadelphia—Athletics, 3; Columbus, 6.

Report of the Committe of the Rochester Insane Asylum Trustees

Upon the Charges Brought Against the Superintendent.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 30.—The board of trustees for the state asylum for the insane met Gov. Merriam Saturday to receive the report of the committee appointed to investigate the charges against the management of the Rochester asylum. The report of the committee exonerates Dr. Bowers of the charges that have been made against him and sets forth the following:

The superintendent and assistant physicians have as a rule endeavored to faithfully perform their respective duties, with the exception that the superintendent has not given or caused to be given to the attendants that thorough instruction in reference to their duties in the care and management of patients which in our judgment should have been given, and except further that a few cases of accidents happening to patients have come to the knowledge of the committee, which accidents would not have happened had there been taken all precautions which might have been taken.

The supervisors and attendants have been grossly negligent in the matter of reporting to the superintendent or any of the assistant physicians, cases of ill-treatment of patients by the attendants. This neglect rises largely from the fact that there is and has been an unspoken agreement among the attendants that none of them should make reports of any wrongful acts committed by an associate. The rules of the asylum require that all cases of injury to or ill-treatment of a patient, the attendant causing or having knowledge of any such injury or ill-treatment, should forthwith report the same to the superintendent, some one of the assistant physicians or the supervisor. This rule has been more honored in the breach than the observance.

The supervising force has never been sufficient. Upon the efficiency and integrity of the immediate supervising force, the superintendent must necessarily largely depend for the information in regard to the conduct of the attendants, and the force must be in such numbers that frequent visits to each ward can be made; the more frequent such visits the less opportunity for or the probability of the commission or concealment by attendants of violations of the rule relating to treatment of patients of the asylum. The discipline of the attendants has not been as strict as should have been and there has not been that amount of immediate supervision by the supervisor as might have been performed by him. There have been cases of abuses and inhuman treatment of patients by attendants. The number of such cases of alleged ill-treatment brought to the attention of and investigated by the committee were ninety, of which we find that twenty are sustained by evidence. The committee can conceive of no public good to be accomplished by the publication of the names of the patients, who, in our judgment, have been ill-treated, and therefore does not specify the same in this report. A list of names is furnished the governor. In the course of the investigation the charge that at the asylum improper relations existed between the sexes was incidentally made. The committee investigated such charges, and finds and reports that there is no foundation therefor.

The committee is fully convinced that but few men or women are by nature fitted for the complete and satisfactory performance of all the duties devolving upon the immediate attendants of the insane patients. In our judgment there has not been enough theoretical training. The compensation paid is not sufficient to secure the services of thoroughly competent attendants, and no rate of compensation which the state would pay would be sufficient to secure the services of the class of attendants who would at all times accord to the patients under their charge such humane carriage as is by law contemplated.

The committee further reports that it is its belief that no plan can be formulated which will entirely do away with abuses, though the committee reports itself as having great diffidence in suggesting remedies for the acknowledged evils. The following recommendations, in substance, are made:

1. An increase in the number of assistant physicians, one physician upon the woman's side of the asylum to be a woman.
2. An increase of the non-medical force for patrolling wards for the detecting of abuses.
3. The establishment in the hospital of a school of instruction.
4. That no male person less than 21 and no female persons less than 18 years of age be employed as an attendant or as a supervisor or assistant supervisor.
5. That a sytem of merit and demerit marks be established for attendants.
6. Attendants to be divided into four classes, advancement to be made on merits.
7. Assistant supervisors to be appointed from the first class of attendants.
8. After one month's trial, if satisfactory, the attendant shall be entered regularly in the fourth class.
9. Attendants of the first class, honorably discharged, to receive certificate of qualification.
10, 11, 12. The superintendent, or such of his assistants as may be designated by him, shall promptly investigate all alleged violations of rules; the superintendent shall notify the county attorney of all facts when charge of ill-treatment is made, before making a discharge; an attendant discharged for ill treatment of a patient shall not be re-employed in any capacity in any hospital for the insane in the state.

The committee also recommended the separation of the inebriates from the insane and set forth that the methods in vogue in regard to the care and issue of supplies are entirely too loose and unbusinesslike.

Members of Father Arpin's church, factions opposing Marcil, have raised a fund of $200 as a reward for information leading to the discovery of the party who set St. Josephs church at Red Lake Falls on fire. The church was insured for $1300. The insurance company offers an additional $200, making the reward $400.

SOME BANK CHANGES.

An Increase in Capital Stock---Change in the Bank of Commerce.

Tomorrow the Marine bank, which begun business only last May with a paid in capital of $100,000, increases its capital by 150 per cent, a quicker growth than made by any Duluth financial institution. Its capital will be $250,000, making it third in size of Duluth banks. The business of this bank is closely connected with the American Loan and Trust company, which has already proved itself capable of taking care of the very largest loans and is a concern of the most important nature. About the first of January the Marine bank and the Loan and Trust company will move to the Palladio building. The Trust company will take all the lower floor between Superior street and the Fourth avenue entrance giving it ample room for the transaction of its very large business, while the bank will take the rooms on the second floor on the Superior street corner of the building. Its rooms will be reached by the fine staircase at the west end of the building as well as from the interior halls connecting with the avenue entrance. It will have two vaults and a very handsome banking room.

W. P. Hulburt, cashier of the National Bank of Commerce, which has been in business since June, has resigned his position and retires tomorrow to resume the real estate business. Mr. Hulburt has been elected second vice-president of the bank and will spend a small part of his time there. Elmer W. Matter, assistant cashier, will step into the vacated berth. This is an advancement on which Mr. Matter is receiving the congratulations of his friends. George Mackenzie, late teller of the Merchants National, becomes teller of the Bank of Commerce. About March 1 the bank expects to move into the Chamber of Commerce building.

The State bank will move in a day or two into the new Stenson building, where the large room on the ground floor on the corner of Superior street and First avenue east is being elegantly fitted up for its use. The business of the bank has far outgrown its present quarters.

WEST END.

The baseball game between the Stars and the Duluths yesterday afternoon proved to be a very intesesting game. The batting on both sides was above the average. The score at the close of the game stood 13 to 10 in favor of the Stars. Batteries for Duluth's was McComber and Neff; Stars, Laundry and C. Kriz. Umpire, W. Kriz.

The Browns returned last night from Cloquet, having beaten the club of that town by a score of 29 to 26. The batteries of the Browns was Farrington and Brown.

Work on gas and water mains for West Superior street has been finished.

Nels Owens, with family, will leave for Seattle in a few days. John Owens will accompany them.

James H. Davis has returned from a month's visit in Omaha.

The New Reservoir.

Work on the new reservoir to be located on Fourteenth avenue east and Eighth street, is going on very rapidly, a force of seventy-five men and seventeen or eighteen teams being employed. The reservoir is 280 feet above the level of the lake and will have a capacity of between 3,500,000 and 4,000,000 gallons. It will be concreted, bottom and sides, up to a few feet from the surface where Kettle river sandstone cut blocks will be formed into a wall. At one end of the work the excavation is completed, while at the other a consi lerable amount of material remains to be taken out. Dynamite and giant powder is used to loosen the hardpan. Night work has been carried on until lately by the aid of electric lights. It is intended to complete the reservoir this season. A 20-inch main has already been laid to it from the pump house at the lake shore.

As Lively as Ever.

The Iron Trade Review speaks as follows of the ore trade: There is very little new to report in the ore market. Ore continues to be rushed down from Lake Superior ports, and already the end is in sight with some of the companies, while with others shipments will continue until the close of navigation. It has been discovered in a few instances that a little more ore can safely be produced than was anticipated, so that there is on hand some Norrie ore. Chapin also reports a little ore for sale. The situation is accentuated by the sale of all the Cary ore left, and as the maganiferous ores are always the last to go, these sales may be said to be the last of the season. The demand for Bessemer ores continues as the price of its product advances. Lake freights, it is expected, will advance with the expiration next week of a good many charters. Coke will be $1.50 from Oct. 1, an advance of 15 cents.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

The police made raids on several disreputable houses scattered about the business and residence part of the city Sunday morning, capturing a number of the demi-monde. They also arrested men who were running a dance after midnight over a saloon at the corner of Fifth avenue east and Fourth street. The lawbreakers were let out on bail. It is the intention of the city authorities to confine houses of ill fame to one locality, from which they have spread widely in the past year.

An important session of the council will be held this evening.

Tonight will occur the free lecture on "Home Making," by Mrs. Emma P. Ewing, the noted teacher of cooking arts, Mrs Ewing not Miss Purdue, as stated in a local paper will lecture, and she will not illustrate the talk by cookery, neither is the affair under the auspices of the Friends in council, as stated in a Sunday paper.

There was no meeting of the Humane society Saturday evening, and the tragic denoument did not take place. It is on the tapis for a late date.

First Export Flour.

The first export flour shipment from the Imperial mill has been captured by Agent Harry Hurdon of the Beatty line of steamers. The consignment consists of ten car loads of Imperial patent flour to be shipped through to Glasgow. The Ontario takes out the first two car-loads this evening or tomorrow, and the remainder will follow on the next boat.

And her beautiful child were passing one of our leading grocers a few days ago when the little girl's eye was attracted by something in the window. It is needless to say that the article, a can of Unrivaled Baking Powder, was procured and turned out to be the purest, most wholesome, full-weight powder in the market, and costs but one-half the price of other good powders. Ask for it Get it.

THE MOZART'S PLANS.

Some of the Probabilities for the Season's Concerts.

Several of the members of the board of governors of the Mozart association have been actively at work outlining the season's work. Nothing can be definitely announced for a few days yet, but it can be said that an attractive series of concerts is in store for Duluth music lovers. The first concert will occur early in October and will be given by a first-class orchestra of not less than twenty pieces and one or more vocal soloists.

It is very probable the association will conclude arrangements for the appearance in this city of Ovide Musin, the greatest living violinist of the French school, add with him Anna Louise Tanner the lyric soprano, Pauline Montegriffo the contralto, Mariano Maina the basso cantate and Edward Scharf the pianist; the Meigs sisters; the Schubert quartet; and the Balmoral choir, a musical organizntion from Glasgow, new in America, but coming fresh from appearances before critical English audiences with most favorable commendations. Whether these attractions will appear in Duluth this season or not depends upon whether a suitable hall can be secured on the dates they can give to Duluth.

Within two or three days it will be possible to give a definite plan of the association's first season's work.

As the scheme of the Mozart association becomes known it meets with the enthusiastic approval of all. Applications are being received by the board of governors for membership, and musicians endorse the movement as heartily as do the business men, who are taken with its common sense basis of organization and modes of conducting its business. Many people in the Twin cities have become quite deeply interested in the scheme also, and are watching for its outcome. A recent visit to those cities by a deputized member of the music committee revealed that the news of the organization had preceded him, and he was everywhere greeted with commendatory and congratulatory words.

It may not be out of place to remind the members that the treasurer, Mr. B. Silberstein, is now ready to give receipts for the initiation fee and first month's dues of the members, and will issue the membership cards in about a week.

CAR WORKS OFFICIALS.

The Big Plant to be Finally Inspected Preparatory to Starting.

Gen. Joseph R. Anderson, Mr. John F. T. Anderson and Mr. George W. Ettenger of the Minnesota Iron Car company arrived this morning over the Omaha from Chicago, and are stopping at The Spalding. Their visit here is for a final inspection of the Car works at West Duluth preparatory to beginning manufacture.

"We will visit the manufactory today," said Mr. Ettenger to a Herald reporter, "and thoroughly inspect the works. I do not know, and will not until after looking over the plant, how soon active operations will begin. I do not think it will be long, however, before the works start up." The party has had an adventurous trip to Duluth, having occupied section three of the train that was wrecked at Palentine Bridge, N. Y., last Friday, but luckily they escaped injury.

A Log Cabin Studio.

Some weeks ago The Herald published a series of articles on "Log Cabins and How to Build Them." The subject attracted general attention and has already borne fruit. J. W. Kelsey, the Minneapolis artist, who is also one of the best hunters in the state, has secured a large log house at Foxboro, on the Eastern Minnesota road, and will live there for the next four or five months. The building was originally put up for the engineer corps, and is well built and was 20x52 feet. Mr. Kelsey has cut out the central 12 feet of length, leaving two compartments, each 20x20. One of these he has partitioned off into a living house for himself and family, and the other he has arranged into a comfortable studio, with large skylight, the whole interior of both ends being modeled after suggestions given in The Herald articles alluded to. Mr. Kelsey killed a large bear at his place Saturday, which he brought into Duluth Saturday. He leaves for his winter camp tomorrow morning. Two or three other people will spend the winter near him in log houses, using The Herald's suggestions as to arrangements.

Negotiating With Thomas.

Manager Haycock is negotiating with Theodore Thomas for a one night's concert at Temple opera house this winter. It is not probable that Mr. Thomas will come here, as he demands $2000 for a single performance.

WHEAT STOCKS DECREASE

Local Grain Stocks Show a Large Decrease for the Week.

The Day's Prices on 'Change, Visible Supply Trade Notes.

The decrease in stocks of wheat and corn in Duluth for the past week is quite marked, amounting to no less than 350,000 bu; of this 270,204 bu is corn and 80,705 bu wheat, leaving 666,371 bu wheat and 5730 bu corn. Of the wheat the Lake Superior and Union Improvement companies have 293,000 bu wheat, the Duluth company 187,000 bu, and the Great Northern 186,000 bu. Receipts have been light during the week, especially from the Northern Pacific which reported only 11 cars on track this morning. The railroad people expect this fearfully small movement will soon increase to respectable proportions.

The market has been steady with good business early. The market ruled firm, with upward tendencies. Trading for future delivery was of very small proportions. The last hour the market ruled very dull and closed firm at the advance.

Cash 1 hard opened at 82½ at which good trading occurred early. It closed firm at 83. No. 1 northern opened at 79½ with lively trading early. It closed firmer at 80, sellers. No. 2 northern, 76¼. No. 3 closed weak, at 71. October opened at 82½, ruled very dull, closed nominally 83¼. Considerable No. 1 northern for October changed hands early at 79½. December opened late at 84c. May, buyers and sellers apart, closed with buyers at 89½ and sellers at 90¼.

The Visible Supply.

The visible supply is increased in wheat for the week 656,000 bu against an increase of 500,000 bu for the week last year, and an increase of 434,643 bu for the week in 1887.

Corn is increased for the past week 281,000 bu against an increase of 215,000 bu for the week last year.

Oats are increased 188,000 bu against an increase of 920,000 bu for the week last year.

The total visible supply of wheat is now 17,852,643 against 31,510,133 bu at this date last year and 30,597,973 in 1887.

Corn.

Corn being sent forward from Duluth to Buffalo is arriving in good condition, except in a few rare instances, and two or three small lots are slightly out of condition, these only emphasizing, however, the general fact that the grain sent forward goes through in much better condition than from any other point. There is now in store here but 5000 bu corn, a very large quantity having gone forward the past week. Between 500 and 600 cars of corn are yet to come forward under present contracts with railroad companies, and it is probable that after this has moved there will be little more sent here before winter, when the corn movement will commence again in force.

Miss Emma Dolby, who was stricken with paralysis a few days ago, is still seriously ill but improving.

Mr. John Harwick and Miss Julia Duteau, Mr. Joseph Dempsey and Miss Mary Duteau, were married at the Nicollet house, East End, Wednesday evening.

Proof sheets of Superior's directory issued yesterday show 4967 names against 2262 last year, over 100 per cent increase. On liberal basis of multiple, 2⅞, the city has an actual population of 14,239 divided as follows: East End and Central Park, 3883; Connors Point, 1295; West Superior, 9061.

WILLIAM WOUNDED.

Boeing's Claim Does Not Amount to the Paper It is Written on.

William Boeing's last threatened move against the city, that of putting a cable across the canal and closing navigation, will prove a decided boomerang, and will smash his last vestige to title to the canal property. According to law, he has no claim, and the threats contained in the circular issued Friday cannot and of course will not be carried out without prompt and stern government interference.

"I do not see where Mr. Boeing has the slightest shadow of title to those canal lots," said Major Quinn, in charge of government harbor improvements, to a Herald reporter. "Accerding to the law the private title to any lands used for government or public purposes for the space of fifteen years becomes null and void and the property and title reverts to the government. The canal has been open since 1872, and as no objection to the use of the lands, formal or otherwise, has ever been made, Mr. Boeing is powerless to gain any legal satisfaction. The city does not need to expend $1 in this direction."

The plan of Mr. Boeing was to take legal steps to claim his right to the property before twenty years, the usual time in which a highway becomes legally a highway, incapable of obstruction, had expired, and after which he knew he would have no title in common law. To do so would have required but an attempt to close would have been sufficient. He and his attorney evidently figured five years out of the way and the city is absolved from paying anything for this man's property.

TO HURRY WORK.

Scenic Artists Begin Work on Temple Opera Scenery.

Harry J. Buhler, one of Sosman & Landis's scenic artists began work this morning on the "interior" scenery for Temple Opera. The artist will paint a kitchen, a plain chamber, a Gothic oak and a modern French fancy drawing room, other workmen doing the remaining scenes. The French interior will be one of the finest and most elaborate pieces in the theater, entailing more than an ordinary amount of artistic skill. Joseph Hart, another of Sosman & Landis's artists, will be here Wednesday and will do the woodlands, modern and ancient street scenes, prison, garden, lake scenes, etc.

Frank Gates, whose relationship to Minnie Maddern gives him almost as much fame as his artistic ability, is at work on the drop curtain. Mr. Gates is said to be the finest theatrical figure painter in America. All the scenery will be 20 feet high and 28 feet wide, the drop being 30 by 35. The artists will work night and day and expect to have all the scenery completed by the 20th of next month.

Book Reception.

The reading room and library committee of the Y. M. C. A., together with the Ladies' Auxiliary have issued invitations to an informal book reception to be given this evening at Y. M. C. A. hall. An attractive musical and literary program has been prepared and toothsome refreshments will be served. The affair is for the benefit of the library association which is gradually becoming quite valuable and is very much used. It is hoped that a large addition of good books may be made to the library association this evening.

We'll All Be Glad.

A rumor that the Northern Pacific railroad has decided to remove its car shops from Brainerd to East Superior is afloat. The rumor has not been traced to any substantial authority, but many claim the statement came semi-officially from Northern Pacific men. It rests, however, on very gauzy foundation, but may possibly be true.

A First-class Record.

The Gogebic Steam Boiler works has been doing a rushing business the past month, and the energetic proprietor, J. F. Dacey, has a right to be pleased with his record and business prospects. These works manufacture boilers, tanks, heaters, stacks, breechings and all kinds of sheet iron work, making the iron work of jails and breweries a specialty. Among other completed work turned out this month are two boilers and two tanks for the new Chamber of Commerce building, one boiler and tank for the Wieland building, and boilers for the Graff building and the fire engine house at Rices Point. Three boilers have gone to West Superior. The secret of Mr. Dacey's success is in his turning out first-class work at moderate prices, and looking after every boiler personally.

DISTRICT COURT.

Judge Ensign on the Bench Today—The Civil Calendar Resumed.

Judge Ensign presided at the district court today. The jury in the case of Benton Murphin vs. J. B. Scoville returned a verdict for the defendant. This is the second trial of this case with the same result. The plaintiff's counsel immediately entered a motion for a new trial, and a stay of proceedings for sixty days was granted. The case of Sarah V. Starkey vs. the City of Duluth was called up, but the attorneys agreed to have it tried in vacation on an eight-day notice from either side.

Docket No. 147, being entitled Reinert C. Reinertson vs. Olavus C. Langseth, with John Jenswold for the plaintiff and Marion Douglass for the defendant, was tried and is now in the hands of the jury. The defendant's wife died in Grand Forks six years ago, and the father, at that time being somewhat of a drunkard, placed his son in the care of the plaintiff for safe keeping, etc. The plaintiff educated the boy, had music teachers for him, and took good care of him. All the parties moved here and the father has "braced up" and is making a good living out of the sale of patent rights, and the plaintiff sues for $800 for the care of the boy for the last six years.

The Spartan Virtue of Fortitude

Must be possessed in no ordinary degree by those who bear the pangs of rheumatism without complaint. We have never heard of such an individual. But why not, ere the lifelong martyrdom begins, extinguish the germ of this atrocious malady with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the efficacy of which as a preventive of the disease, as well as a means of relieving it, is well established and amply attested, during the last thirty-five years, over professional signatures? It expurgates from the blood those acrid principles which beget the pain and inflammation characteristic of this complaint, which, it should be recollected, is always liable to terminate life suddenly when it attacks a vital part. The Bitters also expels the virus of malaria from the system, remedies dyspepsia, kidney complaint, constipation and biliousness, quiets the nerves, and invigorates the whole physical organism.

FACTS.

People want the best they can get for the money, especially in clothing.

If a man only knew that he could buy a suit of clothes ready tailor-made that would fit as well, wear as well and look better, from as good a quality of cloth and for one-half the price that he could have a suit made to order by a merchant tailor, he would buy the ready tailor-made suit, or else he would be very foolish.

Now, the only way we can convince you of this fact is to have you come in and see our handsome new fall and winter suits that we are now receiving. They are made from goods selected by us and made in the latest styles. They are not like the ready-mades you generally see, but are perfectly satisfactory in every respect.

Mothers! In our children's department we have some pretty novelties for the little folks which we shall be pleased to show you.

THE FOUR NEW STATES

They are Going Through the Agony of Their First Election Today.

All Will Go Republican, Except Possibly Montana--Other States.

The four new Northwestern states, North and South Dakota, Montana and Washington, are today holding their first election for state officers preparatory to being declared full-fledged states by the President, as provided by the enabling act passed by congress. Below are special dispatches to The Herald, giving the probabilities and the officers to be elected:

In North Dakota.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., Oct. 1.—It is evidently the policy of the state democratic committee to make the fight for its state ticket principally in the close counties, concentrating strength at those points where they may reasonably hope to win, leaving the contest in other localities to the local candidates. The scheme to induce republicans to vote for democratic judicial candidates at the expense of cutting equally worthy republican nominees proves to be general throughout the state. The so-called non-partisan judiciary "racket" is being worked for all it is worth. Politice are red hot here. If it rains, as was indicated yesterday the threshing crews are expected in to vote. This would largely increase the vote against prohibition.

The republican candidate for congress is H. C. Hansbrough, and the democratic candidate is Daniel W. Marratta.

The state tickets are as follows: Governor—W. N. Roach, dem.; John Miller, rep. Lieutenant-governor—S. K. McGinnis, dem.; Alfred Dickey, rep. Secretary of state—A. S. Frosild, dem.; John Flittle, rep. State auditor—P. Odegaard, dem.; John P. Bray, rep. State treasurer—Clluton D. Lord, dem.; L. E. Booker, rep. Attorney-general—Tracy R. Bangs, dem.; George F. Goodwin, rep. Superintendent of public instruction—Charles Kent, dem.; William Mitchell, rep. Commissioner of agriculture and labor—J. R. Kiberg, dem.; H. T. Helgesen, rep. Commissioner of insurance—W. A. Fridley, dem.; A. L. Carey, rep. Railroad commissioners—Frank P. Wright, dem.; Peter Cameron, dem.; John Ely, dem.; George S. Montgomery, rep.; T. S. Underhill, rep.; David Bartlett, rep. Judges of supreme court—W. P. Miller, dem.; J. W. Gammons, dem.; Alfred Wallin, rep; Guy C. H. Corliss, rep.; J. M. Bartholomew, rep.

The vote of North Dakota at the election in 1888 was: democratic, 15,801; republican, 25,310; prohibition and scattering, 2114, republican plurality, 9509.

South Dakota Will Go "Dry."

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Oct. 1.—[Special.] The election today is very much of a one sided affair. The democratic campaign has been exceedingly tame, and there is little doubt but that the entire republican state ticket will be elected by an overwhelming majority. In fact, it is claimed that only six of the fifty counties are democratic. There is little enthusiasm manifested. The hardest work is being done by the prohibitionists, and the probabilities are that the state will go "dry" by at least 5000.

The congressional candidates are: L. Q. Jeffiries, democrat; S. M. Booth, democrat; O. S. Gifford, republican; J. A. Pickler, republican.

The state tickets are: Governor—P. F. McClure, dem.; A. C. Mellette, rep. Lieutenant-governor—A. W. Pratt, dem.; J. H. Fletcher, rep. Secretary of state—Otto Peemiller, dem.; A. O. Ringsroud, rep. Treasurer—A. D. Hill, dem.; W. F. Smith, rep. Auditor—J. E. Horton, dem.; L. C. Taylor, rep. Attorney-general—H. T. Fellows, dem.; Robert Dollard, rep. Superintendent of public instruction—G. A. McFarland, dem.; G. J. Pinkham, rep. Commissioner of public lands—H. S. Vaulkmer, dem.; O. H Parker, rep. Supreme court judges—D. B. Van Buskirk, dem.; C. H. Wisner, dem.; D. McLaughlin, dem.; Dighton Corson, rep.; G. E. Bennett, rep.; A. G. Kellam, rep.

In 1888 the vote of South Dakota was as follows: Democratic, 25,045; republican, 44,905; prohibition and scattering, 925. Republican plurality, 19,860.

The Montana Election.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—The state election is in progress today. All advices point to democratic success. The fact that the election is being conducted under the Australian system, however, introduces an element of uncertainty, and both sides, in the absence of definite facts, are claiming the victory in advance. In this city a full vote is being polled.

Martin Maginnis is the democratic nominee for congress and Thomas H. Carter the republican nominee.

The state tickets are composed as follows: Governor—Joseph K. Toole, dem.; Thomas C. Power, rep. Lieutenant-governor—John H. Conrad, dem.; J. E. Rickards, rep. Secretary of state—Joseph A. Browne, dem.; Louis Rotwitt, rep.. Attorney-general—W. Y. Pemberton, dem.; Henri J. Haskell, rep. State treasurer—Jerry Collins, dem.; Richard O. Hickman, rep. State auditor—Thomas D. Fitzgerald, dem.; E. A. Kinney, rep. Superintendent of public instruction—J. R. Russell, dem.; John Cannon, rep. Chief justice—Stephen DeWolfe, dem.; Henry N. Blake, rep. Associate justices—Frank K. Armstrong, dem.; Walter M. Bickford, dem.; E. N. Harwood, rep.; William H. Dewitt, rep. Clerk of supreme court—George F. Cope, dem.; W. J. Kennedy, rep.

The vote of Montana in 1888 was: Democratic, 17,355; republican, 22,166; republican plurality, 5134.

Washington for the Republicans.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—Both the republicans and democrats are confident of success at the first state election today. The polls were opened at 7 o'clock, and advices from all directions up to noon indicate that a large vote is being deposited. The republicans claim the election of Ferris as governor by from 10,000 to 15,000, based upon the fact that Allen, delegate in congress, carried the territory by 7000, while of the 40,000 new settlers since that election a large proportion are republicans. The contest for the location of the capital is between Olympia and Yakima. The result will be extremely close, with the chances in favor of the former. Woman suffrage and prohibition are also to be voted on, the constitutional convention having ordered their submission to the people by separate articles. The people of Washington tried equal suffrage some years ago, but it was claimed that the results were not favorable, and the amendment will in all probability be defeated. Prohibition will certainly be rejected, the prevailing sentiment being divided between high license and local option.

The congressional candidates are: Thomas Griffitts, dem.; John L. Wilson, rep.

Following are the state tickets: Governor—Eugene Semple, dem.; E. P. Ferry, rep. Lieutenant-governor—M. H. Platter, dem.; Chas. E. Laughton, rep. Secretary of state—W. H. Whittelsey, dem.; Allen Weir, rep. Treasurer—Col. Kauffman, dem.; A. A. Lindsley, rep. Attorney-general—H. J. Snivvley, dem.; W. C. Jones, rep. Auditor—Thomas M. Reed, rep. Superintendent of public instruction—J. H. Morgan, dem.; R. B. Bryan, rep. Land commissioner—J. H. Taylor, dem.; W. T. Forrest, rep. Judges of the supreme court—R. O. Dunbar, rep.; T. C. Stiles, rep.; T. G. Anders, rep.; Elmon Scott, rep.; J. P. Hoyt, rep.

The vote of Washington in 1888 was: Democratic, 18,020; republican, 26,291; prohibition and scattering, 1137; republican plurality, 7371.

New York Democrats.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—The democratic state convention was called to order at noon today by Hon. Edward Murphy. There was a full attendance of delegates and considerable enthusiasm was manifested. The call prepared by ex-Congressman W. Bourke Cochran, the Tammany hall Cicero, Gen. P. C. Doyle of Buffalo, and W. H. Murtha of Brooklyn, was read. It declared in favor of reduced taxation, economy and retrenchment in the administration of public affairs; and opposition to iniquitious, oppressive, and sumptuous legislation. These sentiments were received with prolonged cheering. After the appointment of committees on permanent organization, resolutions and credentials a recess for one hour was taken.

Opposed to Mahone.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—A secret conference of republicans belonging to that wing opposed to Gen. Mahone's plan of party organization is in progress here today. It is presided over by Gen. V. D. Grover, formerly chairman of the central committee, of the anti-Mahone party.

Maryland Republicans.

WESTMINSTER, Md., Oct. 1.—The state republican convention to nominate a candidate for state controller meets here today. The party has little hope of success, but proposes to throw its entire strength into the effort to elect a majority in the state assembly, which will elect a successor to United States Senator Wilson, and a warm fight will be made in every county to this end. The republicans will also make high license an issue in the campaign.

NEW CHICAGO RATE.

The South Shore Makes a Bid for Duluth's Chicago Business.

Until yesterday the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic road had never made any particular effort to secure a recognition from the traveling public as a competitor in the Duluth-Chicago passenger business. The Chicago question has been overshadowed by the vastly more important matter of Eastern freight and passenger transportation. Now, as the through lines are comparatively quiet, and the questions so important to the commercial welfare of Duluth virtually settled in favor of the head of the lakes, the South Shore, in view of the Omaha's taking off its Chicago-Duluth train, has entered the field as an aggressive competitor for Duluth's Chicago business.

By a cut rate of $2.55 it makes a bid for passenger travel to the Western metropolis via the Milwaukee and Northern. Beginning tomorrow morning, the South Shore will quote a rate of $11 to Chicago and $9 to Milwaukee via Champion. The rate by other roads is $13.55. The South Shore has also made a round-trip rate of $17.50 to Milwaukee and $21.50 to Chicago, tickets being good for sixty days.

Rail Notes.

No change of time will be made in the Omaha schedule by taking off the limited, but it is probable that a low rate will be made to Chicago to meet South Shore and Wisconsin Central competition.

A rumor was circulated this morning that the Eastern Minnesota would only run one train each way during the winter. The officers of the company deny the report and say there is absolutely nothing in it.

The South Shore road has issued a $31.05 round trip rate to Washington to the Knight Templars' conclave Oct. 8-11, good to return until the 31st.

MARINE MATTERS.

The Day on the Lake and in the Harbor—Port List.

It is reported that the government has contracted with Carkin, Stickney & Cram of Saginaw for the removal of the wreck of the James F. Joy. It has been a dangerous obstruction to navigation at the entrance of Ashtabula harbor nearly two years.

With today all "season arrangement" time-cards for Lake Superior passenger boats expire, and for the remaining two months of navigation the boats will run on a catch-as-catch-can schedule.

The steam barge J. P. Donaldson was seized at Buffalo on Saturday on a libel filed by Proctor J. Cook for $125 for services as lookout.

Breathing the Germs of Disease.

To inhale the germs of disease with their daily breath is the fate of denizens of malaria-scourged localities everywhere. The endemic atmospheric poison may, however, be reft of its venom and rendered innoxious by a defensive use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This preeminently safe and effective remedy and safeguard not only eradicates the disease when developed, but enables the system to safely brave its assaults. Every physical function is confirmed in or restored to regularity, the circulation quickened if sluggish, and the bilious habit, which of itself begets a proneness to both intermittent and remittent types of malarial disease, where extrinsic atmospheric causes exist, powerfully counteracted by this inimitable fortifying and defensive agent, which has, moreover, none of the disagreeable characteristics of a drastic cathartic or an alkaloid. Fever and ague, dumb ague and ague cake and the calentura of the Isthmus are conquered by it surely, pleasantly. Rheumatism, neuralgia, gout, kidney and bladder troubles, constipation and indigestion yield to it.

A FEW BUILDING NOTES.

Work was begun yesterday afternoon on the excavation for the Brown Bros. new wholesale and retail crockery house, which was described fully in The Herald a few days ago.

The ground is being cleared off and excavation is begun for the new building next west of the Graff-Frisbee building, to be occupied by David Buchanan as a grocery. Mr. Buchanan expects to be in his building before winter which will necessitate no little hustling.

Architects all look with a good deal of satisfaction on next year's probable work. There is more in prospect for the season than ever before thus early in the campaign. Many of the buildings that will probably go up and on which architects are now figuring, will be large store and business structures. There will be a greater number of fine business buildings built next year than ever before in the history of Duluth.

Stevens, the popular architect, civil engineer and superintendent, finding it necessary to secure better quarters to carry on his increasing business, has bought out the office of Architects Hodson & Co., 44 Farguson building, and will move into it today, where he will be prepared to attend to business in a thoroughly practical manner.

BACHELORS IN DANGER.

A New York Bird of Promise Compelled to Wed a Russian Girl.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—A strange story was told at police headquarters by two men about a young man, a friend of theirs, named David Kirchneroff, being forced into a marriage with a Russian girl. While the two men were looking for redress at headquarters the marriage ceremony was being performed in the Golden Star hall, 95 Hester street.

The father of the newly made wife is a cloak-maker and his name is Aaronson. Thinking some time ago that his daughter Rose should get married, he paid $100 to a "chadchin" to get her a husband. The "chadchin" got young Kirchneroff to fill the bill, and it is said gave him half the money. The couple were made acquainted, but soon the groom that was to be manifested a coolness toward his fiancee. He made up his mind to leave the city and tried to carry out the design. He went down Grand street toward the ferry, but was followed by Aaronson and the "chadchin," who captured him on a Williamsburg ferryboat and brought him back. He was taken to a house on Christie street and kept there under a guard of six men. Then he was compelled to walk to the Golden Star hall, don a suit of wedding clothes, and go through his part of the ceremony.

The company organized with a capital stock of $270,000 paid up. The product of all the furnaces will be brought to this city to be manufactured into steel rails, nail plate, steel wire, and plates of all kinds.

A WOMANS EXCHANGE.

Many Duluth Ladies Organize an Industrial Exchange.

A Move to Colonize the Northern Part of St. Louis County.

For some months past there has been a feeling in the community that Duluth needs what many other cities of much less size have, a bureau of information, an industrial school and a womans exchange. In accordance with this feeling and to meet one of these wants, Mr. and Mrs. Salter are corresponding with parties in the East with a view to engaging some experienced person to carry on an industrial school in connection with the Bethel, occupying two rooms for that purpose in the Bethel building on Minnesota Point. Simultaneously with this movement, some of our best known ladies have held one or two meetings, the last one yesterday, when they organized a Womans Industrial exchange.

The object of this new society is to provide work for needy women. The officers are: Mrs. Wm. R. Stone, president; Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge, Mrs. Thos. Dowse, vice-presidents; Mrs. J. C. Robinson, secretary; Mrs. W. C. White, treasurer.

The other members of the board of managers are Mesdames Allen, Greenwood, Simonds, Upham, Geggie and Birch.

Any ladies desiring to become members of the Exchange can do so by paying $1 admission fee, $5 entitling one to be an honorary member and $24 a life member.

The constitution of the new society and the plan of works will be given later.

Rooms will be engaged in some convenient locality, probably on Superior street, where work of the various kinds usually carried on under the supervision of a Womans Exchange will be exhibited for sale, and where orders may be left. As women are found, experts in various lines, from bread and pies to all classes of fancy work, their work will be added to what may be called the repertoire of the Exchange. The Herald wishes the public spirited ladies success in their new enterprise, which will involve a great deal of time and no little expense.

TO SETTLE THE NORTH.

A Move to Develop Agricultural Lands on the Iron Range.

The Chamber of Commerce met this morning, but as there was no quorum the meeting adjourned until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

Although no meeting was held a very important matter was talked over, one that is most important to the business men of Duluth. A scheme for the colonization of the vast country to the north of Lake Superior was the subject under discussion and all present promised their hearty support to such a movement. The Duluth and Iron range road has said that it would give all settlers forty to eighty acres of land and guarantee work to all, either on its line of road or in the mines when farming operations did not require their attention.

To further this movement to settle northeastern Minnesota, Maj. A. N. Seip has offered his services to distribute pamphlets in Germany and the Scandinavian peninsula and encourage emigration to this section of Minnesota. Mr. Seip takes a long tour through northern Europe this and next year, and will undoubtedly do good work for this cause. The Chamber meets Thursday morning to consider this matter.

RESCINDED.

The Eastern Minnesota Gives Official Notice of a Change.

"Commencing Oct. 1 you will collect $1.50 per car in addition to tariff charges, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba, wheat delivered to Duluth elevators."

The above telegram was received this morning by General Agent Magner of the Eastern Minnesota and settles the trouble in regard to extra freight charges about which so vigorous a kick was made by Duluth a short time ago against the Eastern Minnesota. The company will now charge no addition to tariff rates, but $1.50 switching charges to elevators not on its line, as those to the houses of the Duluth Elevator company, which the officials of the Eastern say is $1.25 per car.

Band Concert.

Walker's Military band gave a fine concert in The Spalding rotunda last evening. There was not as many auditors as would have been the case had not the notice which was to have appeared in The Herald miscarried, and public notice been thus unfortunately omitted. An excellent program was played with spirit and correct interpretation. Among the pieces were selections by Brooke, Verdi, Missud, DeKonski and Brahms.

The Book Reception.

There was a large attendance at Y. M. C. A. hall last evening at the book reception, and the volumes presented were far more numerous and better than those given at any previous time. There were sets of Dickens and of Irving, Dantes's Inferno, a large number of volumes of poems, several of the best authors being included, Emerson's "Essays" and other books. Thomas J. Davis spoke on "What a Busy Man Should Read." His talk was most interesting and instructive. Miss Rainey sang two solos, one "Dear Heart," the other "Kathleen Mavourneen." Refreshments were served by the Ladies auxiliary.

Four hundred and forty-seven wheat cars on the rails here this morning. This shows that Duluth has not been thrown off the grain track yet, as Superior observers will please take notice, before composing their next Jeremiads for our benefit. And the record is still climbing.

Sioux Falls, Pierre, Huron and Watertown are on the anxious seat today. The issue of the vote will determine which is to draw the capital prize in the state lottery. All four are sure of winning and three of the four will have faces as blank tomorrow as the blanks they draw. If the contest had been settled on its merits without the rakes of real-estate schemes, the issue would have been accepted with better grace. With a free field and no unfair handicapping the one that came in ahead would have won the credit as well as the capital.

Under the law in Montana a voter must put a cross opposite the name of each man whom he wishes to vote for. As the rival tickets are said to be six feet long, it is feared that many voters will be unable to cross the names within the five minutes allowed. The requirement is needlessly cumbersome and in no way an improvement upon the original Australian system of marking the ballot and drawing a line through the name of any candidate objected to. The plan was designed to secure the purity of the ballot and not to vex voters, and prevent the polling of a full vote. The fad of the separate cross should be crossed out.

The Bank of England has raised its rate of discount to 5 per cent, and in so doing has touched as high a point as has been reached in recent years. No rate above 5 per cent has been seen in Threadneedle street since Feb. 23, 1882, when the bank bade a long good-by to 6 per cent. Indeed, if the search be carried back through the past fifteen years, only three short terms, covering some fourteen weeks between them, will be found during which a higher rate than 5 per cent was reached; and even in these exceptional cases the charge did not rise above 6 per cent. The 5 per cent rate itself is by no means of common occurrence. The present charge is but the fourth instance seen in six years. The bank rate started on its upward range seven weeks ago, on Aug. 8, when it rose from 2½ per cent to 3 per cent. After remaining at 3 per cent for three weeks it took another bound to 4 per cent, on Aug. 29, and now, after a rest of four weeks at 4 per cent, it has advanced to 5 per cent.

Minnesota's Ben Butler, the independent Dr. Ames, has been looking through his own blue glasses at the home rule movement in Ireland, and his view has squelched his chances of home rule in this state. What he doesn't know about Ireland would fill a big book and what he does know only makes a mighty mean exhibit of self-conceit, ignorance and prejudice. Against the incontestable fact that the meagre powers of local self government grudgingly granted during the past decade to Ireland have been signally improved, with a contrasting record that speaks for itself, the doctor sets up his casual and cranky observation. Some men are naturally cross-eyed and purblind, but such men are not commonly in such a hurry to advertise the defects in their eyesight as the doctor is. If he defends his eyesight, he does so at the expense of his experience and judgment, and in mercy to his reputation he should let bad enough alone.

A movement is on foot which will be actively pressed by our Chamber of Commerce, with the co-operation of several railroads centering here, to develop the millions of acres of land in the Lake Superior region now lying unproductive for lack of workers. Much land there is, at present, doubtless, which offers no sufficient inducement to settlers, but there is a multitude of tracts which immigrants would gladly enter if the way is opened to them with judicious help. The Duluth and Iron Range road, for one, is ready, as we understand, to promote settlement by free grants of from forty to eighty acres to heads of families. In addition the road will engage to build houses on the grants for occupancy and final purchase on easy terms at cost, and to guarantee employment to a certain number of settlers at good wages on the road or in its mines, for the time not occupied in the necessary work of improving the allotments. It is proposed that the immigration movement shall be systematically and actively promoted, and if the pending plan is carried out, the whole Lake Superior region will reap the benefit of it.

Now the baseball season comes to an end and St. Paul finds a spare hour to discuss the burning question of where the World's Fair shall be. The majority at the chamber of commerce meeting speaks for Chicago, if St. Paul is to be counted out, and public opinion sets the same way, if it is fairly represented by the press interviews. New York has one champion in The Pioneer Press, and The Press is stoned by all the other papers for misrepresenting Northwestern opinion. If this question is to be bandied about on the local interest plane only, The Herald is for Duluth and much poorer locations will be named than the head of the lakes. General Passenger Agent Plough sticks a pin fitly in this plane by coming out for Kettle River. It is not a question of local, but of national interest and propriety, and it is unworthy the nation if the site is sold out to the highest bidder. Out of the conflict of sectional interest is likely to come the final sober conclusion that this exposition is international and that our part in it should be distinctively national. To this end, national sanction, aid and direction should be given and warring jealousies quieted by the choice of our national city as its site. What is the matter with Washington?

MAGAZINES OF THE MONTH.

The October number of The Century is the last one of the volume which has been of excellent quality and variety. During the coming year this magazine promises to be as full of interest, and especially so on the side of fiction. Mrs. Barr's serial will begin in November and continue through the year; Mr. Stockton's will be finished in four numbers; there are many other serials and many short stories, most of them illustrated. The series of papers by W. J. Stillman on the early Italian artists, accompanied by examples of their masterpieces, engraved by Timothy Cole in the presence of the original pictures, will be continued during the year. Among the subjects yet to be presented are masterpieces of Leonardo da Vinci, Michael Angelo, Titian, Raphael and others. The October number has many fine engravings, and the subjects discussed, short stories and serials, retain the interest usually given by the articles in this magazine.

Most of the articles in the October Forum relate to politics. The leading article is a review of the political situation in Europe, by Prof. Emile de Laveleye of the University of Liége. Senator S. M. Collom of Illinois, writes an elaborate article to show protection is of greater benefit to the farmers than to any other class. Mr. Edward Wakefield, a member of the Australian parliament, writes from his experience as a politician about the ballot system which several of our states have adopted. Bishop Huntington in "A Drawing-Room Homily" makes a keen analysis of the frivolities of fashionable life. Prof. Wm. T. Harris reviews the system of state socialism explained in Edward Bellamy's "Looking Backward." There are numerous other articles among which is an essay on "Prejudice Against the Negro," by Rev. John Snyder of St. Louis.

The North American Review for October contains two important articles on industrial subjects, two on matters connected with national politics, three on military topics and one on a pressing religious question. Among others, "The Warning of the English Strikes," by Henry George, suggests the single tax as the only remedy for labor troubles. Dion Boucicault takes up a topic on which he is well qualified to speak, in "Theaters, Halls and Audiences." Among the papers in the department of notes and comments will be found one on "Europe in Persian Eyes," by the Hon. S. G. W. Benjamin, and one on "Naval Education in the Future," by Lieut. G. L. Carden.

The October issue of The Cosmopolitan marks two radical changes in the conduct of the magazine, the first relating to quantity, and consisting of an added twenty-four pages, bringing the size up to that of Scribner's; the other, the inauguration of a series of complete stories in each number, that for this month being from the pen of Capt. Charles King, U. S. Army, who has in his story, "From 'The Point' to the Plains," used the richest experiences of his life as a cadet at West Point, and as an officer among the Indians. There is also an article on "The Queen of England's Stables," by Charles Pelham Clinton, who obtained special permission to inspect and photograph.

The Magazine of American History for October contains for an opening paper by Roy Singleton, "The Romantic Beginnings of Milwaukee." This is the first of a series which bids fair to be of considerable interest. "A Trip to Niagara in 1835" taken from Miss Caroline Spencer's journal cannot fail to be read with pleasure bp the modern visitors to that famous resort. The remaining articles are of their usual excellence in subject and material.

"The Reconstruction of Europe" from the rise to the fall of the second empire will be published shortly by Houghton, Mifflin & Co. It is written by Harold Murdock of Boston, is well equipped with maps showing the successive changes in territorial assignment, and has an introduction by John Fiske.

M. M. Ballou, who has published several well-known books of travel, will soon bring out a book describing his recent observations in Alaska. He found such unexpected mineral wealth there that he names his book "The New Eldorado."

The publishers of Mr. Bellamy's "Looking Backward" must find it difficult to keep their announcements of the editions up with the sales. It leaped from the seventy-fifth to the hundredth, then almost immmediately to the hundred and twelfth; and now the hundred and twenty-second edition is on the market.

Military Miscellanies, by Gen. J. B. Fry, U. S. A., will contain a colletion of short papers on a variety of technical and historical topics treated clearly, concisely and forcibly. [Brentano's of New York and Chicago.]

THEATRICAL GOSSIP.

Mary Anderson is not to play for a year.

"Shenandoah" is the biggest hit in New York this season.

"Erminie" has been translated into Dutch and produced in Amsterdam last week with great success.

"An Arrant Knave," Stuart Robson's new comedy, was produced for the first time at the Chicago Opera house yesterday evening.

The swelling on Mr. Lawrence Barrett's neck has become so painful that his friends are advising him to cancel his dates and submit to a surgical operation.

It is said that the elder Dumas wrote in Madame Patti's album: "Being a man and a Christan, I love to listen to your singing, but if I were a bird I would die of envy."

"Le Triomphe de la Republique," an opera for the production of which the Paris municipal council voted 300,000 francs, was seen in Paris Sept. 13 by nearly 25,000 spectators. It took 1200 artists to interpret the work.

THESE LOVERS.

[Detroit Free Press.]

"But married women, dear," she said,
"Are not exempt from scenes like these.
True lovers vex your heart and head,
And quarrel on capricious pleas;
And I, though long a wife, am yet
By such sweet, charming ills beset.

"You think 'tis wicked, weak and wrong
To let temptation lure me so?
Ah, woman's heart is none too strong,
My child, 'tis scarce three days ago
That, sitting just where you sit now,
I heard a lover's prayer and vow.

"And—yes; he was a married man!
At first I would not listen. Then
He drew quite near me, and began
To plead and pray. I snubbed him when—
He caught my hand? Well, no, dear May,
I did not draw it quite away.

"I should have done so? But you see
He kissed me, and—that made me cry.
We'd quarreled terribly, and he
Was dying to make up; and I—
I said he was my lover? True;
But then—he was my husband, too."

THE NEW BISHOPRIC.

Some Local Facts Regarding the Probable Catholic See Here.

Nothing Certain Until the Archbishop Speaks---The Bishop.

The telegraphic announcement made in The Herald last evening of the institution of a bishopric of Duluth and the appointment of Rev. Father McGolrick of the Church of the Immaculate Conception at Minneapolis as bishop was hailed with no little joy by Roman Catholics here. While nothing can be known definitely of the matter, either of the raising to a see of this section or of the appointment of a bishop until Archbishop Ireland speaks, the telegram confirms what has been the opinion of Duluth people and others acquainted with the matter. Archbishop Ireland could not be seen by a representative of The Herald in St. Paul this morning, he being out of the city.

There has been a good deal of delay in the settlement of this project mainly because the maps and papers sent from the archbishop to Rome some time ago were lost and a second lot had to be prepared and sent. This took time. It is now probable that a bull, giving information on the entire matter, is on the way from Rome and it was an inkling of this that caused yesterday's dispatch.

Should Father McGolrick be finally made bishop of Duluth, the city is to be congratulated on the settlement here of a broad, liberal cultured man, a man who, next to the archbishop, is the central figure of Northwestern Romanism. Father McGolrick is a teacher, of a family of teachers and his parish schools turn out well educated young people. His diocese will include all of northern Minnesota, along and north of the Northern Pacific road, it may also take in a section of northwestern Wisconsin, including Superior and Ashland. This, however is not yet settled. Should all this territory be embraced the new bishop would have a vast field of labor. As yet nothing can be stated definitely regarding plans for the headquarters here. It is certain that first of all a large bishop's residence will be erected, while the parish private schools will be enlarged and greatly improved. A cathedral will also be built to become the headquarters church of the diocese. This may be near the present site of the Church of the Sacred Heart or in the East End. It is expected that some final information can be had from Archbishop Ireland in a few days.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

The Aldermen go Through the Usual Weekly Budget of Business.

The city council met last evening, there being only two absentees from the session. A committee report, favoring the improvement of Ohio avenue, came up and was passed. An order for $279.45 was granted the Norwegian Lutheran church for dirt taken by the city from its lot. The council decided not to grant the narrowing of Piedmont avenue, as it would destroy the beauty of Duluth's finest street. Estimates amounting to $16,189 were allowed. The matter of building sewers on Fourth street between Fourth and Sixth avenues west and on Third alley between Tenth and Thirteenth avenues east were referred to the board of works. Hugh McLennen was appointed poundmaster for the West End. Mr. Hanson, owner of fractional lot between Piedmont avenue and Michigan street, offered the city $800 for the adjoining plat, 18 by 35 feet.

To the board of works was referred the petition for grading and putting in sewer on Seventeenth avenue west, between Michigan and Superior streets. The Gas and Water company was again scored on the point of poor service. A motion for a committee to look up facts by which the company could be made to forfeit its franchise was tabled by a small majority.

Several communications regarding the matter of settlement of damages from the recent floods were then reported. I. Freimuth refused $1000 in settlement of his losses. Eliot Lord sent in a claim for $1740 for damage to The Herald property by the last flood. W. W. Spalding asked an abatement of penalties on two assessments. Laura A. Warner wrote that she had paid $858.57 under protest on an assessment for the East Third street sewer. A resolution of thanks was received from the Sioux Falls excursionists who were recently here. The superintendent of poor of Senaca, Wis., wrote that he expected the city to pay the cost of keeping Fred McAully, an unfortunate Duluthian who was with him.

THE COOKING SCHOOL.

A Large Audience Hears Mrs. Ewing on "Home-Making."

According to announcement Mrs. Emma P. Ewing, late teacher of Domestic Economy at Iowa Agricultural college and Purdue university, Ind., spoke on "Home-Making" last night at the Congregational church. She talked of the need of education and instruction for young women in matters of the household and she held up to ridicule those higher colleges for women where Sanskrit, early Gothic and a dozen more dead languages are taught but never a word about the live issues of the housekeeping that makes life pleasant. She thought it was absurd to teach women political economy when they couldn't vote and leave untaught and unrecognized domestic economy, which every home-keeper must know. There were eight to ten million homes in America, there were 250,000 marriages yearly; how many good housekeepers were there?

The speaker went on to talk of breadmaking and to show by the scarcity of good bread the lack of people who understood the chemistry of cooking. People had salt-risings, they put alum or grease or sugar or milk in their dough, they let it rise and rise again until all the goodness is killed out, and wonder what's the matter with the flour that that batch was made of. With the strongest wheat, the best flour in the world, we have the poorest bread, something we should be ashamed of. She was ashamed of it.

The program for the week's cooking school, which began this afternoon, is as follows:

Tuesday—Bread—Vienna, graham, French rolls, crescents, sticks.
Wednesday—Soups—Plain, clear, vegetable.
Thursday—Salads—Chicken, shrimp, celery, potato, cabbage.
Friday—Frying—Chicken, oysters, fish, potatoes.
Saturday—Broiling—Chicken, beefsteak, oysters.
Monday—Roasting—Meats, poultry, fish.
Tuesday—Entrees, little dishes.
Wednesday—Delicate deserts.

A fine gas stove of the latest pattern has been given by the Gas and Water company for these lessons, and it is expected here tomorrow. It is worthy of especial note that the flour praised so very highly last night was a Duluth production, the "Imperial" brand of Duluth's new, magnificent mill.

WOODS FULL OF 'EM.

This Region to be the Hunter's Paradise This Fall and Winter.

The woods are evidently full of game—big game—such as delights the soul of your true hunter, who does not enjoy the sport unless it is a question between himself and the bear as to which shall lose his skin. Travelers and hunters who have recently returned from the North and West report great quantities of deer, wolf, bear and moose, not to mention ducks, partridges and small game; also leaving out of the account the "pelicans" that one of our contemporaries insists were killed by a party just returned from a hunting expedition.

It has come to be a not unusual thing to hear that a bear has been shot within the city limits. One was killed on Friday of last week and another on Saturday, near the "Glen Avon" farm of Mr. A. R. Macfarlane, and two deer were seen in the highway in the same vicinity last week. There are stories, more or less credible, of seeing moose near town, and of meeting with game of various sorts and various degrees of carnivorous proclivities. But there are pelts and carcasses enough brought in to demonstrate that there is to be plenty of sport for hunters who go into the forest primeval "loaded for b'ar."

Artist J. W. Kelsey shot on Saturday last, at his hunting lodge on the Eastern road, a short distance south of town, a large black bear. The animal was brought to town and shipped yesterday to Chicago where it will furnish steaks and roasts for a day at the Palmer house, the carcass having been bought by that hostelry.

Wolves are reported thick and hungry in the country southwest of Duluth, near and north of Mille Lacs lake. There are also many wolves along the north shore east of Lester river, though but few have been seen.

A number of Duluth sportsmen go in a few days to points in Dakota along the Northern Pacific and Manitoba railways after wild geese, that are reported very plenty there. George C. Howe shot sixty-two geese in one day last week at a lake near his North Dakota farm.

Duluthians who have returned in the past few days from the upper waters of the St. Louis, Floodwood, Whiteface, Swan and Prairie report the lakes and rice swamps fairly black with ducks. There has been an unusually heavy wild rice crop this year and the birds are so fat that they are very lazy and can be easily shot.

Moose and caribou are frequently seen near Tower, and Moose alone are plenty on the high waters of the Mississippi and St. Louis rivers and tributaries. Several deer were shot last week on the south shore a few miles from town, more would have been out for the fact that the law is "on," while hunters are preparing to go out on the Minnesota side without waiting for November and December.

Messrs. Lange and Dodge of this city, have for the past four Sundays been shooting ducks at Spirit Lake, and have met with phenomenal success. The numbers "bagged" for the four days are respectively, 42, 15, 29 and 103, making a total for the four days of 189. This is said to be the boss shooting of the season.

Joseph Donauer, a farmer on the Howard road, killed a large lynx Sunday evening, after sending three bullets into the vicious animal.

Father Mathew Society.

A regular meeting of the Father Mathew society was held last evening. A very entertaining literary and musical program was carried out and the hall was crowded. Two new names were proposed for membership. The present officers of the society were re-elected for the ensuing six months. These meetings are becoming quite popular and are largely attended.

THE MATTER DROPPED.

The Governor Washes His Hands of the Rochester Asylum Investigation.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 1.—Governor Merriam says that he will do nothing further with the Rochester asylum case. Dr. Bowers's resignation takes the matter out of his hands, and makes further action unnecessary. Dr. Bowers, in his letter of resignation, says:

The report admits that, considering the numerous and arduous duties required of me, I performed these faithfully and honestly. When it is admitted in the report that of the ninety charges and complaints of abuse to patients by attendants only twenty were sustained by proofs, and moreover, when the further fact is consider d that these charges covered a period of ten years and a half, and that during that period 2000 patients were treated, it is certainly a small percentage. Of the twenty cases considered, some were never brought to my knowledge until they were mentioned at the investigation. I admit, without any reservation, that my failure to report the circumstances connected with the death of Taylor Coombs was a grave error of judgment, but to err is human, and many another man might have made the same mistake if placed in the same dilemma.

The resignation was accepted after a brief discussion, and a resolution was adopted expressing the entire confidence of the board in the integrity and ability of Dr. Bowers, "observing with pleasure that a most searching inquiry and the closest investigation of his management of the hospital failed to develop anything reflecting on his character or integrity, and that his professional standing is unquestioned."

Tried For Wife Murder.

CHASKA, Oct. 1.—Charles Hasso, a wealthy and influential farmer from Hollywood, will be tried for murder here this week. He is charged with the killing of his wife in cold blood, about two months ago. Much difficulty is experienced in getting an impartial jury. W. W. Erwin, the criminal lawyer, will appear for the defendant. The body of the murdered woman has been exhumed and the crushed skull brought in as evidence.

Items Around Minnesota.

THE STORY OF A YEAR.

PHOTOGRAPH FROM LIFE TAKEN ONE YEAR AGO.

PHOTOGRAPH FROM LIFE AS SHE NOW APPEARS.

"Look on this picture and then on that." The above faces are exact reproductions of photographs taken from life of Mrs. Morton D. Harlan, who resides at No. 55 West 25th Street, New York City. The first one was taken in November, 1887, while in the last stages of consumption, abandoned by physicians and mourned by friends. The other was taken in December, 1888, when completely recovered, and entirely through the use of Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption. The above pictures are wood cuts, but they are true to life and the original photographs, taken from life, can be seen at all the drug stores. Mrs. Harlan's consumption began as consumption usually does, with a cough in the morning, raising of phlegm, tired and depressed feelings, a lack of appetite, the loss of flesh and pains throughout the body. She did not realize her extreme danger until it became almost too late, but she is in perfect health to-day. Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption is sold by all reputable druggists. You can't afford to be without it.

CAUTION W. L. Douglas' name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all Shoes advertised by him before leaving his factory; this protects the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If your dealer does not keep the style or kind you want, or offers you shoes without W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on them, and says they are just as good, do not be deceived thereby, but send direct to the Factory for you can get what you want by return mail, postage paid. Dealers make more profit on unknown shoes that are not warranted by anybody; therefore do not be induced to buy shoes that have no reputation. Buy only those that have W. L. Douglas' name and the price stamped on the bottom, and you are sure to get full value for your money. Thousands of dollars are saved annually in this country by the wearers of W. L. Douglas' Shoes. In ordering by mail state whether you want Congress, Button or Lace, London cap toe, plain French toe, or narrow cap toe, and be sure to give size and width you wear. I can fit any foot that is not deformed, as my shoes are made in a great variety of widths, sizes and half sizes. I guarantee a fit, prompt delivery and perfect satisfaction or money refunded upon return of the shoes in good condition. W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

GOOD MONTH'S RECORD.

Doings on the Board of Trade Today---Flour Traffic Totals.

Record of a Month in Breadstuffs---General Market Notes.

The record of the months of September in 1888 and 1889, given below, may be taken as a fair sample of the probable difference between the records of the two crop years in receipts and shipments. The receipts for September, 1889, are nearly three times those of September, 1888. There is also a great increase in corn and flour. Oats and barley cut no figure. Cars on track this morning were more numerous than any day this season, there being 447 of wheat and one of corn. Of these the Northern Pacific, which has had very light receipts lately, brought 104 cars.

It seems to be the general belief that country elevators on the Northern Pacific are pretty well filled with wheat, one authority stating that there is more wheat in elevators along the Northern Pacific line than ever before in the history of the Northwest. As soon as these elevators are full all the wheat marketed will begin to move forward and receipts from the Northern Pacific will grow very large. Country elevator men are evidently bent on making all the winter storage possible and only sending to terminal elevators in the spring what they are able to hold all winter. This will give a steadier movement at Duluth than heretofore, but will cut down the profits of local elevator companies.

The following is the month's report:

| RECEIPTS. | 1889. | | 1888. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Flour | 306,477 | .... | 178,889 |
| Wheat | 2,849,699 | .... | 950,514 |
| Corn | 221,120 | .... | 144,369 |
| Barley | none | .... | 28,290 |
| SHIPMENTS. | | | |
| Flour | 255,414 | .... | 219,673 |

| Corn | 743,405 | .... | 322,403 |
| Barley | none | .... | 27,638 |

TO SOUND OF TOMTOM.

A Revivified Religious Ceremony Among the Nett Lake Indians.

Duluth people are not alone in their reviving interest in music and art this fall. The Chippewas of the Bois Fortes band are just now enjoying their annual powwow, or autumn carnival. It is the first time this band has indulged in the powwow though it has been the custom of other Indians of the La Pointe agency, especially at Odanah and Bad River bands, for several years. The festivities are of several days' duration and Duluthians just down from Nett Lake, where the services are being held, instead of at the headquarters on Sucker Point, Lake Vermilion, where these Indians usually have their ceremonious times, report that they are in full progress.

They consist of the regular Indian dance, to the beating of a monotonous and tired-sounding drum. It is a steady jog day and night, performed in time to the drum and accompanied by a lively yell and hallo. The powwow is a sort of religious ceremony. Nothing is being done in the way of such a festival at the Fond du Lac or other nearby reservations of the La Point agency, most of them having sent representatives to Bad River.

DR. GRAFF'S FUNERAL.

His Remains Followed to the Grave by Very Many Friends.

The funeral services of the late Dr. Charles H. Graff, who died Sunday, were held at his residence this morning. The services, which were very impressive were in the presence of a very large number of friends who had gathered to pay the last debt of sympathy and regard, and the large house was crowded to the doors. Rev. E. M. Noyes opened the service with prayer and a few felicitous remarks. Rev. C. C. Salter followed with a prayer, after which there was a Scripture reading by Rev. W. M. Barker. Revelations xxii was read by Dr. Ringland, who also made brief remarks, while Rev. G. H. McClelland made the closing prayer. The Congregational church choir sang "Abide with Me." There were many flowers on and about the coffin, the gifts of grateful patients and friends. The body was carried to Forest hill, followed by a large cortege.

At a meeting of the entire medical profession of the city and neighborhood held last evening the following resolutions of respect were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God in His providence to remove from us by death, our esteemed friend and co-laborer, Dr. Charles H. Graff;

Resolved, That in his death the profession has met with an irreparable loss; science, an earnest devotee, his medical brethren a firm friend and counselor, the community a useful and worthy citizen, whose life was a continued sacrifice to the cause of humanity;

Resolved, That we tender his friends and relatives our heartfelt sympathy and as a mark of respect we will attend the funeral in a body;

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and published in the city papers, and also in The Northwestern Lancet.

WEST DULUTH.

The Officials of the Car Works Arranging to Begin Work.

The officials of the Minnesota Car company have been very busy since their arrival in town arranging the final details for the starting of the works, and taking the last formal steps for the change, which takes effect today, whereby the capital stock is increased to $2,000,000 and the scope of the concern greatly enlarged. They have been going through the works with great care and thoroughness, and the material needed for the operation of the works and the building of cars has been noted and ordered. President John F. T. Anderson was asked regarding the probable time of beginning operations, and replied: "I cannot guarantee to start them on a certain day. We want to start them as soon as we can do it properly. It must not be supposed that we can put men enough in the works to operate them at their maximum capacity and start them all off on a given day. It would be simply a mob. Those who are so greatly interested in the starting of these works must remember that we are much more deeply interested than anyone else. We are not out here simply to see how much money we can spend and how fast we can spend it, but to spend our money so it will bring a proper return. Take the matter of car wheels. We cannot begin turning out 100 wheels a day until we experiment a little to see if the pig iron which is nearest and most available will make a first-class wheel. There is no supply of skilled labor to call on here now and must all be brought in from outside. So we will gradually get the different departments into operation and increase the number of men in them until the works are running at their full capacity."

A dance will be given at Anderson & Smiths hall on Thursday evening, and supper will be served in the West Duluth Dining hall.

R. C. Brophy leaves today for Cooperstown, N. D.

E. T. Johnson, who has been sick with typhoid fever, is able to attend to his duties again at Downs & Munson's grocers.

K. O. Balstad is visiting in Fergus Falls.

Ed. Johnson and S. Likre have rented rooms over Stevens & Peterson's tailor shop.

The floor of the rolling mill at the Car works is being laid as fast as the plates are cast.

That Little Tickling

In your throat, which makes you cough once in a while and keeps you constantly clearing your throat, arises from catarrh, Kanas catarrh is a constitutional disease, the ordinary cough medicines all fail to hit the spot. What you need is a consitutional remedy like Hoods Sarsaparia. Many people who have taken this medicine for scrofula, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and other troubles, have been surprised that it should cure this troublesome cough. But to know the actual cause of the cough is to solve the mystery. Many cases of consumption can be traced back to the neglect of some such slight affection as this. Consumption can be controlled in its early stages, and the effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla in purifying the blood, building up the general health, and expelling the scrofulous taint which is the cause of catarrh and consumption, has restored to perfect health many persons on whom this dreaded disease seemed to have a firm hold.

SOME SUGGESTIONS

AND ADVICE CONCERNING THE PURCHASE OF REAL ESTATE—READ THEM.

In less than five years Duluth will have 100,000 inhabitants. Judge Stearns says that in ten years Duluth will have 250,000 inhabitants, and Judge Stearns is excellent authority on any subject he undertakes to discuss. All well-informed people will fully agree with the Judge.

Now just consider how much land a city of 100,000 or one of 250,000 people covers. Time flies very rapidly, and before the croakers are done croaking (for croakers will croak to the end of time) the suburban towns about Duluth will have become delightful places and will contain the homes of many thousands of wealthy people. When that time comes will be one of the most charming places to be found anywhere. Thousands of people will want to live where they can get pure water from the great spring in instead of drinking the dirty water supplied to the city people. Other thousands will come from all over the country to drink of the waters of

THE PARK

CROSLEY PARK SPRING

and be healed of their diseases. There will be splendid hotels, elegant residences, fine streets and walks, and every comfort and convenience that man can devise or money buy. Then, alas! many hundreds of those who did not follow their better judgment and buy lots in when they were sold for a mere song on the easy installment plan, will stray away to this fine place, and there on the broad verandas of the hotels or in the shade of the overhanging trees will tell how they could have become wealthy had they not spurned the opportunities presented to them in the year of grace 1889. It will indeed be a sad sight to see these "back number" people, with long faces and sour dispositions bewailing their hard fates. Now, dear reader, if you take our advice you will not be one of them.

OUR ADVICE IS:

Always look ahead and not behind. Let the lessons of the past be your guides for the future, and when you see great opportunities seize hold of them with both hands and hang on. You may live a thousand years and not see such fine property as lots in sell for from $55 to $260 each, one-tenth down and the balance 1 per cent a week, without interest or taxes.

Take our advice and buy now.

LAST EDITION.

MONTANA REPUBLICAN.

Incomplete Reports Indicate that Montana Was Carried by Republicans.

Pierre is Likely to Get the Prize of the Capital of South Dakota.

North and South Dakota Republican by Increased Majorities.

No News Received from Washington, but "She's All Right."

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 2.—Reports received to 2 o'clock indicate the election of the republican state and congressional tickets in North and South Dakota, the former by 5000 to 10,000 and the latter by from 10,000 to 20,000.

In the South Dakota capital contest Pierre, Huron and Sioux Falls claim the victory, while Watertown has not by any means given up hope. From reports received from Aberdeen, that town being somewhat neutral, not being a candidate, it seems that Pierre is in the lead.

Everybody Claims Everything.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 2.—It is still impossible to definitely determine the results of yesterday's election in Montana. Both committees are claiming the state, but general indications would seem to favor the democratic claim.

Governor Hauser and other prominent democrats say they are sure of the success of their candidates for governor and congress, and that they will also have a majority of legislature.

The chairman of the republican committee says the republicans will control both branches of the legislature, and that Carter is elected to congress.

Bulletin From Chairman Sellgman.

HELENA, Oct. 2.—Thomas H. Carter, (republican), is elected to congress. The republicans have both branches of the legislature. A. J. SELIGMAN, Chairman republican state central committee.

An Editor's Claim.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 2—Democratic estimated majorities are being cut down as the count proceeds. It is now reasonably certain that the entire republican state ticket is elected. The republican state committee claim the legislature by forty-five out of seventy-five. The constitution was adopted by a large majority. A. S. FISKE, Editor Herald.

BAD LUCK FOLLOWS HIM.

The Prosecutor of Lincoln's Assassinators in a Police Court.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—A broken-down old man, who had slept off a fit of intoxication in a prison cell, answered to the name of George Foster when he was called to the bar at the Harlem police court. He was charged with being a "common drunk." At the examination it became known that the prisoner was Gen. George Foster, who was district attorney of Washington, D. C., at the time President Lincoln was assassinated. Gen. Foster conducted the prosecution of Herold, Mrs. Surratt and Atze Rodt, who were hanged for the crime. Foster says he never had a day's luck since Mrs. Surratt was hanged.

He was arrested in Harry Hill's place at One Hundred and Thirtieth street and Third avenue, so drunk he couldn't stand up. He was let go with a reprimand.

THE COPE STONE.

A Brilliant Masonic Ceremony at the Great Chicago Auditorium.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—The ceremony of laying the cope stone on the tower of the auditorium was performed with Masonic honors at high noon today, and the occasion was one of the most brilliant of the kind in the history of the West.

It was preceded by a street parade in which over eighty lodges participated. The Grand Lodge of Illinois was escorted by eight commanderies of Knights Templar under command of Grand Commander Norman Gassette. At the conclusion of the ceremony which was performed by Grand Master John C. Smith, the brethren repaired to Cavalry armory where on oration was delivered by Rev. Dr. Lormer, grand orator. The "celebration of the cope stone" is the time of rejoicing at the completion of the building when the tools are laid aside and the hour of labor is succeeded by the hour of rest and refreshment.

Murder and Suicide.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 2.—This morning at 5:30 o'clock Arthur Rickert, aged 29, shot his wife, Elvie, aged 30, in the left temple and placed a pistol against his own head and blew himself into eternity. The cause for his crime is unknown.

Nine Horses Cremated.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Oct. 2.—The livery barns of Rank Brothers and John Miller, and the business college and boarding hall were burned this morning. Nine horses were cremated. Loss, $10,000; partially insured.

TRIENNIAL CONVENTION.

Episcopalian Clergy to Consider the Revision of the Book of Common Prayer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The Church of St. George was filled this morning with prominent Episcopal divines and laymen, representing every diocese of the country, upon the occasion of the opening session of the triennial general convention of the Episcopal church in the United States. The last meeting of this body was held in Chicago in 1886.

This morning's session was occupied with the usual religious service, and after the recess for luncheon the house of bishops and the house of deputies will meet for organization. The Rev. Dr. R. Dix of this city will probably be elected president, Rev. Charles L. Hutchins of Medford, Mass., secretary, and Hon. W. W. Astor, treasurer. The important question of the revision of the "Book of Common Prayer" will be among the first subjects to be considered.

George William Curtis Again.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—When the national Civil Service Reform league met this morning President George William Curtis announced that the first business of the meeting was the election of a president. Mr. Curtis was elected without opposition.

Will Not Raise Rates.

One week from tomorrow the Soo road raises its rates to Boston and New York in compliance with a demand from the St. Paul-Chicago roads. This action, however, will have no effect on the passenger rates from Duluth via the South Shore. It was officially stated today by a South Shore man, that the rates will be fully 20 per cent under the Soo's, assuring to this city a large share of the Twin city's Eastern travel.

The Month's Weather.

By Sergeant Fallon's report for September it is seen that the mean temperature for the month was 54.8°, the highest 76° and the lowest 36°. Total deficiency of temperature for the month (as compared with previous Septembers) is 36°, while the total excess for the year is 291°. Total rainfall has been 4.02 inches, falling in twelve days, fair and clear days numbering sixteen. It shows a deficiency in rainfall in the month of 0.51 inches, and an excess for the year of 2.03. In past Septembers there has been rainfall from 1.20 to 11.52 inches, the latter being in 1881 and the largest fall on record. The warmest September was in 1874, 59.5°; the coolest in 1878, 51.4°.

Park Point Kicks.

There are a number of kickers on Park Point who are still anxious to keep out from inside the city control. These are circulating papers for signers, a subscription paper, the money raised to be used in suit to settle the matter of annexation, and settle it their way. The move is by no means universal on Park Point. Just what it is expected can now be done no one seems to know.

SWAMP LANDS.

The Cases of the State Against the Government Postponed.

Assistant States Attorney Childs appeared before the local United States land office this morning and desired a continuance of all swamp land cases until Dec. 2. This was granted. The status of these cases has been so often given in The Herald and Duluth land men are so well acquainted with it that no explanation need be given. Suffice it to say that the state at the December hearing will waive all attempt to claim land that has been proved by its own surveyors to be clearly dry and without swamp. It will bring suit only on those lands that its surveyors have found to be swamp, reserving the right of appeal to the supreme court of the United States against the decisions of two secretaries of the interior, who have ruled that the action of the surveyors of the general government does not bind the government itself. Such suit would affect all lands marked as swamp on the plat and would be of great importance to the state.

There are over 100 cases noted for suit, but of these a very small part will be tried here.

The two swamp land exploring parties who have been taking notes of lands in the disputed territory came down Saturday night, and all but one of their members left for St. Paul this noon, Messrs. W. A. Dellplaine, A. A. Goodrich, C. B. Garrison and F. O. Garrison going there, and A. E. Wardwell remaining in Duluth.

DISTRICT COURT.

An Interesting Profile—Release of Frank Zan—General Court News.

Yesterday afternoon in the attempt to try the case of Mary Rakowsky vs. the City of Duluth, an old profile of Superior street from Piedmont avenue to Thirteenth avenue west was produced in court. It was recorded in 1870, and the names of Walter Van Brunt, A. D. McSweeny and Sidney Luce, then respectively city clerk, city engineer, and register of deeds, appear. To look at Superior street today one would scarcely believe that a number of ravines ranging from 18 to 39 feet in depth ever existed there as the profile clearly shows. The city engineer is now trying to secure a copy of the same. The case was dismissed on motion of the defendant, and a stay of proceedings for ninety days was entered.

Katrine Trader vs. Josephine Lepak and Martin Lepak, was dismissed by stipulation. Hugh E. McIntyre vs. The City of Duluth, was continued on motion of the plaintiff. Swen Ryden vs. the City of Duluth, will be tried in vacation. The case of George B. and Richard O. Lazier vs. Jeremiah H. Triggs and Frank E. Kennedy was tried with Cash & Williams for plaintiffs, and White, Shannon & Reynolds for the defense. The action was to recover $800 of commission alleged to be due. The jury is now out.

The case of Andrew Johnson vs. The St. Paul and Duluth Railway company is on trial this afternoon. It is an action for damages sustained by plaintiff while in employ of the company.

H. H. Hawkins appeared in court and asked for the release of Frank Zan, who was held to answer the charge of rioting. The court released him on his own recognizance in $200 to appear when wanted.

CONSIDERABLE TRACK.

Large Extensions to Trackage of the St. Paul and Duluth.

The St. Paul and Duluth road will have extended its terminals in this city by the building of side tracks, nearly four miles at the end of this season. The company is now at work filling in its land from the north track west of the Union depot to the northerly limit. This work is being done to prepare for building Union depot terminal tracks and for the erection of the Sixth avenue viaduct. These new tracks will be built in accordance with the ultimate plan for the entire re-arrangement of the Duluth's and Northern Pacific's terminals within the city limits.

Platting Its Lands.

The Highland Improvement company is moving into its office in the new Munger & Markell building, and General Manager Shannon is hustling business rapidly. Engineers are now at work on the plat of the company's lands, which will be laid out topographically. After the platting and the grading of streets, which will go on as rapidly as money and men can push it, the First addition will be put on the market.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

The following variations in temperature were recorded at Pioneer Fuel company's office in Hotel St. Louis block, for twenty-four hours ending at noon today: 12 m., 45 degrees; 3 p. m., 54 degrees; 6 p. m., 52 degrees; 10 p. m., 45 degrees; 7 a. m., 42 degrees; 9 a. m., 44 degrees; 12 m., 46 degrees. Maximum, 54 degrees. Minimum, 42 degrees. Daily range, 12 degrees.

The Masonic Temple is now built to its fourth story. The terra cotta ornaments will be very elaborate.

Decorators will finish sizing the interior of Temple Opera by Saturday. Color ornamentation will begin Monday.

Word was received here this morning that Billy Wilson, the Duluth colored pugilist, will be matched with a heavy-weight to fight before the California Athletic club, San Francisco.

Lundgren & Skogren, contractors, have begun the excavation for the Brown Brothers building, between Lake and First avenues east on the lower side of Superior street. They will have the lot ready for piling by Saturday.

The date for opening bids for the construction of the county jail is postponed until Oct. 15th.

A large number of the offices in the new Munger & Markell building, the Phœnix building, are already in use, many occupants moving in today. The Northwestern Land and Loan company, Munger & Markell, the Highland Improvement company, Duncan, Brewer & Co., Dr. S. M. Stocker, Duluth and Winnipeg railway, M. L. Cormany, Madame Warde, and a number of others.

Grand Chancellor Stahl of the Knights of Pythias has given notice that he will make his inspection of the Duluth lodges next week

Three drunks paid fines this morning at the police court, one going on the hill for the usual length of time.

A female resident of the point was arrested this morning for assault. She was let off with a fine.

The Stewart store buildings at West Duluth will be completed by the 15th of this month.

Remember Mrs. J. J. Cressman's grand opening, tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

COMMERCIAL CONGRESS.

Considering the Promotion of Commerce Between the Great Nations

Of the American Continent, North and South of the Isthmus.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—[Special.]—The diplomatic chamber of the department of state was the scene of a notable event today. It was the formal reception by Secretary Blaine of the delegates to the international congress which is to discuss ways and means of establishing permanent relations in matters of commerce between the United States and the states of Central and South America. This is the first great American conference that has been held for commercial purposes since the discovery of the western hemisphere. There was a congress of American states in Panama sixty-four years ago, but it was for political purposes and no delegates were sent from the United States. Today's gathering is the culmination of Secretary Blaine's efforts to bring about a Pan-American congress.

He first broached the matter when secretary of state under the Garfield administration, and it was received with so much favor that a call for the convention was issued. The assassination of the president, however, caused the project to be abandoned for the time being. Congress took up the matter, however, and in May of last year an act was passed under which the call was reissued by Secretary Bayard. The act of congress set forth as the purposes of the conference, among other things, the consideration of measures to preserve the peace and promote the prosperity of the several American states and of measures toward the formation of an American customs union, the establishment of a uniform system of customs regulations, and of a uniform system of weights and measures and of patent right and copyright measures, the adoption of a common silver coin to be issued by each government and to be legal tender between citizens of all the republics; and the consideration of a plan of international arbitration for the settlement of disputes. The sum of $75,000 was also appropriated by congress for the purpose of entertaining the delegates from abroad in a fitting manner.

The American delegates were the first to put in an appearance at the department. The entered, two and two, in the following order: John B. Henderson of Missouri and Cornelius N. Bliss of New York, Clement Studebaker of Indiana and John F. Hanson of Georgia, Morris M. Estee, of California and Charles R. Flint of New York, William Henry Trescott of South Carolina and Andrew Carnegie of Pennsylvania, Henry G. Davis of West Virginia and T. Jefferson Coolidge of Massachusetts. A few moments later the Brazilian commissioners, Senhor Lafayette Pereira, the leader of the liberal party and formerly secretary of the treasury, Senhor Salvador Mendonca and Senhor Valenti, accompanied by their attaches, Senhors Vas Concellos and Martens were introduced. From this time on the arrivals were rapid and numerous and in the following order: Senors Vincente G. Quesada, Roque Saenz Perra, and Manuel Quintana of the Argentine Republic; Senor Juan F. Velarde of Bolivia; Senors J. M. Hurtado, Carlos Martinez Silva and Chinaco Calderon of Columbia; Senor Perez Zeledon of Costa Rica; Senor Jose Maria Camaano of Equador; Dr. Fernando Cruz of Guatamala; Senor Jeronimo Zelaya of Honduras; Senors Matius Romero, Dr. J. N. Navarro and Jose Mes Lymantour of Mexico; Dr. Horacio Guizman of Nicaragua; Senor Alberto Nin of Paraguay; Senor F. C. C. Zegarra of Salvador; Senors Meanor Rolet Perasa and Alejandro Urbaneya, Venezuela.

The delegates being assembled, a cordial address of welcome was delivered by Secretary Blaine, to which several of the delegates responded in their native language. This formality over, a brief business session was held, after which the delegates proceeded to the White House and were received by the President and Mrs. Harrison in the blue room. Mrs. Harrison was assisted by Mrs. S. B. Elkins, Miss Grace Davis, daughter of ex-Senator Davis, and Miss Campbell, daughter of J. E. Campbell of this city. President Harrison made a brief speech of welcome, and the delegates were then individually presented. Tomorrow they start on a tour of the country.

Have a Clew.

The police have a clew to the whereabouts of Boodler George H. Beadle, the man who skipped out of West Superior with $1200 of Jim Murnane's money, and the news of his arrest is expected at any time.

Wiped Off His Chin.

A rumpus occurred in Brown's Minnesota Point saloon shortly after 1 o'clock, in which one of the fighters had his chin bitten off. The mariner was arrested, and will probably suffer severe punishment for his brutish act.

Removal.

George W. Stevens, the popular architect, civil engineer and superintendent, finding it necessary to secure better quarters to carry on his increasing business, has bought out the office of Architects Hodson & Co., 44 Furguson building, and will move into it today, where he will be prepared to attend to business in a thoroughly practical manner.

THE NEW BALLOT SYSTEM.

The new ballot system in Montana is reported to have worked with remarkable smoothness, in view of the fact that it was in use for the first time and is saddled with the unnecessarily cumbrous provision requiring the checking of the name of each candidate on the ticket with a cross, if the elector wishes to vote for him. The time limitation for the marking of the ballot was not strictly observed, however, and in the event of any pressure at the polls there would certainly be a vexatious delay and probably a reduction of the full vote of many precincts from this cause. There is no reason why any American state should adopt the so-called Australian system without modifications if any changes can be made for the better, but variations from a plan already tested and approved in practice should be made with caution.

In New York and Massachusetts the modifications of this system to adapt it to American use and customs have been very thoroughly considered with the aim of simplifying it wherever possible, without detriment to the security of the ballot. The Massachusetts system, by reason of the exceptional care and judgment given to its preparation, is regarded by ballot reformers as very close to a model of its kind, and its two main variations from the Australian are, as we think, decided improvements. Under the Australian, or more exactly speaking the Australasian system, for it was introduced in New Zealand, all the qualified voters on the list are numbered from No. 1 upward in alphabetical order. When an elector enters the polling place, he gives his name in full and answers any questions that may be asked to identify him. Then the returning officer ticks his name off the list and writes his number on a corner of a ballot. Before handing him the ballot, the numbered corner is turned over and gummed down, to serve as a clue in case of attempted fraud. If any attempt is made at false personation or double voting, a comparison of the tick marks on the electoral lists gives the clue, and the fraudulent ballots are traced by the numbers, which are uncovered for the purpose, and rejected. This feature although entirely proper in its purpose, is objected to as giving a possible pretext without just cause for ascertaining how individuals voted and was dropped from the Massachusetts law for that reason. With proper inquiry and identification, the checking of the list should be a sufficient safeguard.

Another still more objectionable feature of the Australian system is noted by Mr. Edward Wakefield in the October Forum. Under it an ingenious system of bribery is made practicable. For a purchasing agent can bring a gang of bought voters to the polls and be reasonably sure of delivering their votes for his principal by the following device: The first of the lot is sent in with instruction to put a piece of blank paper into the ballot box instead of the ballot paper, and to bring out the blank ballot paper to the agent. The latter then marks this paper as he wishes, and sends in a second man to cast it and to bring out, in turn, his blank ballot paper given him by the election officer. This process can be continued indefinitely, and so, by the loss of only a single ballot—that of the first man, who deposits the blank paper—the balance of the votes can be turned over according to contract, for the performance of which the blank ballot brought by each man is a voucher. This pretty scheme, is upset by the requirement in Massachusetts that the ballot must be deposited with the official endorsement in plain sight, thus preventing the substitution of a blank paper. And the use of spoiled ballots in this way is guarded against by the demand for the return of any spoiled ballot before a new one is issued. All spoiled ballots thus returned are required by law to be carefully kept and accounted for. Of course, with the greatest care, cheating at the polls is possible, and the purchase of voters cannot be entirely stamped out, but both are greatly diminished under the Australiam system as the records show, and it must be welcomed therefore by every honest man as a change for the better.

Sioux City promise to chip in the finest corn palaces that ever was seen, if Chicago gets the world's fair. In her present palace the city has beaten her own best record but the prodigy of 1892 "will be so far ahead of the present one," says Mayor Clelland "that it will be national in its scope." Now let California build one of beet sugar from the Spreckels petrified blocks and Texas put up one of cotton and Minnesota one of wheat, and the big four will give the old world points in palace building.

One of the Duke of Sutherland's associates seeking investments in this country is credited with this remark in St. Paul: "We would like to find an opportunity of investing on a very large scale. We have any amount of money lying idle." The Duke's associate only needs to come to the head of the lakes and open his eyes. If he wants a big thing that will certainly not turn out a white elephant, let him put some of his idle money where it will be busy in driving mill wheels by the conversion to use of the waste water power of the St. Louis river. In that stream is a big bonanza for somebody, with a profit that will run as long as the water does. Perhaps after the ponderous British syndicates have put their money in trust in misplaced mills, they will see the freed capital of the Yankees put where it will do the most good. Duluth Imperial mill is a beacon light to investors.

A good many million feet of Northwestern pine may be put into the Nicaragua canal. Lieut. Menocal, the engineer in charge, who is now building the canal company's wharf and breakwater at Greytown, says that the Southern lumber is not good enough for the construction work to begin later. For this the West pine that can be procured will be wanted and the best offer thus far received is for lumber billed in Chicago, shipped by rail to New York and thence by steamer to Greytown. There is a chance for Duluth to cut under that bid.

A juryman, called in a case before Recorder Smyth in New York last week remarked: "I wish to say, before I take the oath, that I haven't any confidence in the jury system." He was excused at once and properly, though in default of other pretexts for not serving, the plea of lack of confidence in the jury system may become unfortunately popular by the success of this precedent. Honest distrust of the system is not equivalent, however, to the loss of all confidence in human nature as the recorder said to the juryman. We need not lose our whole stock of confidence in human nature, for example, because we put little stock in the make-up of the Cronin jury. The law presupposes that the elect twelve are "good men and true," but presumption and fact are notoriously at odds at times in this matter as in others. Trial by jury is a dearly prized right but unless it is a competent and honest jury, the trial will be a farce. To secure without fail juries fit to serve the methods in common use are plainly open to amendment.

THE CHIMES.

It would be a genuine pleasure to be able to honestly report that the presentation of that beautiful opera, "The Chimes of Normandy," at Turner hall last evening had resulted in a material and artistic success. It is such a pretty opera that it never ought to be given otherwise than by artists and with good accompaniment and suitable setting. It had good accompaniment last night, by Madam Beaulieu at the piano and Hoare's orchestra. The costumes were good also, though two or three were inappropriate to the parts they figured in. The setting was as good as circumstances allowed, and, had the singing and action been up the standard, it would have passed unnoticed. The chorus of village maidens was pretty, and its dancing and singing was pretty and graceful. The possibilities for a pretty semi-ballet which lie unimproved in every place is never realized until some such opportunity as this puts a score of pretty girls into spangles and abbreviated skirts. In speaking of the principals we are compelled to hesitate. We do not wish to seem unkind, but cannot be kind to them and to the arts of music and acting. Therefore do we keep silence. There were good points in the acting, excellent passages in vocalization, but as a whole the rendition of the opera was not what it might have been with the same material, had it been properly instructed, and very far below what it might have been had its management been such as to have attracted the best Duluth talent.

A Grand Bethel Benefit.

A grand concert to aid the Bethel to lift its debt has been partially arranged, to take place in the Temple Opera on Nov. 25. It will be a first-class affair, given mainly by local talent, and the Bethel authorities hope to be able to realize a sum sufficient to clear it of the debt that now rests upon its property. To this end the people of Duluth, especially the church people, should actively interest themselves and see to it that the Temple Opera is packed on that night

The Mozarts.

The board of goveruors of the Mozart association met last evening, but transacted no business of public interest. The meeting was wholly taken up with discussion of plans for the series of concerts to be given during the winter and with the details of organization. About twenty-five new members were added to the rolls. Treasurer Silberstein is ready to receive the initiation fee and first month's dues ($6) either in person at the store of Silberstein & Bondy or through the mail, and will in a few days be prepared to issue membership cards. The first concert will be announced as soon as arrangements can be made for a suitable hall.

Prof. Zoch.

There is a treat in store for those who go to the Congregational church Friday evening and listen to Prof. Hermann Emil Zoch, who is said to be a pianist of extraordinary merit.

A FOOLISH TEXT.

[Wilson K. Welsh in Life.]

"Love thy neighbor as thyself?"
What a foolish preacher!
Though art dearer than myself,
Neighbor, sweetheart, teacher.

None is equal to thyself,
Thou art far above me,
And I dare not ask myself
"Would she stoop to love me?"

None I love except thyself—
Kneel in awe before thee—
And I only hate myself
That I'm all unworthy.

"Love thy neighbor as thyself!"
Parson's lost his labor,
Fool I'd be to love myself
As I love my neighbor.

Little Lumps of Wisdom

AND SOME MILD REFLECTIONS CONCERNING

INDUSTRY, ECONOMY AND THRIFT.

"Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise."

—Proverbs.

Did you ever think, dear reader, what a big, bustling world we live in. How every man seems to be bound, by the very law of his being, to work and toil and struggle to keep his head above water. We all know this by experience, and while it seems hard, yet as it is the common fate of mankind we are bound to do our level best and leave the results to God. But we, after all, are the architects of our own fortune. Some people fail in life because they are too lazy to work. Such people should learn a lesson from the industrious ant. But there are millions of industrious people who work hard and long, people of good habits and the best of citizens, and yet they fail utterly to accumulate anything for a rainy day. And why is it? Please listen and we will tell you: The secret of acquiring wealth is to put money where it will make money—in other words, where it will grow. The rich men of this country never got their wealth by day labor. More than 80 per cent of them commenced life in that way, but by saving up their earnings and putting them into judicious investments their wealth grew and increased, like the farmer's crops, while they slept. Kind reader, you can become a landowner and capitalist if you only will. No such opportunities have ever been placed before any people as we present to you. We have what will soon become very popular and high-priced suburban property, which we are selling at ground-floor prices and on terms so easy that anyone who has any desire to acquire property can buy one or more lots, pay a very small sum down and make the deferred payments without feeling it. If you want to embrace this great opportunity call and get a plat of Crosley Park and learn all about it. If you fail to do this, please reflect in after years that in the year of our Lord 1889 you had the ladder of fortune placed at your very feet and that you refused to climb it. Think of these things, and then come in and talk the matter over with us.

Double Tracks on the Duluth and Iron Range Railway.

The Minnesota Iron company, while busy turning out the largest quantity of ore ever sent forward from its mines, is not content with this work alone. It has about completed the placing of the machinery ordered last winter, and its hoisting and air-compresser plants are now unexcelled. It is prepared, indeed, to turn out next season a much greater quantity of ore than this, and there are those who confidently predict that next year it will equal the record of the Gogebic, which this year will send to market about 1,400,000 gross tons of ore. The more conservative are safe in saying, however, that the Vermilion will equal the Gogebic in 1891, for the range is only limited in its capacity for production by the capacity for handling and absorption of its customers. There is absolutely no limit to what it may mine.

All the machinery now being put in place is the heaviest and most improved kind. Most of it is from the works of E. P. Allis & Co., Milwaukee. There is a new fireproof compressor house, a building with floors and ceiling of brick arches, 58x75 feet and with basement and first floor each 16 feet high. A brick stack stands 100 feet high. In the building is being put two Reynolds-Corliss compound condensing engines, much like that at the Imperial mill, except that they are smaller; they have 18 and 36-inch cylinders and 4-foot stroke with air cylinders of 20 inch diameter. They will develop a nominal horse-power of 400. Leading from the air cylinders the main air pipe to the drills is 14 inches diameter. A third engine will be put in the building, non-condensing having 20-inch steam, 20-inch air and 30-inch stroke, to be used in case of necessity. In addition to this there are two water pumps for supplying water to the mines and for boiler purposes.

Boilers to furnish the steam to drive this machinery consist of three vertical tubulars, shells 18 feet long, 84 inches in diameter, and each one a heating surface of 1563 square feet. Each boiler is designed to carry 110 pounds steam pressure, and has 156 horse-power. The work of setting machinery is being rapidly pushed forward.

New and larger hoisting engines will be put in and the building to contain them is now going up. It is 48x115 feet, and is absolutely fire-proof. The machinery cousists of two 18x48-inch Reynolds Corliss engines, two 8-foot hoisting drums, furnished by Webster, Camp & Lane of Akron, Ohio; one 11½x 20-inch Buckeye engine used for electric light purposes and two arc dynamos. Four 16 feet by 60-inch boilers supply steam. Besides these improvements new tracks are being built, and six diamond drills and crews of men are kept constantly at work on test shafts.

While all ore ranges in the Lake Superior district are making great gains this year over previous seasons it is perhaps not so generally understood as it might be that Duluth's own district, the Vermilion, is leading in the advance and will send to market 65 or 70 per cent more ore this year than last. While last year it shipped about 512,000 tons, it has already shipped 670,000 this year and will send to market at least 150,000 tons more than that, making shipments for the year nearly or quite 850,000 tons. The Gogebic range sends forward but a small increase over last year, compared with this of the Vermilion.

For next year the prospects are another great increase. Two of the Iron company's great steel ships, swift ore carriers will be out at the opening of navigation and two more later in the season. The Duluth and Iron Range road will this winter prepare itself to handle much more traffic. Its intention of building new ore docks has already been given, it will also so lengthen its side tracks as to make practically a double track of most of the line. The part known as "the hill" for twelve miles out from Two Harbors will be double-tracked first. The new mines to be developed, and already mentioned here, and the demands of the Minnesota and Chandler companies which will next year alone send 1,100,000 tons, necessitates this enlargement of facilities. Duluth is vitally interested in the development of the Vermilion and in the increase in numbers of men employed there.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

Minneapolis Journal: The elevation of Father McGolrick to the rank of bishop is an honor to a man who is most highly esteemed by both Catholics and Protestants of Minneapolis. His new office will, however, necessitate his removal from Minneapolis, which is one feature of the case that will occasion general regret.

The Imperial Mill company received orders yesterday for one car load of flour from West Duluth, one from West Superior, four from Duluth and one from Two Harbors. A special meeting of the stockholders of the Mill company was held last night.

Last evening a brakeman named George Brown, at work at the St. Paul and Duluth yard near Lake avenue, slipped under a car and his foot was run over, being mashed fearfully. He was taken to the hospital and the foot amputated. Yesterday was Brown's first day on the road, he coming from Chicago a few days before.

Articles of incorporation of the Duluth and Southwestern Railway company, organized, as stated in The Herald a few days ago, to build to Cheyenne, were published yesterday.

Messrs. Stenson & Kind, the latter at one time connected with a local railroad, will open an emigration and tourist agency at 431 West Michigan street.

Work is going on but slowly on the Henderson building at Fifth avenue west and Michigan street, and the walls are now up to the street level.

The county commissioners meet Friday at the court house.

At the afternoon session of the cooking school today and yesterday there was no little interest manifested and a large number of ladies were initiated into the better making of bread and soups. There are nearly 100 in the class and all are enthusiastic over the work. Tomorrow they practice on salads

It is probable that Friday's excursion to Tower will, if the weather be good, be joined by 200 or 300 people. The railroad company is making arrangements for six car loads.

FOR A SUMMER RESORT.

Plans to Make a Garden of Eden on Wonderful Isle Royale.

Some time ago the Isle Royale Land company, which has been making preparations to explore a greater portion of Isle Royale, conceived the plan of establishing a summer resort hotel at Isle Royale, believing doubtless that the natural and great beauties of the place, coupled with the delightful climate, would attract many visitors each season, providing suitable accommodations were to be had. With a view of establishing a resort at some point on its great domain, the company detailed W. W. Stockley, its civil engineer, to examine the island, select what appeared to him the most desirable site, and report upon the same. He has been at work under these instructions, and last week said that after examining the greater part of the island, he had selected Rock Harbor, on the south side, as the most desirable place. He says that to his mind the scenery thereabout, embracing the rocky shores, islands, bays, etc., is the most beautiful in America, and that he will report favorably upon the place. In which case the company will start as early as possible next year to construct a large summer resort hotel, and it is expected that it will be completed during next season. Grounds are to be laid out, carriage roads, walks, etc., established.

It should not be inferred that the company has relaxed its mining operations. Instead, the managers are about to start work upon a systematic basis, their surveys and other preparations being about completed. Five log houses have been built at Todds Harbor, and five tents pitched. At Washington Harbor there are six log houses and two tents. A trail twenty miles long, through a forest, has been cut between these two points. A third camp is yet to be established at Lake Desos. There will be exploring work carried on this fall, which will be continued into November if the weather will permit. This work will be resumed as early in the spring as possible.

THE NEW LIEN LAW.

It Went Into Effect Yesterday—Some of Its Important Features.

Yesterday the new mechanics lien law went into operation. The law as it now stands differs widely from the old one, the time of action and filing being considerably changed. A claim in the future must be filed within ninety days and an action begun within one year from the time of the furnishing of the last item. A person has only the right to a lien when he has a contract with the owner, his agent, trustee, contractor or sub-contractor; but written notices must be posted and served on the owner within five days, so that his interest shall not be liable to any lien.

If the owner sells land for the purpose of building or repairing, the purchaser is responsible. The sub-contractor can also secure his claim by notifying the owner of his employment. The court has the power to order the removal of premises to satisfy the lien. A lien is not satisfied by the taking of a note or other evidence of indebtedness. Foreclosures are to be made the same as mortgages except that pleadings are to be filed immediately. The lien attaches to forty acres without the corporate limits of a city or village and to a lot not exceeding one acre within such limits. When materials are furnished for one contract for two or more structures on the same or contiguous lots, it is not necessary to file a separate lien.

Ireland Ahead Among the Nations in Education.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you kindly let me make a few observations on Mr. Ames's recent remarks on the Irish people and their struggle for home rule. First, if it is a mark of ignorance to follow the priest when he is leading them on to independence, I accept the term in its full meaning; if priestridden means following him to the jail while he rides in a prison van, to be treated to a plank bed, like a common malefactor, for no other crime than giving a loaf of bread to a starving family who were defending their home, where their forefathers lived, I accept the term also. Yes, thank God, the priests are leading and the people are following them on the road to liberty. If the great "scatterbrain" of Minneapolis would paste the following in his hat he would have more in it than ever was in his head:

"People who manifest their own ignorance by applying the epithet 'ignorant' to the people of Ireland will be amazed to learn that in the matter of education Ireland is the foremost nation in the world. This fact was confirmed recently in a circular issued by the United States Bureau of Education, showing the comparative statistics of elementary, secondary and superior education in sixty principal countries, wherein we find Ireland heading the list with an average of 29 per cent of her population of 5,159,829 attending school. The United States comes second with a percentage of 19 and three-fifths of a population of 50,155,783. The next in line is Germany, with 15 and nine-tenths of a population of 45,140,783. England and Wales are below even Switzerland. Russia sends but 1½ per cent of her population of 78,500,000 to school, giving an average attendance of pupils little greater than Ireland, with her 5,000,000 of inhabitants only. These figures, therefore, silence for ever the malignant tongues of those who heretofore have reduced poor Ireland by the term 'ignorant' as applied to her sons and daughters."

AN ECCENTRIC FARMER.

He Amasses Wealth but Leaves His Affairs Somewhat Muddled.

Sketch of Duluth's Prospective Bishop--Other News of the State.

St. Cloud, Oct. 2.—Judge Bruener of the probate court has been called to Albany to appoint a special administrator for the estate of John Reising, an old bachelor of about 60 years, who for nearly thirty years had resided alone on a farm near that town, and had suddenly died without leaving a will. Reising was a very eccentric person. For thirty years he successfully operated his 300-acre farm, but was never known to expend a cent for the comfort of himself. He lived in an old, low log shanty, which was thickly covered with spider webs and insects, and contained, besides one door and a 2x2 window, a home-made bedstead, covered with a strawtick and a few dirty blankets, a table, stove, water bucket and two frying pans. A rough board box under the bed was found which contained papers and notes aggregating a face value of nearly $7000, and about $6000 worth of notes filled out with their respective amounts, dates, etc., but not signed. This treasury was wrapped up in an old overcoat! About $200 in cash was found concealed in another part of the house. The value of his estate would probably amount to nearly $30,000. Reising has no relatives in this country, with the exception of one brother at Chippewa Falls, Wis. It is also thought that he has two sisters in Germany living. He had repeatedly expressed the desire to will to his brother and sisters several hundred dollars each, but it was in no way perceptible to him to ever part with the remainder of his fortune.

BISHOP M'GOLRICK.

Sketch of the Priest Who Will Probably be Bishop of Duluth.

Minneapolis, Oct. 2.—The news of the honor conferred on Father McGolrick was received in this city with mingled feelings of pleasure and sorrow. The good priest has a multitude of warm friends and admirers outside as well as inside his church, and the gratification at his promotion is qualified by regret at the prospective severing of the ties that bind him to the church and the city. He commands the esteem of every one, however they differ with him in creed, in politics or otherwise. His public spirit, his devotion to the cause of humanity, of temperance, of morality, of all that is good during a residence of over twenty years are recalled at the suggestion of a change of residence. Father McGolrick is an earnestly eloquent speaker and preacher. He is especially vigorous with his pen and some of his contributions to the literature of current discussions have been masterpieces of forceful expression.

He is notably a temperance leader and has organized the Crusaders, Father Mathews and Cadet societies in the city, with a combined membership of between 300 and 400. He is a member of the exposition directorate, the library board, the Minnesota Academy of Sciences, the associated charities directorate, the Catholic orphan asylum board and other organizations. He fraternizes with the Protestant pastors to a greater extent than any other priest hereabouts. He is noted for his literary and scientific accomplishments.

Father McGolrick is 45 years of age and a native of Tipperary, Ireland. He received his education at St. Marys college, London, and All Hallows college, Dublin. He came to America immediately after the completion of his studies in 1867, and was made assistant priest at the cathedral in St. Paul. After remaining there one year he came to Minneapolis and shortly afterward secured the grounds where the Church of the Immaculate Conception is now located, and erected a small frame building, in which he held services until the completion of the present edifice. He has been foremost in all Catholic enterprises ever since.

Opera House Suit Decided.

St. Paul, Oct. 2.—Judge Nelson of the United States district court, has decided the opera house case in which Lotta is involved, in her favor. It is in the case of Mary Crabtree, mother of Lotta, vs. The St. Paul Opera House company. The action was brought to recover $5000 earnest money paid Sept. 10, 1888, on a contract to purchase the opera house. He gives the plaintiff judgment for $5,364.44, on the ground that there was never a contract executed authorized by the Opera House company. The contract which was made was executed by the secretary and treasurer of the company and the court held that they had no authority to make the contract. Another case is pending in the same court between the same parties and the same points are involved. It is an action by the Opera House company against the Crabtrees to compel them to perform the contract and pay some $142,500 and to take possession. It will be tried in the next term.

LAUNCH OF A STEEL SHIP.

Whale-back Ship "103" to be Launched on Saturday Afternoon.

Ready for Business as Soon as in the Water--Port Notes.

Capt. Alex. McDougall, general manager of the American Steel Barge company, has put the time of the launch of the whale-back ship 103 at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. At that time the great vessel will be fully completed, ready to take out a cargo in a day or two. She could have been launched some days before but it has been Capt. McDougall's intention to get every detail of the vessel complete before she was put into the water.

Work on the 103 was begun the last of July, the first steel ribs and plates going on about July 26th. Thus it will be a little over nine weeks from the time the vessel was started until her launch ready for work. At no shipyard has a steel vessel of capacity of nearly 3000 tons been built from the beginning and turned out complete in such short time. On this fact Capt. McDougall and his associates pride themselves not a little, as well they may. The 103 is of much the same construction as the 102, but she is better in every way. The work is more neatly and accurately finished, the riveting is more smooth and the entire job shows trained workmen and the highest degree of skill.

The 103 will tow behind the Sitka, the 102, which was behind that ship, now being consort of the Yakima.

It is probable that the 104, to carry considerably over 3000 tons, will be in the water by the end of December, while the 105 and possibly the 106 will be ready for business next spring.

Temporary repairs of the Mononhansett after her recent storm experience near Marquette, cost $1000. She was demoralized forward.

The steamship Specular grounded a few days ago off Round Island, Waiska bay, Lake Superior. She was pulled off by the tug A. J. Smith without damage.

The barge Comrade, which was ashore in the Sault several weeks ago while being towed by the Columbia, left the Cleveland drydock on Saturday. She was badly broken open forward, and her repairs cost $3500.

Coal Rates Break.

The Northern Steamship company has just taken a contract for the carrying of 15,000 tons of coal, Buffalo to Duluth at thirty cents a ton. This is the lowest rate this season and indicates that the Northern line does not want to bring its boats up light even if their freight nets nothing. Thirty-cent coal and two and a half cent wheat won't make a fortune for expensive ships though the down freight is a fair one. The coal will probably be brought up in connection with deck loads of package freight.

Lake Erie Water Spouts.

BUFFALO, Oct. 5.—The two-masted schooner George C. Finney, with a cargo of 20,000 bu of wheat from Toledo, encountered a water spout a short distance off this port, and when it left her she was barely afloat. It was gusty and nasty on the lake all day; water spouts were numerous. The crew of the Finney say they had already avoided four when the fifth struck them. It came up just under the schooner and tossed her about like an egg shell.

A Card to the Public.

We deem it our duty to undeceive the public regarding a slight rumor concerning us, which no doubt has its origin from some of our worthy competitors, that we came here to stay a few weeks only, cannot make up clothes first class at the reasonable prices we are charging, etc., etc. We beg the public fully to understand that Duluth is good enough for us; we came here to lay a solid foundation and build up a house strong enough to last. Regarding our work, we employ none but the best of tailors, pay the highest price for workmanship, consequently we are not afraid to criticise, but do not give out a garment unless it is perfect. Our goods and trimmings are of the highest standard, as anybody can see visiting our establishment, and as cutters we do not take a back seat before the best of them. We believe in big sales and small profits, and a customer leaving his measure with us will surely get satisfaction or no clothes.

Yours very respectfully,

THE MARKETS.

For sanitary sewer work in alley between Third and Fourth streets, from Second to Fifth avenues, a levy of $2228.13 was made, the cost per lot being $73.08. For sewer and grading work in alley between Fourth and Fifth streets, from Second to Fourth avenues east, the assessment amounts to $1691.20, or $54.13 per lot for sewer and $17.19 for grading.

Low Rates East.

Commencing Sept. 24 to Oct. 15, 1889, the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic railway will sell round trip tickets to several points East, including Mackinaw City or Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., $16.50; Bay City, Mich., $27; Buffalo, N. Y., $35; Boston, Mass., $40; Montreal, P. Q., $35; Toronto, Ont.; $35; Portland, Me., $40. Tickets will be good for going passage within ten days from date of sale. Extreme limit to return, sixty days from date of sale. For further particulars call on C. P. Flatley, commercial agent, 327 West Superior street, or at Union depot.

People Who Fret.

"Care killed the cat," is a well-known old saw. The force of it is in the fact that fret and worry will kill even an animal which is popularly said to have nine lives. Fretting and worrying may not kill, but they will shorten your days, and what happiness is there in a life all cankered with care? But how avoid worry? Well, Americans travel more than any other people on the globe, and probably discomforts and delays in traveling cause us greater annoyance than all other sources of fretting combined. The great Burlington system reaches all the principal cities of the West, and if you always select it as your route, you can banish fretting forever, so smooth is its track, so sumptuous and luxurious are its cars, and so appetizing and well-cooked are the meals served on its diners. For tickets, and any information about this "People's Favorite," call on your local agent, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, General Passenger Agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

A Strikingly Beautiful Baby.

One of our leading ladies, in calling the other day upon a neighbor, who glories in a remarkably beautiful baby said, "Excuse my comparison, but your baby reminds me of the wonderful success I have had in making bread and cake lately with the Unrivaled Baking Powder; the loveliness of your baby suggests the success I have had with that powder." Full pound 25c.

That Little Tickling

In your throat, which makes you cough once in a while and keeps you constantly clearing your throat, arises from catarrh, Kanns catarrh is a constitutional disease, the ordinary cough medicines all fail to hit the spot. What you need is a consitutional remedy like Hoods Sarsaparia. Many people who have taken this medicine for scrofula. dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and other troubles, have been surprised that it should cure this troublesome cough. But to know the actual cause of the cough is to solve the mystery. Many cases of consumption can be traced back to the neglect of some such slight affection as this. Consumption can be controlled in its early stages, and the effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla in purifying the blood, building up the general health, and expelling the scrofulous taint which is the cause of catarrh and consumption, has restored to perfect health many persons on whom this dreaded disease seemed to have a firm hold.

OCTOBER.

What the Astrologers Predict and Advise for This Month.

Says Zadkiel in "The Voice of the Stars:" Saturn changes his sign on the 7th inst., by leaving Leo and entering Virgo; according to Cardan this produces "meteors and splendid sights and apparitions in the heavens." Whether this effect be produced or not the prospects of Turkey will be overclouded for more than two years to come, for Virgo is its ruling sign and Saturn is the "greater in fortune." The days of the sick man are numbered and the glory of Islam is about to be eclipsed. The Comte de Paris will feel the evil effects of Saturn in transit over the place of the sun at his birth. The Czar is also plagued by Saturn, and will find himself involved in trouble. Toward the close of the month Saturn arrives at the square aspect of the place of the sun at the birth of a great personage, whose health will require careful attention. There will be some riotous demonstrations in London very shortly and a good deal of political excitement. The 1st, 10th, 24th, 27th and 28th inst. are fortunate birthday anniversaries. The 13th, 15th and 16th are very unfortunate; let all whose birthday anniversaries fall on either of these days safeguard their health and avoid change and speculation or misfortune will result, especially to those born in either 1826, 1827, 1848, or 1864. News from South Africa will be very warlike.

Following are the admonitions for each day in the month, as set forth in Raphael's "Voice of the Heavens:"

1. Buy, deal, speculate, court, marry, hire servants, and push thy affairs to the utmost.
2. An unfavorable day; postpone matters.
3. Neither travel nor sign writings.
4. Ask favors in the forenoon; rest of day unimportant.
5. Sell up to 5 p. m., after which buy.
6. Sunday—Keep quiet.
7. Sell late in afternoon and evening.
8. An unimportant day.
9. Neither travel nor remove; an unfortunate day.
10. Travel and remove, and push thy business.
11. Remove before noon and hire servants; the afternoon is unfavorable.
12. Sell, but buy nothing.
13. Sunday—Keep quiet until the afternoon, then travel.
14. Sign writings and travel before 1 p. m.
15. Postpone matters of importance.
16. Be careful of writings and traveling, and avoid them.
17. An unimportant day.
18. Travel in afternoon or evening.
19. Buy, deal, and push thy business on this day.
20. Sunday—An uncertain day.
21. Unfavorable influences prevail this day; be very careful.
22. Court, marry, and sell before 2 p. m.
23. Sign writings and contracts, travel, and negotiate thy business.
24. Avoid superiors; buy, deal, and push thy affairs up to 7 p. m.
25. Travel, remove, and negotiate thy business.
26. Sell, but be very careful if thou buyest aught.
27. Sunday—Travel and visit thy friends.
28. Buy and deal with others late in the afternoon or evening.
29. Avoid the fair and make no contracts.
30. An unfavorable day; be very careful.
31. Court, marry, hire servants, and pay visits before 4 p. m.

LAST EDITION.

TO OPEN THEIR EYES.

North and South American Delegates Go On a Journey.

Secretary of State Blaine Welcomes Them Very Nicely.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The delegates to the Pan-American congress started on their tour of the country this morning over the Pennsylvania road. The train was composed of seven Pullman vestibule cars, a dining car and a composite car, with a total crew of twenty-six men. The start was made at 8:15 and Jersey City was reached at 1:45. Thence the party will leave over the West Shore road for West point. There are seventy persons in the party.

Mr. Blaine's Welcome.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—In welcoming the delegates to the Pan-American congress yesterday afternoon, Secretary Blaine made this neat little speech:

Gentlemen of the International American congress:

Speaking for the government of the United States I bid you welcome to this capital. Speaking for the people of the United States, I bid you welcome to every section and to every state of the Union. You come in response to an invitation extended by the President on the special authorization of congress. Your presence here is no ordinary event. It signifies much to the people of all America today. It may signify far more in the days to come. No conference of nations has ever assembled to consider the welfare of territorial possessions so vast and to contemplate the possibilities of a future so great and so inspiring. Those now sitting within these walls are empowered to speak for nations whose borders are on both the great oceans, whose northern boundaries are touched by the Arctic waters for a thousand miles beyond the straits of Behring, whose southern extension furnishes human habitations farther below the equator than is elsewhere possible on the globe.

While considerations of this character must inspire Americans, both South and North, with the liveliest anticipations of future grandeur and power, they must impress them with a sense of the gravest responsibility touching the character and development of their respective nationalities. The delegates who I am addressing can do much to establish permanent relations of confidence, respect and friendship between the nations they represent. They can show to the world an honorable and peaceful conference of seventeen independent American powers in which all shall meet together on terms of absolute equality; a conference in which there can be no attempt to coerce a single delegate against his own conception of the interests of his nation; a conference which will permit no secret understanding on any subject, but will frankly publish to the world all its conclusions; a conference which will tolerate no spirit of conquest, but will aim to cultivate an American sympathy as broad as both continents; a conference which will form no selfish alliance against the older nations from which we are proud to claim inheritance; a conference in which we will seek nothing, propose nothing, endure nothing that is not in the general sense of all the delegates timely and wise and peaceful.

THE SEIZED SEALERS.

Judge Sawyer Renders a Decision of Importance to Them.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Judge Sawyer has rendered a decision which covers the cases of all the sealers seized in Behring sea.

In 1887 the sealing schooner San Diego, owned by L. N. Handy, was seized by the cutter Rush and ordered to Sitka. She went, and nearly 600 skins were condemned, brought here by Marshal Atkins and sold. Handy tried to enjoin the sale here on the ground that Alaskan court orders did not hold here, but Judge Sawyer overruled this.

The same principle involved in this decision holds in the cases of the two sealers that came here instead of going to Sitka. It is also claimed that it applies to all the seizures by the Rush this year, as orders will hold good, no matter where seized vessels have taken refuge.

God and the Sinners Only Knew.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 3.—A sensation was created in Chambers county several days ago by the arrest of Rev. J. H. M. Duran, a Methodist minister, charged with passing counterfeit money. He was lodged in jail and his trial came off yesterday. He admitted that he had passed spurious money, but proved that he had got it out of a contribution box. There were eight silver dollars in the box and seven of them were counterfeit. He said God and the sinners who put the coins in the box were the only ones who knew. The case was dismissed.

Could Not Buy Comiskey.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—William F. Voltz of Philadelphia came here as agent for the Philadelphia baseball club to secure the release of Capt. Comiskey of the Browns. He offered President Von Der Ahe $15,000 cash for Comiskey, but the offer was positively refused. This cash offer is the largest bona fide offer ever made for a player, and Comiskey would receive the largest salary ever paid a captain.

Mr. Baker Resigned.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 3.—E. C. Baker, representing Victoria in the Dominion parliament, has resigned his seat, owing to his inability to secure redress for those of his constituents whose vessels have been seized by the United States cruisers in the Behring Sea.

Prof. Zoch's Concert.

The program which Prof. Zoch, Mrs. Nicholls and Prof. Hoare are to give tomorrow night at the Congregational church is one that promises a rare treat for music-lovers. The piano numbers include selections from the works of Bach, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Chopin, Schumann, Raff, Gounod, Wagner and Liszt. Mrs. Nicholls is to sing Gounod's "Sing, Smile, Slumber," which has a violin obligato to be played by Prof. Hoare, who is also to play Artot's "Souvenir de Bellini" as a solo. Prof. Zoch is a new artist for Duluth, but he has established a reputation in Minneapolis during his four year's residence there as a piano soloist of rare merit.

A New Dry Goods House.

Another large commercial establishment is to enter Duluth. C. Mickelson, a Manistee, Mich., merchant, has rented the large west storeroom of the Pastoret-Stenson building, and will occupy it as a dry goods store. Mr. Mickelson comes here prepared to do a heavy business, and will carry large and fine stocks. The business will be in operation by Oct. 20.

Today's program at the cooking school is salads, chicken, shrimp, celery, potato, cabbage. Tomorrow frying will be practiced, fried chicken, oysters, fish, potatoes. The lessons will last uutil next Wednesday.

RELATIONS WITH CANADA.

What Ben Butterworth Learned About the Dominion in Europe.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Ben Butterworth is back from Europe, more pronounced than ever in favor of the United States taking Canada under her wing. He took a square look at the British lion while abroad and came away under the impression that it wouldn't lift more than one paw if the Canadians were to agitate the question of hoisting the stars and stripes over the Dominion.

Mr. Butterworth's views have undergone something of a change since he introduced his original reciprocity bill. His vision has broadened, and he has taken a position against any half-way measures. In other words, he believes in political union or annexation, rather than commercial union. He does not make any legislative proposition to this effect, but the road he proposes to travel leads that way. The congressman said to a reporter:

"I shall always endeavor to secure a closer relationship between the two branches of the English speaking family on this continent in the interest of the larger opportunities and progressive civilization. What will be done this winter in the matter of extending our trade with Canada I do not know. I am earnestly in favor, and always shall be, of an unrestricted trade with Canada—absolutely unrestricted commercial intercourse between the people of the two countries.

"I do not know how the Canadian people feel about annexation. I have felt the necessity for the people of the two countries to come nearer together for some time. Our own advantage suggests that which is as apparent as the advantage it will be to Canada. It is simply a question as to when the people on both sides of the line come to realize that their interests require closer relations. I shall introduce a bill in the next congress looking to closer commercial relations. I have no doubt but that the majority of our Canadians favor the establishment of unrestricted commercial intercourse."

SESSIONS RESUMED.

Much Interest Shown at the Conference of the Episcopal Church.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The general conference of the Episcopal church resumed its sessions this morning, sitting respectively as the house of bishops and house of deputies, the latter meeting in the memorial house adjoining the church edifice. The roll calls showed the presence of sixty bishops and 400 clerical and lay delegates.

Among the former were the venerable Bishop Williams, of Connecticut, who presided; Doane of Albany; McLaren, Chicago; Grafton, of Fond du Lac; Whipple of Minnesota, the red man's apostle; Gálleher of Louisiana; Seymour of Springfield. Prominent among the clerical and lay delegates were Chief Justice Fuller; Dr. Phillips Brooks of Boston; W. R. Huntington of New York; Dr. Henry A. Colt of Concord, and others of national reputation. The annual report showed that the convention represented forty-nine confederated dioceses, under the control of sixty-five bishops.

The questions of the revision of the prayer book and the substitution of a new hymnal for that now in use are on the calendar for consideration today and tomorrow.

To Unveil the Portraits.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 3.—The ceremony of unveiling and presenting to the United States Military academy the portraits of Generals Grant, Sheridan and Sherman, painted by direction of Mr. George W. Childs, will take place at the institution at 5:30 this evening and a large number of distinguished visitors arrived this morning to participate in the event. The late hour was selected in order to ensure the presence of the delegates to the Pan-American congress who left Washington this morning. There will be a salute and military review of the cadets at 4 o'clock. Gen. Horace Porter will represent Mr. Childs and deliver an appropriate address in presenting the portraits and Col. J. D. Wilson, superintendent of the academy, will receive them and reply. Brief addresses will be delivered by Secretary Tracy, Gen. Schofield and Gen. Howard, and the visitors will then be banquetted.

Mrs. Marie Blaine Wants a Divorce.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Gen. Martin T. McMahon, counsel for Mrs. James G. Blaine Jr., says that as soon as Mrs. Blaine recovers from her present illness proceedings will be begun against her husband for divorce. It has not yet been determined whether the suit will be for an absolute or limited divorce. Mrs. Blaine's only wish now, Gen. McMahon added, is to be entirely free from the alliance. It is reported that just before her removal from Prof. Doremus's house she asked that in case her sickness had a fatal termination Mr. Blaine should not be allowed to have her child.

Delegates to World's Fair Convention.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 3.—Several hundred delegates are here to attend the world's fair convention, which is intended as a means of securing an expression of opinion from the West concerning the most available locality for the enterprise. Nearly every town within a radius of 500 miles is represented. The general sentiment favors Chicago, and a large and influential delegation from that city is here to press its claims.

Established Headquarters at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—The supreme executive council of the Ancient Order of Foresters of America, which today seceded from the mother organization in England and declared to independent identity at the recent high court meeting in Minneapolis, has established its national headquarters in this city. Since the secession, it is announced the order has received a new impetus and the increase in its membership is unprecedented.

The Convention May be Postponed.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Mr. Parnell is yet undecided as to whether he can cross the Atlantic this year to attend the proposed Irish Land League convention. The probabilities are that the gathering will be postponed until next spring.

IS NOT DEAD

But His Soul Has Transmigrated--A Chinaman's Funeral.

Sin Get, a Duluth Chinaman, died this morning. He was poor and his countrymen will bury him, probably with Christian rites. According to the Chinamen Sin Get "has saluted the age," for they never speak of a person as "dead." As customary in China, a banquet will be offered to the dead and pathetic speeches addressed to it. The Chinese are very particular about their coffins, one of these grim objects forming for them an acceptable present. The breath was not out of Sin Get's body when one of his brethren was at Kendall's undertaking establishment and a coffin bargained for the man.

Sin Get, like most Chinamen, was a follower of Buddh—although having the Christianity possessed by most Chinamen in America—whose teachings gave the doctrine of transmigration of the soul after death to the substance of some higher or lower being, according to the morality of the deceased's life.

BOTH CLAIM THE STATE.

Montana May be Republican or Democratic, But is Very Close.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 3.—The Herald this afternoon claims that Carter (republican) is elected to congress by probably 1200 majority, and that the republicans have elected all their state ticket below the governor, the latter being in doubt and claimed by both parties. Toole (democrat) claims he is elected by 500 majority. The legislature is in doubt. Both parties claim a majority.

Both Parties Claim the State.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 3.—The democrats today claim the election of Toole, their candidate for governor, by 400. They concede the election of Carter to congress by 900. They claim the legislature by a majority of 11 on a joint ballot. Republicans claim the election of Power by 300, and also claim the legislature by a small majority. The Independent still claims the election of Toole and the democratic legislative ticket.

Republican Gain in Washington.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 3.—Returns received from nearly every county in the state indicate the election of the republican state ticket by 8000 majority. The democrats reduced the republican majority in Seattle slightly. The new legislature will have seventy-five republicans on a joint ballot. The constitution is ratified, and prohibition and woman suffrage defeated. It requires a majority of the vote to select a permanont capital. East of the Cascade mountains, north Yakima is ahead, and west of the range Olympia leads. Neither will have a majority, and another election will be necessary.

Massachusetts Democrats.

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 3.—The democratic state convention yesterday unanimously nominated William E. Russell of Cambridge, for governor; John W. Corcoran of Clinton, for lieutenant-governor; William M. Osgood of Boston, for secretary of state; F. B. Munn of Holyoke, for treasurer; D. T. Trefany of Marblehead, for auditor, and Elisha B. Maynard of Springfield, for attorney general.

SUMMONED TO ROME.

The Catholics Will Watch Developments With a Great Deal of Interest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The dispatch from Rome of yesterday's date to the effect that Archbishop Corrigan had been peremptorily summoned to the Eternal city has created great interest among the faithful in this city, although no information on the subject could be obtained at the archiepiscopal residence. This dispatch however confirms the information that was given in these dispatches in the beginning of last July to the effect that the holy see was not entirely satisfied with the administration of affairs in the archdiocese and that the archbishop would be called to Rome in the fall.

Years ago the present archbishop, then a young man, gave promise of becoming a good leader and an excellent tactician. His administration of the diocese of Newark, however, did not entirely confirm these expectations, and there was more or less surprise when he was elevated to the archiepiscopal see of New York. Here he has not done much better, and his diocesan policy and personal activity in certain directions have engendered considerable opposition on the part of the clergy.

The McGlynn trouble, which has brought scandal upon the church and created a profound sensation throughout the Catholic world could, it is said, on eminent authority have been settled without publicity by the employment of different tactics, and the same statement is true of other troubles in the diocese that have been made public property to the detriment of its work and progress.

Confidential advices from Rome several months ago were emphatic in the statement that Dr. Corrigan was not in favor with his ecclesiastical superiors, and that later in the year he would be require to appear before the propaganda at Rome and give an account of his stewardship. This is confirmed by the latest advices from the Eternal city, and the step is so unusual that the developments to come will be watched with interest in all sections of the Catholic world, and alike by cardinals, bishops, priests and laymen.

FAULKNER GUILTY.

A Dansville Bank Wrecker Gets His Deserts.

BUFFALO, Oct. 3.—The jury in the case of Gen. Lester B. Faulkner came into court this morning with a verdict of "guilty, as charged in the eighteenth count of the indictment, in making false report of condition of the Dansville National bank in May, 1887, to which he signed his name."

The Dansville National bank was wrecked, and Gen. L. B. Faulkner left for Canada, from where he afterward returned and gave himself up. Gen. Faulkner's son, L. B. Faulkner, was at one time a resident of this city and was bookkeeper for A. J. Whiteman.

Malaria

Literally means bad air. Poisonous germs arising from low, marshy land, or from decaying vegetable matter, are breathed into the lungs, taken up by the blood, and unless the vital fluid is purified by the use of a good medicine like Hoods Sarsaparilla, the unfortunate victim is soon overpowered. Even in the more advanced cases, where the terrible fever prevails, this successful medicine has effected remarkable cures. Those who are exposed to malarial or other poisons should keep the blood pure by taking Hoods Sarsaparilla.

A DAY OF GOOD CASES.

A Number of Important Cases Come Up in District Court.

Several Interesting Topics Discussed by the Chamber.

It begins to look as if the end of the longest term of court ever held in St. Louis county would be reached early next week. Judge Stearns presided this morning and the first matter of record was the verdict of the jury in the case of Lazier Brothers vs. Triggs & Kennedy. The jury found for the defendant, and a stay of proceedings was granted.

The very important suit of the Central Trust company of New York vs. The City of Duluth, will be heard in vacation on eight day's notice. In this case the Gas and Water company is interested and the action is brought to recover some money retained by the city for defective work alleged to have been done by the Gas company. The Central Trust company floated a number of the Gas company's bonds, and the latter executed to the former an assignment of all moneys to be received from hydrants rented by the city from the Gas company, and the city approved the assignment. The Gas company failed to perform certain work in a manner acceptable to the city, and the latter held back money due for hydrant rentals. This is claimed to be wrong by the Trust company, and the suit is brought to determine the matter.

Edgar Brown vs. Jay M. Smith stands dismissed, unless the plaintiff consents to have it heard in vacation on eight days' notice. Case 190 is a damage suit brought by Frank Curtiss against the city of Duluth. It is for $25,000, of which $1000 is for expenses and the balance for personal injuries. It is set for tomorrow morning, and if it comes to trial Fayette Marsh, the Stillwater jury lawyer, will conduct the plaintiff's side of the question.

The George M. Lyon vs. A. N. Seip issue was on trial the greater part of this morning, White & Hewitt prosecuting and Cash & Williams defending. The plaintiff sued to recover $1000 alleged to have been unlawfully obtained by the defendant in the following manner: The defendant was agent for the plaintiff in a real estate deal for the three lots on the corner of Superior street and Fourth avenue west, on one of which the Palladio building now stands. The third and inside lot is alleged by plaintiff to have been procured by his agent, the defendant, for $20,000 and the plaintiff avers that his agent told him that the price was $21,000, and that his agent pocketed the $1000, which he, the plaintiff seeks to recover. The case was given to the jury at 11:15 and they are now out.

Melville S. Nichols vs. George C. Howe is now on trial. It is a wheat transaction in which the plaintiffs sue for moneys due.

SEVERAL TOPICS.

Interesting Topics Discussed by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce held an adjourned meeting this morning. A communication was read from Alexander D. Anderson, stating that the national board of promotion would hold a meeting at Willard's hotel, Washington, D. C., for the purpose of taking action regarding the three America's exhibition of '92. He wished the secretary of the Chamber to attend. C. M. Loring wrote the Chamber he regretted being unable to address the people of Duluth on the subject of parks, etc.

The committee on parks, streets and roads was requested to confer with the park commission and other authorities, with a view to securing an expression of opinion and an interest in the question of a public park system for Duluth. It was thought that the park commission should explain that there were a number of matters in connection with the proposed issue of bonds as well as with the condemnatory proceedings now entered upon. It was the idea of many men that they wanted to know just what would be done in reference to taking their property, property advertised and put under the cloud of disfavor by the proceedings. If the property was to be taken they wanted to know it. Others want an explanation of just what will be done with the money realized from the sale of bonds.

The matter of a bridge across the canal was also discussed. It was decided to press the matter of a canal bridge, and an animated talk followed. After no little discussion, in which the details of the plan were brought out as given in The Herald Tuesday, a resolution favoring the scheme of colonization of lands along the northern part of the state was passed.

Who Nimrod Was.

Nimrod, according to the Scriptures, was a mighty hunter, contemporaneous with Babylonian celebrities. His exploits are not given in detail, but they must have been wonderful. Mighty hunters of local fame in Minnesota at present should take a trip over the Saint Paul and Duluth railroad in search of sport. The vicinity of Moose, White Bear, Chisago and Forest Lakes furnishes small game, and in the vicinity of Hinckley and Northern Pacific Junction heavier game may be found. This promises to be a good hunting season. For these points take the Duluth Short line, the quickest route between St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and West Superior, with close connections beyond. Address A. B. Plough, general passenger agent, St. Paul.

FIGHTING FOR DULUTH.

The Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic road is making a fight for Duluth that should be fully and substantially appreciated here. True, it is fighting for its own interests, but as its own interests and those of Duluth are identical in this instance, at least, the city should support it heartily. The road gives Duluth a shorter Eastern connection than any other line and is able to compete for Northern business on better terms than any. As for passenger travel, no reason appears why a higher rate should be charged from the head of Lake Superior to points East than is charged from St. Paul and Minneapolis. So General Passenger Agent Hibbard is convinced, and the South Shore road is committed to this position.

To enforce it practically by directing a stream of travel via Duluth from the Northwest, the road will place its own agents at points on the lines of the Manitoba and Northern Pacific and sell through passages East, by supplying local tickets to Duluth and South Shore through tickets beyond. This action, if vigorously pursued, will lead, as Mr. Hibbard thinks, to the placing of regular through tickets via the South Shore in the hands of the Manitoba and Northern Pacific ticket agents. He will cut rates East to force this concession which is entirely reasonable and can be denied on no valid pretext. For travel via Duluth and Chicago arrangement has been made with the Milwaukee and Northern cutting the first-class passenger rate to Chicago $2.55 and the second class $1, and making a round trip rate of $21.50.

The South Shore road has a vital interest in the success of this fight, for with its late extension it is pre-eminently a Duluth road and looks to this trade center for its main business. And Duluth has a corresponding interest in directing and fixing permanently a full current of business through this channel, for with the closing of the great water way in winter, it forms our only independent line to the East and our only security from being tributary to Chicago. It has an impregnable strength of position in this fight, while it retains its open Canadian connections and will win if it is seconded by the Northwest as it deserves. How important it is for Duluth to maintain this central link of the shortest chain of transcontinental traffic via the head of the lakes, in sound working condition, should be constantly borne in mind and actively recognized.

"Parsimonious and close-fisted to the last! Is there no sense of shame left in that money-grubbing, stock-gambling city?" So Chicago keeps on firing hot shot at New York from the mouth of its Tribune. Why it takes so much trouble to stir up a rival in the race for the fair is not clear to lookers-on. Maybe it wants the fun of a race and shuns a dull walk-over. But it will have a race for its money—never fear—without goading the big horse by the sea.

The republicans win hands down in all the new states but Montana, and in Montana, while the finish is close, the verdict is likely to be "won by a head" at least. This assures four republican members of congress and probably five, as Carter in Montana is running ahead of the state ticket. It means also a substantial and welcome addition to the republican majority in the senate. It will be accepted as stamping the political status of the Northwest beyond question, and forming a great accession to the roll of republican states.

Yesterday the international American congress was opened at Washington. It is a friendly conference of American states with an eye to the promotion of commercial intercourse in various ways. The project is well intended but the measures to carry it out are at present so lacking in form and visionary that general attention and interest in this country have not been directed to the meeting and the immediate results to be hoped for are of no considerable importance. In fact, it has attracted far more interest on the other side of the Atlantic than here, owing to a misconstruing of its purport or a belief that out of it may grow a confederation menacing the interests of Europe. It is presumed that the convention will lead to the establishment of an American zoll-verein or commercial union with more favorable terms of exchange for its members than will be granted to outsiders. This is the hope perhaps of some of its promoters, but the practical difficulties in the way of such a union are not of a sort to be easily overcome and foreign traders need not lose any sleep at present for fear of discriminations against them. Nineteen nations take part in this conference, and practical unanimity on any measure can not be looked for with any confidence. Every nation will work for itself first, last and all the time and the harmonizing of the respective selfish interests will be a very slow and uncertain proceeding. Even if effected no conclusion of the conference will be binding upon the states represented, and the policy of our own country, by far the most important member, will scarcely be swayed to conform with the notions or interests of the South American states. But as we welcome all efforts to reach a better understanding of the aims and interests of each and all, and would strengthen every advantageous tie that binds American republicans together, we note the assembling of the congress with pleasure, and hope for the best that can come from it.

A SONG IN SEASON.

[Washington Capital.]

The season colder grows apace,
The winds begin to roar;
So, when you come into this place,
Please, mister, shut the door.

It's most too warm for fires as yet;
They'd open every pore;
But frost has come, mankind to fret,
So, mister, shut the door.

Don't leave it swinging while we sneeze
And christen you a boro;
Unless you want to see us freeze,
Why, hang it, shut the door!

Don't make us shiver till we're blue,
And hanker for your gore;
Look here, we've said all we're going to on this subject, and the next thing you know we'll be over there wiping the floor up with you
Unless you shut that door.

People Who Fret.

"Care killed the cat," is a well-known old saw. The force of it is in the fact that fret and worry will kill even an animal which is popularly said to have nine lives. Fretting and worrying may not kill, but they will shorten your days, and what happiness is there in a life all cankered with care? But how avoid worry? Well, Americans travel more than any other people on the globe, and probably discomforts and delays in traveling cause us greater annoyance than all other sources of fretting combined. The great Burlington system reaches all the principal cities of the West, and if you always select it as your route, you can banish fretting forever, so smooth is its track, so sumptuous and luxurious are its cars, and so appetizing and well-cooked are the meals served on its diners. For tickets, and any information about this "People's Favorite," call on your local agent, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, General Passenger Agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

Little Lumps of Wisdom

AND SOME MILD REFLECTIONS CONCERNING

INDUSTRY, ECONOMY AND THRIFT.

—Proverbs.

Did you ever think, dear reader, what a big, bustling world we live in. How every man seems to be bound, by the very law of his being, to work and toil and struggle to keep his head above water. We all know this by experience, and while it seems hard, yet as it is the common fate of mankind we are bound to do our level best and leave the results to God. But we, after all, are the architects of our own fortune. Some people fail in life because they are too lazy to work. Such people should learn a lesson from the industrious ant. But there are millions of industrious people who work hard and long, people of good habits and the best of citizens, and yet they fail utterly to accumulate anything for a rainy day. And why is it? Please listen and we will tell you: The secret of acquiring wealth is to put money where it will make money—in other words, where it will grow. The rich men of this country never got their wealth by day labor. More than 80 per cent of them commenced life in that way, but by saving up their earnings and putting them into judicious investments their wealth grew and increased, like the farmer's crops, while they slept. Kind reader, you can become a landowner and capitalist if you only will. No such opportunities have ever been placed before any people as we present to you. We have what will soon become very popular and high-priced suburban property, which we are selling at ground-floor prices and on terms so easy that anyone who has any desire to acquire property can buy one or more lots, pay a very small sum down and make the deferred payments without feeling it. If you want to embrace this great opportunity call and get a plat of Crosley Park and learn all about it. If you fail to do this, please reflect in after years that in the year of our Lord 1889 you had the ladder of fortune placed at your very feet and that you deliberately refused to climb. Think of these things, and come in at once and talk the matter over with us.

SOME MORE BUILDINGS.

Elegant East End Residence---Many Minor Contract Notes.

Building Record of the Year Exceeds Earlier Estimates.

Duluth's building boom continues, and the approach of winter only serves to hasten those intending building, and a large quantity of new work for this reason is now in the hands of architects or of contractors who are figuring. The record for the year will be even greater than has been prophesied in The Herald, and will outrun even the most sanguine expectations of people acquainted with the trade. Among the notable features this year are the firm structures, the elegant residences and the towering office buildings such as would be a credit to any city in the Union. Among the finer dwellings erected this year will be that of W. W. Spalding, $15,000, now nearly completed; that of C. Markell $30,000, on which work is begun, that of M. B. Harrison, $25,000, of which the foundation is already in, and the magnificent residence of G. G. Hartley, into which he has just moved, and which represents an outlay, including furnishing and arrangement of grounds of nearly $100,000. There are half a dozen houses costing from $10,000 to $15,000.

One of the more worthy of the new residences is that of M. B. Harrison, shown on this page. It is a 3-story wood house, with cut sandstone basemnet and carved wood trimmings. Its front, as shown in the cut, is toward the lake, and the location is below Bench street in East Endion. The entire depth of the house from the outside posts of the porte cochere to the rear of the kitchen veranda is 103 feet, while the total width, including all verandas and porches, is seventy-six feet. The house is nearly surrounded by porches and is entered by a wide door which leads to an oak finished vestibule and thence to a hall 20x24 feet in size and finished in oak and stucco decorative work. To the right is a large parlor, with one end semicircular and behind it a "den," one finished in natural red brick the other in oak. On the other side of the hall are sitting and diningrooms, the one finished in birch and the other in oak. There are half a dozen open fire places in the various rooms. On the second floor is a hall the same size as the lower one, five chambers and a nursery, all finished in white pine, besides numerous bathrooms, etc. Three chambers are finished on the third floor. The main stairway reaches the second floor by a sweeping curve and stained glass and carved work is conspicuously present. The house will be heated by steam and lighted by electricity and will cost about $25,000.

Notes.

Architects are busy as they can well be and they are figuring on next year as the best season Duluth ever had. If the outlook of six months ahead can tell anything it tells plainly that Duluth has never enjoyed such a building season as she will in 1890. It is quite possible that there may not be so many large buildings that is, structures six and seven stories high and costing well up toward $200,000 each, though several of them are now figured on, but it will see more business blocks of three and four stories on our main street than ever before. Already several of these are in architects hands. Money for building loans was never so cheap in Duluth as now, and will probably not be much cheaper for a long time to come. Long time loans on good property can be had at from 6 to 6½ per cent, commissions included, and in some few instances have been had for less than that. When money is bringing 5 per cent in Philadelphia and New York, this must be regarded as a very low rate and as an indication that Duluth is regarded by Eastern capitalists as good a city as the best.

H. E. Long has nearly completed the demolition of the half burned buildings, 7 and 9 East Superior street, and will begin at once the erection of a neat brick building on the site. This will be built under a temporary roof, so that as soon as the first story is up, and it will be this fall, the stores will be occupied. The upper stories will be finished in the spring.

At the Chamber of Commerce building roofs are now being put on, and the elegant structure is rapidly approaching completion. It will cost fully $200,000, including everything, and will probably be ready for occupancy by March, a year from the time of its beginning. The beautiful Gothic entrance is nearly completed.

The contractors have begun clearing away and excavating for David Buchanan's building No. 108 West Superior street. It will be 25 by 115 feet, three stories on Michigan street with walls strong enough for three more stories. Mr. Buchanan will himself occupy the two lower floors.

Bids for the county jail were called for Monday but the time of receiving them is postponed until Oct. 15. The building cannot be ready for occupancy before spring. It will be a handsome structure and its interior arrangements will be a credit to Duluth and the county.

Contracts will be let at once for an extension to the alley of the east part of the Metropolitan building back of Andrew Jackson's and Simon Clark's stores. The extension will be only one story high and will be made immediately.

A very large ledge of rock is found in the excavation for the Hoppman building West Superior street and blasting is now going on there. The building will be of very handsome architecture and will be four stories in height.

The four brick dwellings of C. M. Gray on Fourth street, near Fifth avenue west, are going up rapidly, and will be completed this fall. The basement work on all is finished. They will cost $20,000.

Work on W. W. Spalding's elegant house on Second street and Fifth avenue west is well along and the inside finish is now being put on. The house will be ready for occupancy by December.

Bids will be opened for the foundation of the Endion school. Excavating is already done and the foundation will be put in and covered this fall. A number of bids will be opened.

A pile driver will be at work in a day or two on the foundation for Brown Bros.' new store. It will cost abont $25,000.

The Graff-Frisbee building is being entered today by its tenants, Heller & Loeb who have the main floor going in today.

Contracts for the foundation and superstructure of the new First Presbyterian church will be let in a short time.

At the Masonic Temple brickwork has reached the fifth floor and the entire structure will be euclosed by winter.

Will Open on Time.

The Temple Opera is progressing so rapidly that Manager Haycock announces today that it will be ready for the opening on the date fixed long ago, when the excavation for the foundation began. If this expectation is realized, as it doubtless will be, it will be a record which the contractors and everybody concerned may justly be proud of. It is very rarely that an enterprise of this magnitude is undertaken and brought to a successful completion within the stipulated time. On Oct. 21, therefore, Duluthians may expect to see Miss Rose Coghlan as "Jocelyn" in the finest theater west of Chicago.

WEST END.

Bradley & Hanford have just completed a new lumber shed near their planing mill on Garfield avenue.

Aug. J. Tallakson, who has been in the employ of T. B. Perry for some time past, will open a shoe repairing shop on Garfield avenue.

J. A. Morterud will open a collection agency over Stewart & Britts's bank next week.

Mrs. Lewis was treated with a surprise party by her Sunday school scholars last night. A very enjoyable time was had.

Policeman John Wade is receiving a visit from his sister of St. Paul.

The Estey society will give a musical entertainment tomorrow evening at the reading-room. A fine program has been prepared.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

Miss May Moudey appeared at the district clerk's office yesterday afternoon and secured a marriage license, allowing herself and James S. Boyer to contract a matrimonial partnership. The gentleman in the case was too busy to go after the license himself.

Mrs. J. S. Dinwoodie will soon organize a class of children for training in vocal culture. The class will meet at the Endion church and meet weekly. Mrs. Dinwoodie has a high reputation as a teacher.

The cooking classes are very successful and a great many ladies are becoming more proficient in the various arts of cookery.

Mr. Russell Wallace, who has for the past fifteen mon.hs been purchasing agent of the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic railroad, has resigned his position. His successor is P. W. Brown of Missouri Valley, Iowa. He is a thorough railroader, and the Zenith City Short line has secured a capable man for the position.

The county commissioners meet tomorrow.

The American Institute of Mining Engineers, which held its annual meeting in Duluth a year or two ago, is now holding the session of 1889 and is on its way from Ottawa to Port Arthur and the Thunder Bay silver district. They will be in Fort Arthur next Wednesday. Several of the members will go home via Duluth.

Two built-up iron beams, each weighing about ten tons and about sixty feet long, were hauled up to Masonic building this morning. They will be used as ceiling beams in the Masonic hall. It will be no little job to get them into place.

Congratulatory telegrams were sent to Father McGolrick last night by the parish of the Sacred Heart and the St. Vincent de Paul society.

Passengers on incoming boats from the East report a very rough passage all the way from Buffalo. Passenger travel by steamship is now very light and boats are not running on schedule time.

The excursion to Tower mines will be had tomorrow.

A farmer living a few miles north of the city recently found a copper tool while plowing a few miles north of the city. The tool is a knife about nine inches long, and appears to have been tempered as many others, found here in late years, have been.

A ball is to be given on the evening of Oct. 24, at Turner hall, by the Plasterers union.

If you want your sofas, lounges, chairs, mattresses, etc., repaired promptly, reasonably and well, call on Victor Unden 554 East Superior street.

A Wise Man

Has said "Once I was young but now I am old, but never have I seen the righteous forsaken nor his seed begging bread." The seed of the righteous are today not exactly begging bread, but they are begging their grocers to buy Unrivaled Baking Powder which makes good bread. Twenty-five cents per pound.

Breathing the Germs of Disease.

To inhale the germs of disease with their daily breath is the fate of denizens of malaria-scourged localities everywhere. The endemic atmospheric poison may, however, be reft of its venom and rendered innoxious by a defensive use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This preeminently safe and effective remedy and safeguard not only eradicates the disease when developed, but enables the system to safely brave its assaults. Every physical function is confirmed in or restored to regularity, the circulation quickened if sluggish, and the bilious habit, which of itself begets a proneness to both intermittent and remittent types of malarial disease, where extrinsic atmospheric causes exist, powerfully counteracted by this inimitable fortifying and defensive agent, which has, moreover, none of the disagreeable characteristics of a drastic cathartic or an alkaloid. Fever and ague, dumb ague and ague cake and the calenturn of the Isthmus are conquered by it surely, pleasantly. Rheumatism, neuralgia, gout, kidney and bladder troubles, constipation and indigestion yield to it.

LA POINTE INDIANS.

Annual Report of the Agent of Ashland and Duluth Indians.

The annual report of Agent Leahy of the La Pointe Indinn agency shows that all the Indians have made some progress in the direction of civilization during the year, and most of them assume the garb of whites. Only the Bad River, Red Cliff and Bois Fortes bands, the latter at Sucker Point, Lake Vermilion, have received government supplies during the year. The Indians are generally well housed and clothed, and there were 194 births and 132 deaths among them during the year.

Agent Leahy speaks of the importance of lumbering, and says that with the opportunities they have had many of them should be wealthy, but they have been imprudent and have expended much money for bad whisky. During the four seasons beginning 1885-6, the Indians disposed of 453,675,249 feet of timber worth on the banks $3,227,431.85. The net gain to Indians was $976,772.93. Of this amount the Indians received in cash $609,750.80. When it is understood that under the treaty only Indians over 21 years of age are permitted to have allotments, and only about 2000 of these Indians are over that age, it will be seen that nearly $1,000,000 has been distributed among less than 2000 Indians in four years. The facts are that less than 1000 Indians received this sum. The agent says the timber should be disposed of as soon as possible, as it is going to waste, 3,000,000 feet having been burned on Lac Court d'Oreilles reserve this summer. The proceeds from the sale of timber should be applied to making improvements on the allotments.

The report says that there are 1100 acres under cultivation on the reservations. One thousand bushels of wheat and 1300 bushels of potatoes were raised during this year. The Indians have 491 head of horses. As long as the timber remains, logging will continue to overshadow all other interests. Although the school buildings are in bad condition, the schools are flourishing and have good teachers. The report suggests that the amounts due the Indians for privileges enjoyed by the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic, Duluth and Winnipeg and Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western roads be expended in purchasing flour and pork.

FROM DESPAIR TO JOY.

The Painful Story of a Lovely Lady, and How She Finally Secured Happiness.

Mrs. Morton D. Harlan, residing at No. 55 West 25th Street, New York City, has passed through a most wonderful experience. Mrs. Harlan had a happy home and through her devotion to her home duties over-taxed her strength. She had depressed feelings, entire lack of energy in life, and finally a cough at night and morning which grew worse each day. Upon looking in the glass she saw dark circles under her eyes and found that she was growing thinner and losing all interest in life. This painful state of things continued for months until finally she became so weak she could not attend to her duties and was confined to her bed the greater part of the time. One day Mrs. Harlan's very dear friend Mrs. Willard called and was amazed to see her so wan and faded. Two bright hectic spots stood upon each cheek, her lips were blue, her face pinched and drawn, and there was a piteous look in her eyes. Mrs. Willard knew this meant consumption and her heart was touched for her friend. At her earnest request, the use of an English Remedy for consumption was tried. At the start very little effect could be seen, so great an inroad had the disease made, but by degrees Mrs. Harlan began to regain her lost appetite, then her strength, then her hope, then her health, and she is today in perfect physical condition, wholly as a result of the use of Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption.

The lesson of this simple story should be plain to all. No man or woman can afford to neglect those first symptoms of consumption, which seem so slight but which becomes so terrible unless taken in time. This Great Remedy has saved the lives of hundreds of well known men and women who were on the verge of the grave from consumption but who are well and happy to-day. It is sold universally.

A Quiet and Steady Wheat Market Today With Few Features.

Notes of Trade, a Day's Movement, Wheat News in General.

The wheat market today has been steady and dull with the usual good demand for cash wheat and a considerable call for 1 northern of late futures. The purchases of the Imperial Mill company of line wheat on track are now no unimportant item in the regular business of the board and the mill takes a large amount. Receipts today are 149,000 bu and in Duluth as in other terminal points there is a move to accumulation, and the increase of the visible supply will probably be quite large. Several charters are made ahead and Duluth elevators will lose no little wheat next week.

Wheat opened with a good demand and advanced for No. 1 hard cash and for December and ½ off on May. There was a good deal of wheat to sell, and under free offerings prices declined.

Cash 1 hard opened at 82¼, ruled dull and after a long pause sold at 81¾. It closed dull at 81⅛ bid. No. 1 northern opened at 79, followed by large trading at 78½, selling off to 78¼. No. 2 northern opened at 75½. No. 3 dull, freely offered at 69, bid 65. October opened at 82¼, ruled dull, and closed dull at 81¾. November closed with sellers at 82. December opened at 83¼, declined to 82¾, finally sold off to 82½, where it closed. May opened at 88¾, declined to 88⅛, advanced to 87¾. During the last hour it ruled dull and weak. It closed with sellers at 88⅜.

The Day's Movement.

Cars on track this morning were 217; Northern Pacific, 67; Eastern, 150. Corn on track, none. Receipts were 148,738 bu wheat, no corn. Shipments, by vessels were as follows: St. Magnus, 32,000 bu, to Kingston.

Minneapolis Close.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 3.—Closing quotations: No. 1 hard, October, 78¾; November, 80; December, 80¾; May, 86¾; on track, 81. No. 1 northern, October, 75¾; November, 77; December, 77½; May, 83¾; on track, 77½. No. 2 northern, October, 73; November, 74; December, 75; May, 80; on track, 73@75.

Chicago Close.

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—1:15 p. m. close—Wheat lower; October, 80⅞; December, 82; May, 84¾. Corn firm; October, 31⅛; December, 31¼; May, 35⅞.

West Duluth Notes.

There will be a dance tonight given by J. M. Lewis at Anderson & Smith's hall on Central avenue on the bridge.

Sutton & Crowl have rented the basement of the Manufacturers Bank building, and will use it as a storeroom.

Dr. Rockwell has purchased lots 29 and 30, block 126, on Grand avenue, from the West Duluth Land company, for $2000, and sold lots 29 and 30, block 111, to the land company.

Mr. Collins of the Southwestern Mutual Life Insurance association, of Marshalltown, Iowa, is in the city trying to organize a local board of that society.

Mr. E. W. McCormick, assistant paying teller of the Columbia National bank, Washington, D. C., is visiting his cousin, Mr. S. S. Williamson.

Judge Neff returned last night from his trip to Barnum, where he is erecting a large public school building.

Porter, Sang & Co. bought some cedar a few days ago, and as they had paid the men who cut it and the tug and scow bills for the towing, thought they owned it—and think so yet. Tuesday night, as it was being unloaded, a man named Washburn, foreman for Wilson, Stevens & Co., who are doing paving in West Superior, came over and claimed that the cedar belonged to that firm and that he wanted it, and thought that between himself and the shotgun he carried he would get it. He quieted down suddenly on the appearance of the police, and the cedar will go on West Duluth streets.

Telephones have been placed in both the upper and lower depots of the Incline railway.

For choice bargains or rents call on A. G. Rand at the Phillips hotel, or Rand & Brophy on Central avenue. Money to loan on long time.

Drop a postal to West Duluth Manufacturing company, Duluth, giving your address and ordering Storm Sash. They will send man to take measurements and deliver them to fit any sized window.

The Wilmington addition to West Duluth offers exceptionally flattering inducements to investors, and is attracting the consideration of the more careful investors on account of its nearness to the Car works, and the Short line, its nice lying lots, its fine view, cheap prices and easy terms.

For Terminal Improvements.

For the beginning of its long contemplated improvements at the head of the lakes, the Northern Pacific road has just contracted for a large quantity of piling, to be used probably in the construction of docks, although no one in the city seems to know the real purpose.

Should Women Propose?

Well, that depends. It is a hard matter to decide, and one which concerns only the woman herself. It is generally admitted, though, that women do the proposing now as ever—with their eyes. It is also generally conceded that the Saint Paul and Duluth railroad offers the best facilities for travel to and from the great lakes. The Duluth Short line has fast trains daily to and from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and West Superior, and is the popular route in every sense. For circulars, address A. B. Plough, General Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

Coal Receipts.

The various coal companies located here are pushing the shipment of coal West and South as fast as the railroads can furnish cars, but there appears to be some delay and the coal people are growing anxious. The season advances, docks are so filled up with coal that but comparatively little can be received. Duluth's coal territory is much larger this fall than ever before, especially in the South and Southwest, and had it not been for the fact that 400,000 tons were left on docks last spring, the receipts of the year would be nearly 2,000,000 tons. They will, however, about equal those of the last year, reaching a total of 1,500,000 tons.

THE NEWS OF THE STATE

The Methodists Discuss the Advisability of Dividing the State.

Eloped With a Robber, Big Peat Fire, Wagon Works, Etc.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 4.—At yesterday's session of the Methodist conference much business was done, and interest manifested in the questions at issue. The discussion throughout the day was mostly on the division of the Minnesota conference into a northern and southern conference. There were many strong speeches both for and against, but it looks now as though no division will be made as there seems to be a fast growing sentiment against it. Today the temperance question is being discussed.

FOR OLD SUPERIOR.

A Wagon Factory to Remove There From St. Croix, Wis.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 4.—Mr. T. B. Walker denies the report that he and other local capitalists are to remove the La Belle Wagon works in which they own large interests from their present location at St. Croix, Wis., to this city.

In talking of the matter he said that two years ago he with Messrs. Allen, Seely and other gentlemen, put about $125,000 into these works with the intention of finally removing them to this city, but they made an unfortunate selection in getting a man to take charge of the plant and he began to load them down with surplus stock and material in a way that prevented immediate removal. Then they let him go and got another manager when No. 1 began to worry them with law suits, finally enjoining them from removing the shops. By the time the legal complications were settled most of the capitalists had drawn out, leaving the whole thing on the hands of Mr. Walker and one or two others, who are unwilling to shoulder the entire responsibility of removing the shops.

Since then these gentlemen have been endeavoring to interest some other monied men in the scheme, but so far have been unsuccessful, and the shops are likely to go to Superior, where there are several men willing to take hold of the matter. Mr. Walker said it was a very valuable manufacturing interest and would employ at least 200 men at the beginning, with prospects of a large future increase.

Eloped With a Highway Robber.

LITTLE FALLS, Oct. 4.—A sensation was created here yesterday by the discovery that Mrs. J. P. Sand, wife of the deputy sheriff, had taken her husband's revolver, keys, and $50, and after liberating John Mitchell, sentenced at the late term of the district court to the state reformatory at St. Cloud, eloped with him. Mrs. Sand was seen to board the midnight train north, and it is supposed that Mitchell took the train from the side opposite. Mitchell was convicted of highway robbery. Mitchell is 20 years old and the woman 40. She has o husband and three children, the oldest about 20.

Peat Bogs on Fire.

ALBERT LEA, Oct. 4.—The reports from the fires raging in the bed of what was once Rice Lake, in the eastern part of this county, are terrible. There has already been thousands of tons of hay destroyed, one man losing nearly 200 tons. Unless heavy rains come the fire will last all winter. It has now burned to a depth of five or six feet.

About Minnesota.

George Hall was severely hurt yesterday at Anoka by a cave-in while at work in a trench for the waterworks.

Dairy Commissioners Ives and Shorn of Minnesota and Wisconsin respectively, have issued a call for a convention of state dairy commissioners to be held in Cleveland Nov. 27, 28 and 29.

Ada Miller, a 12-year-old girl, was found at Anoka masquerading in boy's clothes yesterday. This morning in the police court she admitted being connected with a gang of juvenile thieves. She was sent to the reform school.

Black bears are unusually numerous near Fergus Falls this year.

Mrs. John Thomas, a 70-year-old resident of Pine Island, attempted to kill herself with a knife. She will not recover.

Frank Markel committed suicide in the town of Richmond by cutting his throat with a razor.

The laborers on the new water works at Anoka yesterday struck for an increase from $1.35 to $1.50 per day.

A black stallion owned by N. Neil of Rochester, while hitched to a road car, ran away, throwing Mr. Neil out and breaking two of his ribs. It also ran over a small child and injured it so badly its recovery is doubtful.

The fifty workmen in G. A. Carlson's stone quarries, Red Wing, who struck Saturday for arrears in wages due them, have returned to work, matters having been amicably settled.

NO MORMONS WANTED.

Elders Driven Out of a Tennessee County by White Caps.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 4.—News comes from Wilson county that Mormon elders have been driven out by "White Caps." The elders disappeared some time ago, when a delegation was against them, but a few days ago returned, believing the storm to have blown over. However, the people who warned them proposed to make their threats good.

Forty or fifty men, masked and robed in white, last night visited the houses of William Barrett, Thomas Smith and Lee Barrett, where the elders have been, searching for them. Someone had given warning and not an elder was to be found. These men were cautioned against allowing elders to ever darken their doors again. The elders left the county yesterday.

Hard on the Cattle.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 4.—Reports from the ranching districts along the international boundary indicate a great scarcity of food and water, and stock is already suffering in consequence. The outlook is so discouraging that some ranches offer to give their cattle away, knowing that death from starvation is almost certain.

FORTY KILLED.

Explosion of a River Boat Causes Great Loss of Life.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4.—The steamer Corona, which left this city last evening for the Ouachita river, exploded her boilers at False river, nearly opposite Port Hudson, yesterday, causing the loss of the steamer and about forty lives. The Anchor line steamer City of St. Louis happened to be near by and her crew saved many lives. The Corona was on her first trip of the season and had but recently been repaired at an expense of $12,000. She was valued at $20,000.

Capt. T. C. Sweeny, one of the owners of the line, who assumed command on the death of the captain, says the explosion was not due to a too high pressure of steam. He had just had occasion to examine the guage, and is positive there was not a pressure of 150 pounds. The boat had a moderate cargo. She was in midstream just below the landing Arbroth, and had just whistled to pass the City of St. Louis, fortunately coming down at the time. The explosion had a downward tendency and blew out the bottom of the boat, causing her to sink immediately. Captain Sweeny happened to be forward at the time and went to put out the flames which began to burn in several places. None of the books, papers and other valuables were recovered. When nothing more could be done the City of St. Louis went to Baton Rouge, where physicians were summoned and everything possible done for the injured.

TWO KILLED,

One Fatally and Twenty More or Less Injured in Calumet and Hecla.

NEGAUNEE, Mich., Oct. 4.—Two men men were instantly killed, another was fatally injured and about twenty more or less hurt at the bottom of Calumet and Hecla perpendicular shaft yesterday.

The usual blasts of dynamite were fired Wednesday evening, but one failed to explode. At noon one of the miners accidentally struck the charge with his pick. A deafening crash followed, the dynamite exploding and sending masses of shattered rock in deadly showers all around the spot. Otto F. Link and Alfred Erickson were killed instantly.

Charged with Embezzling Funds.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 4.—The taking of evidence in the case of William R. Webb, ex-secretary of the territory, charged with embezzling funds of the United States to a total of over $5000, was commenced today before United States Commissioner Connelly. Webb was appointed as secretary of Montana by President Cleveland in 1885, and was removed by President Harrison a few months ago. The shortage was not discovered until his successor commenced an examination of the books, and the developments were confirmed by Special Treasury Agent Moore. Webb's arrest was ordered by Attorney-General Miller. He claims that his accounts are straight.

Without Distinction of Sex.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—Co-education has just received the almost unanimous approval of the college faculty of the University of Pennsylvania. This important action, the most advanced that has yet been taken in the liberalizing of the institution, was the result of a faculty meeting, when this resolution was adopted with but two dissenting votes:

That students be admitted without distinction of sex to all courses of the college faculty.

The resolution will go before the trustees, and, if they shall approve it, all the classes, from freshman to senior, will be open to students of both sexes.

Look Out for Storms.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4.—According to the noted weather prophet, Rev. Ira Hicks of this city, a great storm period will be central tomorrow, with the planet Mercury central at a disturbing point today. This combination will in all probability produce severe northwesterly storms covering the lake regions for the next five days. Many parts of the country will also be visited by heavy sleet. It is probable moreover that the first polar wave of the season will make its appearance in a few days, encountering retiring equatorial storms toward the Atlantic coast.

"3, 7, 77."

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 4.—The figures "3, 7, 77," the warning of vigilantes to hard cases, were chalked on street corners and printed in the evening papers yesterday. This call to a return to the methods of early days was occasioned by the discovery of four fires in as many houses in the heart of the business section. The city was patrolled by special police last night, and if a firebug is caught his chances for lynching will be good.

Mr. Conybeare Did Not Get Free.

DUBLIN, Oct. 4.—The sentence of Charles Conybeare, member of the house of commons for Camborne division of Cornwall, who has been imprisoned for three months at Londonderry for conspiring to oppose the law, expired today. While he was undergoing the formalities prior to his discharge he infringed one of the prison rules and was again placed in a cell.

Mexican Amenities.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 4.—Francisco Pedras and Tiburcio Mendez escaped from the Mathula prison yesterday and took refuge in a tree. They were discovered and offered to surrender, but were shot down by the police. Pedras was killed and Mendez is dying.

This morning a man named Barrosa of Villa de Zapahen, was beaten to death by the proprietor of a meat market while he was helping himself to raw beef.

An Earl in Court.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Earl of Gallway was arraigned before Dumfries court today, charged with indecent behavior toward a little girl named Gibson. He pleaded not guilty, and his trial was set for Oct. 14.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

During a prayer meeting in the Presbyterian church, Moss Point, Miss., a shot was fired from the outside through the open front door, instantly killing Dan K. MacInnis, mortally wounding his little daughter and seriously wounded another. There is no clue to the assassin.

It is announced that the British steamer Earmore, from Baltimore for Rio Janeiro, foundered at sea in a gale on Sept. 5. All hands were lost except seven men, who were landed at Nassau. The total loss of life is about twenty-eight.

All the Rotterdam dock laborers who recently went out on strike have resumed work.

Gen. Schofield has been officially designated by the president as secretary of war during the absence of Secretary Proctor.

The scholars of the public schools in Glasgow, Aberdeen and other towns in Scotland have quit attendance and declare that they will not return unless the number and length of lessons are reduced and the use of the cane is abolished.

Charges have been preferred against Chief Justice Wright of Arizona, and an investigation has been ordered. He is accused of overriding the laws of the territory.

A terrible explosion occurred in a shaft of the Calumet and Hecla copper mine yesterday afternoon by which three men were instantly killed, two fatally injured and seven more badly hurt.

Reports from the ranching districts along the international boundary indicate great scarcity of feed and water, and stock is already suffering in consequence.

He was head of the wholesale paper house of Averill, Carpenter & Co., the most prominent manufacturing wholesale house in the state. He was an early settler in Minnesota, and was frequently honored with political preferment, serving as state senator for several terms and in the national congress from 1871 to 1875. This work was petitioned for nearly six months ago and was an improvement much needed.

Sin Get Buried.

Sin Get, the Chinaman who died yesterday was buried this morning in the new cemetery. The hearse was followed to the grave by two hacks containing eight of the deceased's countrymen. No rites were observed and the body was buried without funeral service. Sin Get is one among a very few Chinamen to be buried outside the Mongolian empire, as the children of the Orient believe it to be a high misfortune to be interred in another country. Sin Get, however, was a naturalized American and as such seemed to be outside the pale of either Mongolian or Christian burial rites.

PRIVATE DALZELL.

He Has More Ammunition in His Cartridge Box for His Accusers.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 4.—Private Dalzell of Caldwell, Ohio, writes a letter to The Republic in which he defends his course in publishing the Tanner letter. He says:

"My prudence in defending poor Tanner has been called in question, and my statements flatly contradicted or sneered at as absurd. Call me what they please, they shall not successfully call me a liar. I am fortified. I have reserved enough ammunition yet to finish the fight. My veracity was questioned when I said that Tanner and the President promised me the deputy commissionership of pensions. This Corporal Tanner confesses in substance."

AN EXPECTED VERDICT.

An Interesting Grain Case at the District Court Today.

Major Seip Gets a Verdict After a Hard and Stubborn Fight.

Judge Stearns held a brief but important session of the district court this morning. The case of Melville S. Nichols vs. George C. Howe came up yesterday, White, Shannon and Reynolds for the defense and Hon. C. H. Hamilton of Milwaukee, and L. H. Zastrow for the prosecution. The defendant wired to Melville S. Nichols in May, 1882, as follows: "Sell 20,000 No. 2 for July delivery at $1.28⅝. The plaintiff did so and Mr. Howe failed to make delivery and the plaintiff was forced to make good his contract with wheat worth $1.35, thereby incurring a loss of $1270. The defendant attempted to deny having given any such order to sell, but was confronted with his own letters and proofs. Attorney White summed up for the defense as strongly as possible under the circumstances, but made just at closing a rather remarkable appeal to the jury, equivalent to asking them to remember that his client was a Duluth man and that the plaintiff, who was a Chicago man, should not be allowed to come up and rob his client. The logical summing up of Counsellor Hamilton was characterized as one of the best pieces of jury oratory which has been heard this session. Judge Stearns charged that dealings in grain futures were proper when entered into with honest intentions, and further said that if the jury found for the plaintiff they must compute the interest at the Minnesota rate of 7 instead of the Illinois rate of 6 per cent. The verdict when opened this morning was found to be for the plaintiff for the full sum, amounting to $1842.75.

In Frank Curtiss vs. the City of Duluth, $26,000 damages, the city attorney moved to dismiss, but the court overruled and allowed the plaintiff's attorney ten days in which to submit a reply brief. Coulter vs. Banks was dismissed for want of prosecution. This was for $3000 personal damages for ejectment. The struck jury case of B. F. Carroll vs. Williston, Charnley & Co., in which the plaintiff wants damages for a wounded foot, was set for Tuesday morning.

The regular calendar will be taken up Monday. Twenty-two jurors were then excused from further service this term.

Court met at 2 o'clock, pursuant to recess, and a special venire for twenty jurors was ordered returnable at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the criminal calendar will be resumed.

The first cases to come up will be the State of Minnesota vs. Thomas Cameron and George Merritt, indicted together for receiving stolen property. They will be tried separately, Attorney Powell for the state and Attorney Zastrow for the defense.

It is quite probable that two of the convicted prisoners, now in the county jail, will be sent to the new reformatory at St. Cloud.

Stole Two Watches.

Tim Kennedy, the Union depot police officer, arrested yesterday afternoon a slick-fingered Superior gentleman for appropriating to his own use a suit of clothes and two watches that did not belong to him. He was taken back to Superior by Detective Benson.

Terminal Railway Tracks.

The Duluth Terminal Railroad company will at once begin work on surface tracks along the east side of Rices Point connecting with the elevated track at the point where its spur reaches the ground. This is carrying out the provisions of the franchise of the Terminal company, and when completed there will be much better freight facilities to elevators, coal and merchandise docks.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Clearing condition increasing in magnitude; has moved eastward to Wisconsin. Another is developing in Montana. Forecast for twenty-four hours: Minnesota and Dakota: Fair, stationary temperature, variable winds.

The "Big Six" entertainment takes place at Ingalls hall tomorrow evening, instead of at Turner hall. A dance will follow the entertainment.

For One Day Only.

Having purchased the exclusive right to use Dr. Steinan's local anaesthetic in St. Louis county, I will, for one day only, Saturday, Oct. 5, extract teeth free of charge and do all other operations pertaining to dentistry positively without pain. This is no humbug, but the honest truth. I know whereof I speak. Best of references furnished.

A CLOSE DIVISION.

Careful estimates prepared for The New York Press by Robert P. Porter, the present superintendent of the census, put the population of the forty-two states of the Union at 63,689,548. The house of representatives will be largely increased by the new apportionment unless the ratio is changed. If it is decided that the house is big enough already, by making 192,999 as the ratio of representation the house would consist of 330 members, as at present, reckoning the five members from the new states. With the eighty-four senators the corresponding number of the electoral college would then then be 414 and the number necessary to a choice 208.

Taking this as a basis, The Boston Journal has figured out the political division of the next college, as follows, classing Indiana, New York and Connecticut as doubtful states, and conceding Connecticut, New Jersey and Virginia to the democratic column, though this acquisition is by no means certain:

| REPUBLICAN STATES. | | DEMOCRAATIC STATES. | |
|---|---|---|---|
| California | 9 | Alabama | 10 |
| Colorado | 3 | Arkansas | 7 |
| Dakota | 8 | Connecticut | 6 |
| Illinois | 22 | Delaware | 3 |
| Iowa | 12 | Florida | 4 |
| Kansas | 11 | Georgia | 12 |
| Maine | 6 | Kentucky | 12 |
| Massachusetts | 13 | Louisiana | 8 |
| Michigan | 13 | Maryland | 8 |
| Minnesota | 8 | Mississippi | 9 |
| Montana | 3 | Missouri | 16 |
| Nebraska | 7 | New Jersey | 9 |
| Nevada | 3 | North Carolina | 11 |
| New Hampshire | 4 | South Carolina | 8 |
| Ohio | 22 | Tennessee | 12 |
| Oregon | 4 | Texas | 14 |
| Pennsylvania | 30 | Virginia | 12 |
| Rhode Island | 4 | | |
| Vermont | 4 | Totals | 161 |
| Washington | 3 | | |
| Wisconsin | 11 | | |
| Totals | 199 | | |

On this showing, the republicans come within nine of a majority while the democrats lack forty-seven. Again New York and Indiana are pivotal states with the odds in favor of the republicans, who need only one pivot while the democrats must have both to win. Something may turn up to change the present outlook before election day for the kaleidoscope of politics will be shaken for three years, but the signs of the time point to another close contest. Next time, however, the republicans hold the fort and that of itself counts for much in all close elections. Moreover the narrowness of the division is a constant spur to the party in power to put its best foot foremost at every step, and challenge criticism. Overweening and careless confidence has caused many a big ship and party to drift on the rocks, which have run safely through a score of threatening straits. On this trip there will be no wreck for Harrison is at the helm and there is no keener pilot in this country.

This is the year of big harvests and no mistake. We hear that the potato crop of New England has been hurt by the rains, and will be a few small potatoes less than usual, but they never will be missed from the big heap of this year, 17,000,000 bushels more than last, and the highest ever known. The New England fish-ball need not pine away.

The leading representatives of the various branches of business in New York speak very strongly of the improved condition of business and the exceptional promise of the season. The sum of the opinions is put pithily by a member of the firm of Lord & Taylor, who says: "Times were never better than they are today. Business is a good deal like a swing, and just now it is on the up grade, with a very vigorous push behind it." And the push and swing are notable all through the country as the same observers attest.

Commissioner Taylor's report on the condition of the transcontinental railways is an eminently common-sense view of the situation. The government has nothing to gain by driving any road into bankruptcy and much to lose. Uncompromising pressure will needlessly increase the pending embarrassments. The commissioner recommends an extension of time on indebtedness, a reduction of the rates of interest and a substitution of percentages of gross earnings for arbitrary payments at fixed periods. It will be for the interest of the country for congress to follow these recommendations and give the roads a chance to recuperate.

The Tribune prints some balderdash this morning about the "false reputation" given to Duluth by The Herald in its independent kick at the circulars of the Manitoba road directing agents to bill all wheat destined for the head of the lakes to the company's own elevators. These instructions violated the obligations assumed with the rights conferred by the transfer of the Duluth Terminal Railway franchise and ignored Duluth's terminal rights. Not till the appeals and protests of Duluth business men had failed to obtain any satisfactory response did The Herald speak in defense of Duluth. Then it told the truth plainly without mincing words and warned the Manitoba that Duluth would not bear its imposition tamely. In so speaking it voiced the feeling of the city as the Manitoba and Eastern managers instantly recognized. The obnoxious instructions were suspended at once and an arrangement satisfactory to Duluth consignees immediately concluded. These facts are now known and confirm the honor and strength of Duluth in the mind of every man of common sense. The city did not look for defence to a newspaper mortgaged to the Manitoba and did not get any.

THE LAST OCTOBER MAGAZINES.

The Home-maker enters its third volume with bright prospects of the future. As a magazine it is no longer an experiment, for the year has demonstrated its need and value. Possibly a little light in quality, it has still struck the keynote in most points and has reached a large circulation. It begins the year with a new cover, promises of contributions by leading writers on many topics and the installment of a novel "With Best Intentions," by Marion Harland, editor of the magazine. Its departments are increased and more valuable. They treat of the care of children, with the housewife, young people, home work, art, fashions, window gardening, etc. There are articles in the October number on "Mary, the Mother of Washington," "An Inherited Vice," "A Home on the Moor," "Popular Superstitions Relating to Health," and on many other topics.

The New England Magazine for October presents a varied and attractive table of contents. Many of the articles are devoted to subjects relating to education. Mr. Albert P. Marble, the retiring president of the National Education association, contributes an article on the "History and Prospects of the Association;" W. A. Mowry, the editor of Education, writes on "Dr. Harris and the Bureau of Education;" there is a brief article on "History," by A. E. Winship; and there is a long and fully illustrated article on the "Educational Institutions of Nashville." Nashville receives further notice in a general article on the "History and New Life of the City," by Hon. A. S. Colyar. The frontispiece is a portrait of Dr. Holmes from a recent photograph. There is an illustrated article, "Dr. Holmes at Fourscore," by George Willis Cooke; an article on "Dr. Holmes's Pilgrim Poems;" and interesting facts about the poet among the editorial notes. Prof. Hosmer's story, "The Haunted Bell," is continued, and there are some short stories, one by Mrs. Celia P. Woolley, the author of "Love and Theology." Mr. Mead's study of the question, "Did John Hampden come to New England?" is finished. Another historical article is by Prof. Charles H. Levermore, "Pilgrim and Knickerbocker in the Connecticut Valley." Mr. Hale has a gossipy paper entitled "Tarry at Home Travel." There is a brief article on John Boyle O'Reilly; and a long and thorough one by William Clarke of London, on Parnell, which will attract much attention.

Literary Mention.

Prof. Carl Lumholtz, who was in Duluth last spring, is the author of a book, "Among Cannibals," which gives, with many illustrations, including four chromo lithographs, an account of his four years' travels in Australia, the greater part of the volume being devoted to his camp life with the aborigines of Queensland. The narrative of the author's adventures and discoveries is of much interest and value.

Mr. Henry Adams is engaged upon an important historical work in eight volumes, "History of the United States," which when complete will cover the sixteen years from 1801 to 1817 inclusive—the two administrations of Jefferson and the two following of Madison.

IT IS DIFFERENT NOW.

[Omaha World.]

The summer girl is back again
From far off Spirit Lake;
And from her belt like an Indian's pelt
Hang the hearts she used to break.

We flirted on piazzas, and
Beneath the gaslight's glare
We danced away with hearts so gay,
Or whispered on the stair.

And o'er the surface of the lake,
Until the nights grew old,
We staid afloat in a leaky boat
And caught our death of cold.

But vacation ends as all things do,
And I returned to town;
But she passes by with a stony eye
And a corrugated frown.

For she's a maiden highly born,
Possessing wealth galore;
And I am a clerk with a "property" smirk,
In Snookson's dry goods store.

People Who Fret.

"Care killed the cat," is a well-known old saw. The force of it is in the fact that fret and worry will kill even an animal which is popularly said to have nine lives. Fretting and worrying may not kill, but they will shorten your days, and what happiness is there in a life all cankered with care? But how avoid worry? Well, Americans travel more than any other people on the globe, and probably discomforts and delays in traveling cause us greater annoyance than all other sources of fretting combined. The great Burlington system reaches all the principal cities of the West, and if you always select it as your route, you can banish fretting forever, so smooth is its track, so sumptuous and luxurious are its cars, and so appetizing and well-cooked are the meals served on its diners. For tickets, and any information about this "People's Favorite," call on your local agent, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, General Passenger Agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

Remember Mrs. J. J. Cressman's grand opening tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

Little Lumps of Wisdom

AND SOME MILD REFLECTIONS CONCERNING

INDUSTRY, ECONOMY AND THRIFT.

—Proverbs.

Did you ever think, dear reader, what a big, bustling world we live in. How every man seems to be bound, by the very law of his being, to work and toil and struggle to keep his head above water. We all know this by experience, and while it seems hard, yet as it is the common fate of mankind we are bound to do our level best and leave the results to God. But we, after all, are the architects of our own fortune. Some people fail in life because they are too lazy to work. Such people should learn a lesson from the industrious ant. But there are millions of industrious people who work hard and long, people of good habits and the best of citizens, and yet they fail utterly to accumulate anything for a rainy day. And why is it? Please listen and we will tell you: The secret of acquiring wealth is to put money where it will make money—in other words, where it will grow. The rich men of this country never got their wealth by day labor. More than 80 per cent of them commenced life in that way, but by saving up their earnings and putting them into judicious investments their wealth grew and increased, like the farmer's crops, while they slept. Kind reader, you can become a landowner and capitalist if you only will. No such opportunities have ever been placed before any people as we present to you. We have what will soon become very popular and high-priced suburban property, which we are selling at ground-floor prices and on terms so easy that anyone who has any desire to acquire property can buy one or more lots, pay a very small sum down and make the deferred payments without feeling it. If you want to embrace this great opportunity call and get a plat of Crosley Park and learn all about it. If you fail to do this, please reflect in after years that in the year of our Lord 1889 you had the ladder of fortune placed at your very feet and that you deliberately refused to climb. Think of these things, and come in at once and talk the matter over with us.

OUR FALL OVERCOATS excel other Fall Overcoats in style and in value for price. We do not guess at this, we know it. We have put the brains and energy to work, and the result follows as a matter of course.

NO THROUGH TRAINS.

A Surprise in Omaha Service, Bothers Chicago Shippers.

Grain Rates, Northern Pacific Earnings---General Notes.

Tomorrow morning the Northwestern line virtually steps out of all competition on Duluth-Chicago passenger business.

The step is a surprise to every one, for it was universally believed that when the Chicago limited should be taken off the day train, leaving here at 10:30 a. m., would carry through cars to Chicago and would run daily. Even this is not to be. General Superintendent Scott, Superintendent McCabe and Telegraph Superintendent Hope were in the city last evening. Mr. Scott stated that Saturday morning's outgoing limited would be the last, for a long time at least. It cost $100 to run the train to Eau Claire, or nearly twenty-five passengers to pay expenses. Although it has done fully its share of business it has not paid. Mr. Scott will not run a Sunday train on the regular 10:30 a. m. run and as a six-day train is of no especial benefit, he says, it will be only a stub train to Eau Claire.

By the limited mail dropped in boxes in Chicago at 4 p. m. has been distributed by carriers here at ten the next morning, thus being peculiarly valuable for bankers and Board of Trade men. By the new schedule that the postoffice is forced to make only mail up to 3 p. m. can be carried, and will not be distributed here till noon, practically losing twenty-four hours for the Board of Trade and bank people. Duluth has had remarkably good through mail service, wonderfully well handled here, but Postmaster Flynn and Assistant Henry can't cope with bad railway time.

As a result of this move the only through train to Chicago will be that of the Wisconsin Central and Northern Pacific, leaving here at 4 p. m., and arriving from Chicago at 10:55 a. m. The Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic will make close connections at Champion for Chicago, but the Omaha will only make its all day run to Eau Claire, without parlor or sleeping cars.

COAL RATES.

The Plaint of the Milwaukee Road Over Duluth Competition.

The chief business of the various Western and Northwestern traffic associations this year appears to be the settling of disputes brought on by Duluth competition, and the disturbing character of this city in the present situation is being brought out daily more plainly. It is evident that until there has been an earthquake sufficient to wake up the managers and rearrange Western railway business with especial reference to Duluth as a terminus for all the West and Northwest nearer her than Chicago, there will be trouble.

The latest seems to be on account of Duluth competition in Southwestern coal trade. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul has applied for authority to establish as low a rate on coal from Chicago and Milwaukee to points in interior Iowa, Minnesota and Dakota as prevails from Duluth. The trouble seems to be that the St. Paul road has lost its coal trade in the Northwest by the low rates quoted from Duluth by the Manitoba, Northern Pacific, the St. Paul and Duluth and Kansas City, and the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha roads. The last-named road, being the Chicago and Northwestern, is a member of the Interstate association, and is the cause of complaint, as it crosses and cuts off the St. Paul's lines at various points.

No agreement could be reached. The Chicago and Northwestern, with the advantage of a Duluth line, is in a position to compete without reducing rates from Chicago, and most of the other roads are interested in keeping Chicago rates up. The matter was appealed to arbitration, but Chairman Walker has not yet set time for hearing.

NOT CONSOLIDATION,

But Very Close Traffic Interchange Arrangements Formed.

It was rumored Thursday in St. Paul that a scheme for consolidation had been fixed up between the St. Paul and Duluth and the Minneapolis and St. Louis roads, the rumor springing apparently from the trips of Receiver Truesdale over the St. Paul and Duluth and of President Hayes over the Minneapolis and St. Louis. Receiver Truesdale of the latter road, denies the rumors that there would be a consolidation of his line with the St. Paul and Duluth, or even a traffic arrangement. Mr. Truesdale states that when Capt. Hayes was in the Northwest he went over the Minneapolis and St. Louis on the receiver's invitation, the courtesy being extended because Mr. Hayes owned a block of stock in the road.

Probably the facts in the case may be found by "striking an average." Consolidation is impossible, but close traffic agreements is not only possible, but a certainty. It is a wise move on the part of both roads, and while not injuring the St. Paul and Duluth's close arrangements with the Kansas City, Burlington and other roads will help the Minneapolis and St. Louis greatly. It is possible the latter road will extend to Omaha.

Northern Pacific Earnings.

The report of earnings of the Northern Pacific for the month of September shows the remarkable increase of $377,648.84 over last year. The bulk of the increase is in the freight. September earnings, as compared with the same period last year, were as follows:

| | 1889. | 1888. | Increase |
|---|---|---|---|
| Freight..... | $1,474,632 | $1,141,822 11 | $332,803 89 |
| Passenger.... | 543,192 | 489,422 91 | 56,769 09 |
| Mail..... | 37,000 | 35,699 07 | 1,300 93 |
| Express..... | 30,000 | 23,792 42 | 6,207 58 |
| Miscellaneous | 4,100 | 20,532 65 | *16,432 65 |
| Totals ... | $2,088,924 | $1,711,275 16 | $377,648 84 |

Grain Rates.

At yesterday's meeting of the grain committee of the Western Freight association rates were adjusted to a basis that is satisfactory. A resolution was adopted providing that direct rates on grain to Chicago, Milwaukee, Duluth and Minneapolis shall be left as now, except in instances where the rates of one road differed from those of another between the same terminals. It was also resolved that the rates on milling in transit wheat destined to Chicago, Milwaukee or Duluth shall be two cents higher than direct rates, but in no case to be higher than the sum of the two locals via Minneapolis.

Herr Zoch's piano arrived yesterday morning. It is an immense Miller Concert Grand, made expressly for his use. Under his gigantic power and wonderful technique, it is as powerful as an orchestra.

WHY NOT LINEN?

An Irish Linen Manufacturer Looks Toward the Northwest.

Mr. J. Carmichael Allen, a linen manufacturer of Belfast, Ireland, has written to St. Paul parties concerning the feasibility of establishing linen mills in the Northwest. He says:

"I am familiar with the capabilities of your section in the matter of flax growing, and have always pointed to the Northwest as the likely home of an American linen trade. An American has invented a system of flax retting which will do away with the old-fashioned and cumbersome method and which can be carried on independent of weather. Such a process will give an immense impetus to the linen business. The United States of America alone can absorb from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 worth of the goods per annum. At the present moment the United States takes one-half of all the goods made in Great Britain and Ireland. As an example of the advantages to be gained from the flax industry I may point to my own city of Belfast. It has a population of 250,000, built up largely on this business, fully one-fourth of the entire population being employed in the linen mills. And this town is only one in a good many."

Mr. Allen refers to a previous attempt, made by a Mr. Blake, to interest capital in the establishment of a linen mill in this region, and says that he himself would like to enter into correspondence with any parties who may be disposed to look the subject up. The suggestion as to the possibility of this section becoming the center of the flax industry of the Northwest is certainly a very important one, and may lead to the opening up of a new and great industry hitherto scarcely thought of. It should receive attention from Duluth.

Band Concert.

Walkers Military band is to give the program it gave the other evening at The Spalding this evening on Superior street, between Second and Third avenues west, at 7:30 o'clock. On the occasion of The Spalding concert there was a small audience, because of some mistake about the announcement. The program is as follows:

March—Razzle-Dazzle.....Brooke
Selection—Feryetta and Finale Aiilla....Verdi
Characteristic Piece—Simplicity.....Moses
Waltz—Trinity College.....Missud
Caprice Heroique.....Di Kontski

A copy of a circular accompanying a subscription paper, has been received at the postoffice here which was sent out by the executive committee of the New York Letter Carriers' association. The subscription paper is headed:

The circular sets forth that the proposed memorial is to be contributed to only by letter carriers and the place where it is to be erected is to be left to Mrs. Cox to decide. All the carriers here will contribute.

That Little Tickling

In your throat, which makes you cough once in a while and keeps you constantly clearing your throat, arises from catarrh, Kanas catarrh is a constitutional disease, the ordinary cough medicines all fail to hit the spot. What you need is a consitutional remedy like Hoods Sarsaparilla. Many people who have taken this medicine for scrofula. dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and other troubles, have been surprised that it should cure this troublesome cough. But to know the actual cause of the cough is to solve the mystery. Many cases of consumption can be traced back to the neglect of some such slight affection as this. Consumption can be controlled in its early stages, and the effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla in purifying the blood, building up the general health, and expelling the scrofulous taint which is the cause of catarrh and consumption, has restored to perfect health many persons on whom this dreaded disease seemed to have a firm hold.

DOINGS OF THE ORDERS.

Local and General Notations of Many Secret Societies.

Grand Army and Branches, Odd Fellows, Masons and Pythians.

The installation of Comrade C. S. Higgins as senior vice-commander and Comrade D. S. Dodd as junior vice-commander of Willis A. Gorman post took place Monday evening. These gentlemen were elected to serve out the unexpired terms of William Sharp and W. K. Johnson. The post will hold a campfire the last Tuesday of this month, and the camp-fires will be kept up during the winter. It is intended to make them as enjoyable as those of last year.

The twenty-second annual reunion of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee took place at Cincinnati last Thursday. Gens. Sherman, Dodge and Howard were present, the two latter making speeches. The next reunion will be held at Chicago.

The double monthly insurance assessment of the Knights of Honor now yields $274,000.

Much important legislation was accomplished at the session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., at Columbus. It was decided that any insurance company which has been refused the use of the name of the order shall be debarred from soliciting any Odd Fellow to become a member, and any officer of such association or any Odd Fellow soliciting members for such association shall be liable to expulsion from the order.

The Womans National Industrial league has demanded a woman's department in the World's Fair.

The Knights of Labor and other kindred organizations are growing constantly in number in Australia.

The first reunion for the year of the Loyal Legion of Minnesota was held in St. Paul Wednesday night. Several Duluth members was present. Four new members were admitted, and votes of thanks were passed to the Wisconsin and Ohio commanderies for courtesies extended at Milwaukee and Chattanooga. It was decided to meet in future on the first Tuesday in each month. An interesting paper on the battle of Birch Coulee, Sept. 2, 1862, was read by Judge J. J. Egan, formerly of Duluth. During the war Judge Egan served under both Capt. Northrop, also formerly of this city, and Capt. Anderson. A paper on the fight between Capt. Marsh's command of forty-five men and several hundred Indians at the lower agency on Aug. 19, 1862, was read.

The first annual ball of the Operative Plasterers International union of Duluth, will be held on Oct. 24, at Turner hall. Already a large number of tickets have been sold and there will doubtless be a very large crowd present.

Invitations are already out for the first annual ball of the Amethyst division of the Knights of Pythias. It will take place at their hall in the Allen building, West End, on Friday evening, Oct. 18, and a very pleasant time may be assured. The following committees have been appointed.

Reception—S. A. Siverts, B. G. Sogog, John McNamara, J. L. Porter, Chas. J. Thompson.
Invitation—E. H. Alworth, D. A. Butchart, M. A. McDonald, J. H. Davis, Wm. Miller.
Floor—S. L. Pierce, Robert Fritze, Charles Hoar.

Duluth sends but few members of the Knights Templar Commandery to Washington to the grand conclave. R. A. Gray, J. E. Cooley and one or two others have gone, and a few more may start in a day or two. Damascus Commandery, St. Paul, goes in force, about 120 of its members starting in a special train tomorrow. Accompanied by other delegations from the Northwest, the commandery and its train will leave on the Burlington road at 7 p. m. Saturday, arriving at Chicago at 9 a. m. Sunday. Leaving Chicago at 10 a. m. over the Baltimore and Ohio road it will arrive at Washington Monday. The train will consist of seven Pullman sleeping cars and a dining car, and will be run through without change. Sir Knight W. J. C. Kenyon will be in charge of the excursionists as far as Chicago, where Sir Knight L. S. Allen of the Baltimore and Ohio road will assume command.

Hon. C. H. Hamilton of Milwaukee, the eminent and gentlemanly counsel who appeared for the prosecution in a wheat case on trial yesterday, is a prominent member of the Knights of Pythias. He belongs to the Grand Lodge of the United States, and is the grand keeper of the records and seal for the Wisconsin Grand body. He has been in Duluth before, but is much pleased with the present growth, and said, "You beat us (Milwaukee) on fine buildings."

Grand Chancellor B. F. Stahl has given notice that he will visit officially the Duluth Knights of Pythias lodges on the following dates: Agate lodge, No. 31, Monday, the 7th; Diamond lodge, No. 45, Thursday, the 10th. Lieut-Col. John K. Shaw will inspect Lakeside division, uniform rank, Monday evening, Oct. 7.

A Strikingly Beautiful Baby.

One of our leading ladies, in calling the other day upon a neighbor, who glories in a remarkably beautiful baby said, "Excuse my comparison, but your baby reminds me of the wonderful success I have had in making bread and cake lately with the Unrivaled Baking Powder; the loveliness of your baby suggests the success I have had with that powder." Full pound 25c.

"Where are you going my pretty maid?"
"I'm going washing, sir," she said.
"What hold you in your hand so tight,
With a face so gay and a step so light?"
"That which all prize their dearest treasure—
Makes washing and scrubbing only a pleasure,
Keeps the clothes so clean and white;
The doors and windows a beautiful sight.
For your own household you'll get it, I hope,

WORLD OF COMMERCE.

A Very Dull and Somewhat Lower Wheat Market Here Today.

Notes of Trade and Outside Markets, Daily Movements.

Wheat today has been dull and lower. There were numerous sellers of everything and apparently little demand for either cash or futures. The market ruled very dull with declining tendencies, and prices sagged off. Trading was slow and much smaller than for many days past, and the market was sluggish and weak throughout the session, until just before the close, when in sympathy with an upturn at Chicago, prices were bid up, and the close was firm with buyers at opening quotations.

Cash 1 hard opened 81½, ruled steady. No. 1 northern opened 77¾ with pressure to sell. It declined to 77½, ruled weak, but closed firm at 77½. No. 2 northern opened 75, ruled weak, declined to 74½. No grade sold 74½. October opened 81½, ruled dull. November no transactions. Closed 81¾. December opened 82⅜, ruled weak, selling off to 82 where it was freely offered. Later a demand set in and 82½ had to be paid. Year, dull, closed 81½. May opened 88¼, was offered at 88. Near the close advanced to 88⅜, with the close at 88½.

Northwestern Miller today says: With all except three mills in operation and a good deal of steam in use, the flour output reached heavy figures last week, notwithstanding low water. The production was 151,300 bbls, against 125,200 bbls the week before, and 178,100 bbls for the time in 1888. This is the largest amount ground in nearly a year. The water power continues poor, and all engines, eleven in number, are used. As soon as cold weather comes on the situation will be made very much worse. Two firms are at present grinding one-half or over of the flour made. Lower wheat has again made the flour market inactive, though prices are firm. Most of the mills sold freely when the bulge was on and have enough orders accumulated to keep them going for some days. The export market is very dull, the tendency of offers being strongly downward. The direct exports last week were the heaviest in a long time, being 57,150 bbls, against 47,115 bbls the preceding week.

Chicago Close.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—1:15 p. m. close—Wheat firmer: October, 80½; December, 82½; May, 85½. Corn easy: October, 30⅝; November, 30¼; May, 33½.

The Minneapolis Close.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 2.—Closing quotations—No. 1 hard, October, 79; November, 80¼; December, 81¼; May, 86½; on track, 80. No. 1 northern, October, 76; November, 77½; December, 78¼; May, 83½; on track, ... No. 2 northern, October, 72; November, 73; December, 74; May, 79; on track, 72@74.

The Day's Movement.

Cars on track this morning were 199, Northern Pacific, 63; Eastern, 131. Corn on track, 13 cars. Receipts were 116,632 bu wheat. Shipments, 416 bu wheat.

WEST DULUTH.

Z. H. Austin shouldered his gun this morning and went duck hunting on the St. Louis river. Business is at a standstill until his return.

A. E. Baalson has consigned today in favor of A. F. Swanstrom.

Look out for those silk hats on the Incline railway bet! It is now time to settle.

H. C. Peck of Minneapolis, W. L. Nesbitt of St. Paul, were at the Phillips yesterday.

The curbing has been laid on Central avenue, north of the track.

J. L. Dodge, father of George Dodge the Duluth gunsmith, who has just returned from the wonders of the Paris exposition and the top of the Eiffel tower, is taking in the wonders of West Duluth today.

Mr. Partridge, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Bowne, arrived yesterday from Kansas City. He returns tomorrow accompanied by his wife, who has been visiting her parents for several days.

Miss Vogal of St. Cloud, was visiting Mrs. Rand yesterday.

Mrs. R. J. Williams of Tower, is visiting friends here.

John Murphy of Detroit, Mich., a well-known iron man, is in the city.

Mr. C. H. Carter of Oneida county, N. Y., was looking over the new Pittsburg yesterday afternoon.

The ceiling joists for the second floor of the new city hall are in position, and a few days more of good weather will see the building under roof.

An interesting test was made yesterday at the Car works of the brick manufactured by the West Duluth Brick company. Mr. Gunniss, one of the proprietors of the brickyards, picked out an ordinary brick from the piles in the yard and had it placed in the hydraulic press, where it stood a pressure of twenty-five tons and was only slightly cracked. A white brick was placed in the press, and at a pressure of thirteen tons it crumbled to a powder. Another red brick of a different make was tested, and it also was crushed to powder at about thirteen tons pressure.

For choice bargains or rents call on A. G. Rand at the Phillips hotel, or Rand & Brophy on Central avenue. Money to loan on long time.

Drop a postal to West Duluth Manufacturing company, Duluth, giving your address and ordering Storm Sash. They will send man to take measurements and deliver them to fit any sized window.

The Wilmington addition to West Duluth offers exceptionally flattering inducements to investors, and is attracting the consideration of the more careful investors on account of its nearness to the Car works, and the Short line, its nice lying lots, its fine view, cheap prices and easy terms.

The Vermilion Excursion.

More than 100 Duluth tourists took the Iron Range train at the Union depot this morning at 8:40 for a trip to points of interest in the Vermilion range. Lunch baskets and other paraphernalia formed large part of the baggage. The day was pleasantly spent at Tower and the Soudan mines. Many courtesies were extended by Tower people. This is the first of a series of excursions that the Iron Range company will run to the Vermilion country.

Herr Zoch tonight. Hear him.

Miss K. L. Robinson has removed her dressmaking rooms to Stenson block. Reception room No. 413 Fourth floor.

A Prominent Society Lady

Achieved a good deal of renown last week at the Methodist church sociable. Her contribution of cake was declared by all to be the most delicious ever tasted. She modestly affirms "Anyone can make as good by using the Unrivaled Baking Powder. Besides it costs only one-half what others do," she quietly added. Sold by grocers.

MARINE MATTERS.

More Boats for the Northern Line—General Port News.

The Cleveland Plaindealer insists that six more steel steamers are to be built for the Northern steamship line, the Manitoba's lake line of boats—three by the Globe Works and three by F. W. Wheeler at Bay City. That there will be so many of them is generally discredited by Northwestern marine men.

Commander Heyerman, has been assigned the position of inspector of the Eleventh Lighthouse District, including Duluth. During the recent Haytian troubles he was commander of the United States steamer Yantic. Yellow fever broke out among the men, and for his humane conduct he was specially honored by the navy department. He was given leave of absence and he came to Detroit, where his home will be during his detailment as inspector, which continues to November, 1892. Mr. Heyerman is a German by birth. He received his appointment to Annapolis from Congressman Bradley F. Granger in the sixties, and has been in active service for twenty-nine years.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The steambarge Iron Age, up bound and light, grounded near the Topsail Island shoal late last night and was released this forenoon by the tug Swain.

A collision occurred yesterday afternoon between the schooner David Vance, up bound, and the steam barge Roumania, down bound, at the foot of Sugar Island. The Vance lost her job-boom and head gear, the Roumania having her bulwarks, bridge and forward rigging torn out on the port side.

Who Nimrod Was.

Nimrod, according to the Scriptures, was a mighty hunter, contemporaneous with Babylonian celebrities. His exploits are not given in detail, but they must have been wonderful. Mighty hunters of local fame in Minnesota at present should take a trip over the Saint Paul and Duluth railroad in search of sport. The vicinity of Moose, White Bear, Chisago and Forest Lakes furnishes small game, and in the vicinity of Hinckley and Northern Pacific Junction heavier game may be found. This promises to be a good hunting season. For these points take the Duluth Short line, the quickest route between St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and West Superior, with close connections beyond. Address A. B. Plough, general passenger agent, St. Paul.

Should Women Propose?

Well, that depends. It is a hard matter to decide, and one which concerns only the woman herself. It is generally admitted, though, that women do the proposing now as ever—with their eyes. It is also generally conceded that the Saint Paul and Duluth railroad offers the best facilities for travel to and from the great lakes. The Duluth Short line has fast trains daily to and from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and West Superior, and is the popular route in every sense. For circulars, address A. B. Plough, General Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

Bad Bread vs. Bad Whisky.

In the race for the championship in crime producing, bad bread is a good second, if it does not hold its own with bad whisky. Fully half the family quarrels, half the divorces, half the murders, are indirectly the result of bad cooking, bad digestion, bad stomachs, bad bread. Unrivaled Baking Powder makes good bread. Demand it of your grocer. Full weight, 25c per pound.

LAST EDITION.

TO BEGIN TRACK LAYING.

The Manitoba's Consolidation Scheme Comes to the Front.

Duluth and Winnipeg Lays Track---Ontonagon Has a Road.

President James J. Hill of the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba railway, issued yesterday to his company's stockholders a circular explaining reasons for a proposed new issue of stock and pointing out advantages that an increased capital will enable the new road to control the Great Northern railway of Minnesota, which will have an authorized capital of $40,000,000, will be organized with $12,000,000 of preferred stock.

The terms upon which this stock will be sold to stockholders of the Manitoba company are as follows: The common stock will be retained by the Great Northern Railway company, subject to sale, if possible. The entire $40,000,000 of preferred stock in the Great Northern is offered to the Manitoba stockholders, each stockholder having the privilege of taking one share of Great Northern preferred stock for each share of Manitoba stock held by him. This will be issued at par, but the stockholders of the Manitoba will only be required to pay $50 per share in cash, the other $50 being paid by the transfer to the new company of the assets already mentioned, exceeding $22,000,000, but subject to the lien of the collateral trust mortgage for $8,000,000 and this collateral trust mortgage is to be paid off by proceeds of sale.

The Manitoba will, when the terms have been complied with, execute a lease of everything to the Great Northern Railway company for a term of ninety-nine years, in consideration of which the Great Northern will agree to provide for guaranteed dividends upon the entire capital stock of the Manitoba Railway company, $20,000,000, during the period of the lease, at the rate of 6 per cent per annum free of taxes, the Great Northern Railway company guaranteeing all the obligations of the Manitoba company and indemnifying it against all liabilities. On the consummation of the deal the name St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba, which has been built up to a power in the Northwest, will pass from active existence, and the Great Northern railway company will take its place operating the Montana Central, the Manitoba, to both St. Paul and Duluth, the Great Northern elevators here the Eastern Minnesota and its terminal arrangements, at the head of the lake and the Northern Steamship company Duluth to Buffalo.

All these lines have been practically one concern, so much so that through tariff sheets have been in force between Helena, the Western end of the Montana Central, to Buffalo, the Eastern terminus of the steamship line. They will now be theoretically under one management.

Track-Laying Begins.

On the Duluth and Winnipeg next Monday track-layers will begin work and will push along without cessation to the Mississippi river. It was but about two months ago that The Herald gave Duluth people the first announcement that the road would be built to the river this fall. It was then intended to have connection through by Dec. 10, but the force at work was made much larger than expected, and the road will be to the river early in November. Large supplies of heavy steel rails are now at end of track at Dougalsville, and an average of considerably more than a mile a day will be laid. There are men along the entire road scattered thickly, and the grading is going on on every unfinished mile. Work is mostly light. The line runs from the St. Louis to the Mississippi from six to four miles south of that originally surveyed, striking through a country somewhat easier to build in.

Railroad Notes.

The Northern Pacific and Manitoba roads have received notice from the Interstate commerce commission that one E. M. Raworth, a grocer of Fargo, Dak., had made a complaint against them charging that these roads were making a discrimination against Fargo in the matter of sugar rates. It is claimed that the rates from San Francisco to Fargo are higher than from San Francisco to St. Paul.

Ontonagon Has Hopes.

ONTONAGON, Mich., Oct. 5.—[Special.] Ontonagon, the oldest city on Lake Superior, at last has railroad communication with the outside world. The Milwaukee and Northern road has issued a circular announcing the formal opening of its line from Hill Creek to this place, a distance of thirty-five miles. The road was built from the line of the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic at Hill Creek and also passes through the village of Rockland.

ANOTHER SHIP BAPTIZED.

The Whale-Back Steel Ship 103 is in the Water Today.

Description of the Latest and Best Vessel of the Fleet.

Had doubts ever existed as to the practicability of the whale-back ship as invented and brought to perfection by Captain Alex. McDougall of Duluth, those doubts must long since have been dispelled, and the conviction constantly grows stronger that a problem was solved by the building of the steel ship 101, the solution of which opened with golden key the doors of wealth to all fortunate enough to be interested.

The third vessel of the fleet of the American Steel Barge company, built on Capt. McDougall's plans, the 103, was launched this afternoon little after 3 o'clock. Despite the cold, windy weather several thousand people gathered at and near the shipyard at the base of Rices Point to see the second launch of the year. A few minutes after the appointed time the word was given, the ropes pulled that freed the ship from her blocks and she slid easily into the water, and at once rested drawing about 3 feet 9 inches. A cheer rose instantly many hoarse whistles on ship and shore sounded and work began in the hold of the vessel preparing for her cargo.

The 103 is almost a duplicate of the 102, launched in July, but she is a better craft in every way. There is more steel in her hull and more perfect construction, the workmen all being more acquainted with their work and better able to do it in a finished and thorough manner. A few slight matters of detail are improvements over the 102, but it is remarkable that the changes are so few and slight. The chief is a general and systematic use of more metal, all the work being remarkably heavy and solid and such as only the very heaviest storm could affect in the slightest degree. The steel plates on her sides are from ½ to 13-16th inch thick, heavier than is usually put into a lake vessel. The plates along load water line are 5 feet wide and 11-16th inch thick, giving great strength. All "timber heads," posts to support the turrets, fair leads, etc., are of massive iron make and fastened in the most secure manner possible. There was just about 1000 tons of steel used in the construction of the 103, and she is valued in Inland Lloyds at $80,000. She is 260 feet long over all, 36 feet beam and 22 feet deep. Her official measurement gives her 1132.56 net tons, while her capacity on 16 feet draft will be 3000 tons.

Between the arch deck that forms her top and the bottom of her hold, the 103 has no decks, her interior forming a great room, 36 feet wide and 22 feet high. For a short distance forward of the stern deck runs, and a bulkhead separates this part of the ship from the cargo hold. Here is put a steam boiler for running the pumps, capstans and windlasses, as well as all the machinery of the craft. Another bulkhead forward divides the space occupied by the crew. Ample provision is made for light and ventilation forward and aft. Below the hold there is a double water bottom, and the entire bottom of the ship is divided into eight water-tight compartments, all connected with the pumps, so that in case one should be stove in the ship would not be endangered. Pumps are carried sufficient to put 700 tons of water ballast into her in two hours, or to care for a leak of the same capacity.

In the after turret is a Snelling patent steering wheel, to be found in no other boats on the lakes, but a great improvement over the usual wheel. This turret is roofed and railed in so as to form a protection to the wheelman in any weather. Both turrets are reached by ladders inside and out.

When her water compartments are filled the boat will draw 8 feet, thus showing less above water than many an old style craft when loaded. She will carry on 15 feet draft 90,000 bu wheat and on sixteen feet 100,000 bu. As the water through the Sault lowers in the fall, vessels are carrying less loads than during the summer, and her first cargo will consist of from 86,000 to 90,000 bu.

By Monday night, when the 103 gets her load, and starts for Buffalo, sixty-two working days will have passed since work on her was begun. It is yet to be learned if any steel ship, approaching her in capacity, has been built with anything like this rapidity. Had there been plenty of riveters the vessel would have been in the water three weeks ago.

Capt. Holdridge, who was mate of the 101, and brought out the 102, will sail the new vessel and she will be consort to the steamship Sitka, while the 102 sails behind the Yakima.

THIS WINTER'S WORK.

At Least Two Marine Monsters to be Built This Winter.

As has been stated in The Herald two vessels of the McDougall type will be built at the Rices Point yard this winter. These will be of the same breadth and depth as the 103, but will be 24½ feet longer, and will carry about 400 tons more than today's launch. One of these, probably the 105, will be fitted with steam power, and will tow others of the fleet. It is considered possible that the 106 will be on the stocks before the winter is over, thus increasing the fleet by 10,000 tons before next May.

Had it not been for the delay in material the keel of the 104 would now be laid. Over 150 tons of steel came yesterday, and part cargoes are expected tonight and tomorrow. Workmen are now bending the steel ribs into shape and getting the yard ready for the new vessels.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Annie Louise Cushing, a young woman of 24 years, and Eddie Frey, 14 years old, were married here recently. Miss Cushing has for many years been an organist in the churches of Utica, and it was while in that capacity in St. George's Episcopal church that she became acquainted with young Frey, who was a member of the boy choir. When Miss Cushing rehearsed in the church Frey was always around pumping the organ. On Sept. 7 Miss Cushing told her parents she was going to West Bloomfield, a little village near Rochester, to visit relatives. Frey disappeared at the same, and went to Boston, and from there to Canandaigua, where he met Miss Cushing and they set out to get married.

President Woodruff, in his opening address, said the Mormon church had been established by God, and that no power on earth could stay its progress. All revelations given to saints, including the one regarding polygamy, came direct from God, and notwithstanding the trials and troubles through which Mormans had passed, the Lord would sustain all those who obeyed his principles and his revelations.

NAGLE WILL NOT BE TRIED

A California Grand Jury Piqued at the United States Court.

Black Bart's Scheme to Break Jail was Foiled in Time.

STOCKTON, Cal., Oct. 5.—The grand jury of San Joaquin county has presented its final report concerning the case of Deputy United States Marshal Nagle.

The report says the facts show that the killing of the late Judge Terry was intentional and deliberate, and that, while the constitution and laws of the state require that the crime against its laws should be tried thereunder, the accused was taken from the power of the state by a procees emanating from the United States circuit court. The report continues: "The United States circuit court has decided that Nagle cannot be tried by a state court essentially for a like want of jurisdiction, from which it is fair to conclude that he cannot be tried in any court."

THE GOGEBIC ROBBER.

Holzhay Detected in a Desperate Plan to Escape.

ASHLAND, Wis., Oct. 5.—Holzhay, the Gogebic stage robber, has been detected in another and desperate plan to escape, which, if carried out, would have resulted in murder.

Three or four days ago, when two fine steel saws were found in the cage of the robber, he told Sheriff Foley that he would not be in jail ten days. Thursday a prisoner confined in the same cell with Holzhay notified the sheriff of a devilishly-ingenious plot conceived by his murderous cellmate to obtain freedom for every prisoner in the jail. John Ryan, the jailer, was to have been killed when he appeared at the aperture through which meals are passed to the prisoners. Holzhay had detached a heavy plank from the table in the cell, with which he would have knocked Ryan into insensibility, afterwards crawling through the opening in the cage and completing the job of murdering the jailor with a knife he had secured. That the plan would have been successful there is scarcely any doubt.

Holzhay was locked in a close cell when the plot was discovered and a heavy iron bolt attached to his ankles. He broke the chain and smashed everything in the cell. He refused to give up the knife and defies the officers. A strong guard has been placed upon him.

Not to be Tried This Term.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—As soon as the criminal court was called to order this morning, States Attorney Longenecker made a motion that the case against Frank Woodruff, one of the men indicted for the murder of Dr. Cronin, be continued until next term. Judge McConnell decided that the state was entitled to the delay asked, and granted the motion.

DISTRICT COURT.

The Wind-Up of the Criminal Calendar---Convicted Prisoners Sentenced.

Assistant County Attorney Powell called up the case of the State vs. Thomas Cameron and George Merritt, indicted jointly for receiving stolen property. Attorney Zastrow, for the defendants, demanded a separate trial. The case against George Merritt was taken up and reached the jury shortly after noon. The case against Merritt was given to the jury at 2:30, and for the first time in many weeks there were two juries out at the same time.

Judge Stearns ordered the convicted prisoners brought up for sentence, and Judge Ensign took his seat on the bench. A motion was then made by C. C. Tear asking for the admission of Thomas S. Collins to practice at the bar. The candidate was ordered to file an application in the form prescribed.

Should Women Propose?

Well, that depends. It is a hard matter to decide, and one which concerns only the woman herself. It is generally admitted, though, that women do the proposing now as ever—with their eyes. It is also generally conceded that the Saint Paul and Duluth railroad offers the best facilities for travel to and from the great lakes. The Duluth Short line has fast trains daily to and from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and West Superior, and is the popular route in every sense. For circulars, address A. B. Plough, General Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

A SUBURBAN RESIDENCE.

Suggestions for an Eight-Room House at a Cost of Less Than $3000.

It Would Look Well at West Duluth, Lakeside or the East End.

In making a plan for a suburban dwelling it is in the minds of many that it should be distinct in some respects from a town dwelling. The principal difference, however, is largely in the matter of convenience.

In the plan which is here submitted there is a front vestibule, in which may be placed wraps, etc., before going into the sitting room. There is a rear vestibule from whence one may pass from the kitchen, diningroom or rear porch to the second floor. In this vestibule is a low closet and a space for a hat rack. In front there is a parlor, with a grate in it, the smoke from which enters the same stack but not the same flue as the one in the sittingroom. There is a bedroom which may be approached either from the sittingroom or parlor. The latter door is not necessary and could be omitted and afford better bed space for that room. It is to be noticed that there is a closet in connection with this chamber. The stairway to the second floor goes to the sittingroom. The approach is to a square landing and from thence to the second floor. From the kitchen one passes to the cellar under the front stairway. The usual kitchen conveniences, which have been common to the plans furnished by the writer, are herein included. The rear porch could be inclosed with lattice work to an advantage.

On the second floor are four bedrooms, an alcove, a bathroom and a large number of ample closets. In one instance this house was built with sliding doors between the two side chambers, as indicated by this plan.

Attention is called to the large store closet in the rear hall. There is an attic stairway to the second floor in the position indicated in second floor plan.

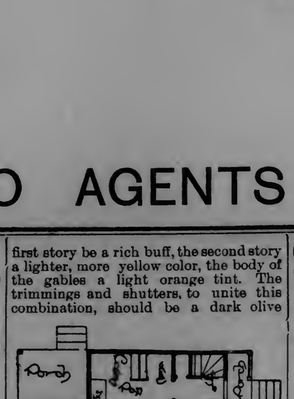

The house was built in frame at a cost indicated by the schedule which is given. It makes an exceedingly picturesque structure, well adapted to a country house.

In painting, it is suggested that the first story be a rich buff, the second story a lighter, more yellow color, the body of the gables a light orange tint. The trimmings and shutters, to unite this combination, should be a dark olive green. The under side of the porch ceiling should be the same tint as the gable. By trimmings is meant the exterior window and other casings, the porch columns, balusters and rail and gutters molding. The under side of the cornice should be painted same color as second story body. This with the dark color to the gutter moldings, gives the cornice the appearance of added projection.

FIRST STORY.

SECOND STORY.

This house was built in Indiana as per following prices:

|---|---|
| Building, first floor finish oak, second floor finish pine | $2100 |
| Privy vaults | 35 |
| Cisterns and connections, fifty barrels | 60 |

| Plumbing, cellar sink, kitchen sink, bath tub, water closet, wash stand, street washer, cistern water | 250 |

SOME DECORATIVE HINTS

How to Make Homes Attractive Without a Large Outlay Of Cash.

A London Cabinetmaker Gives Some Sketches and Details.

The following sketches are from the pencil of Mr. W. Timms, a well-known contributor to The London Cabinet Maker. In Fig. 1 the leading lines of the wall bracket and flap table are Anglo-Moresque. The little two fold screen is somewhat Japanesque in character. The two first articles would perhaps look best finished in a cream colored enamel, with gold leather paper at the back of the bracket, and the screen might perhaps be produced in a bronze. The panels of this to be of painted Japanese silk with a deeper colored border. The transparent painted silk panels are dainty in coloring and very effective, and while they are also remarkably cheap, they make a pleasant change from the recently much-used French cretonnes.

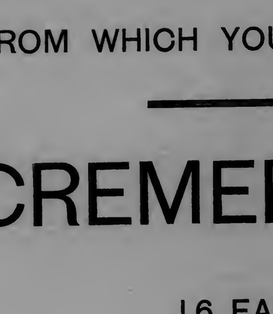

FIG. 1.

In Fig. 2 a species of decorative furniture is illustrated which might almost be described as a substitute for the cabinet. The low top with the overhanging shelf above, the side brackets and the curtains are, all of them, attractive features which raise the thing above the commonplace class of goods. In point of detail it is refined, and if finished in cream, with gold leather paper at the back and pale blue curtains in the front, it would make a charming little item of drawingroom furniture—not only artistic in appearance, but also sufficiently low in price to be popular.

In the next group (Fig. 3) is shown a quaint little table of a decidedly novel form. Its apparent purpose is for the display of art pottery, but it might also come in useful as a "5 o'clock" tea table. Here is adopted the Moresque style. The choval screen shown in the sketch is decidedly novel, the completely circular shelf being a change from the somewhat old-fashioned drop shelf which has been so long successful. The introduction of this round shelf, though, involved piercing through the screen, but the pretty little curtains at the back could be made to fall right across the opening when the screen is to be used as a protection from the fire. This design, though not altogether inelegant, is yet manifestly inconsistent throughout; still, the cusped archway and the certainly perilous shelf with the portiere at the back, are pretty features and novel, and well calculated to captivate the feminine fancy. Cream enamel and rose colored silk would make an appropriate combination for this screen.

The hybrid article which figures in the next sketch (Fig. 4) is neither a small cabinet nor a table—perhaps it should be rightly called a whatnot. It is designed in the Japanese style, and the sides are intended to be pierced right through in the charcteristic manner. At present there are comparatively few substitutes for the old-fashioned low whatnot, and a variety of some such contrivance as this would be acceptable. The small flower vase stand at the side is decidedly Egyptian in manner, and if produced in black with red lines would be both stylish and effective. The majority of such stands are at present made much taller than this one, though a small arrangement of this description is certainly more useful for heavy vases. In the companion table to the right the star form is utilized for the top, and a small bracket has been brought out to support each alternate angle.

THE NEW SOUTH.

Wonderful Growth of "Dixie" During the Past Nine Years.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 5.—The Times-Democrat's annual review of the progress of the South makes a most encouraging exhibit for the year ended Aug. 31. There has been a steady advance everywhere and in every line of business. There has been no boom, except in a few isolated spots, but there has been no set-back, no financial distress, no business depression.

The assessed wealth of the South was $2,164,792,795 in 1880, and is now $3,759,053,367, an increase of 73.9 per cent. The "true valuation" of the South today is estimated at $8,647,890,028, an increase of $2,922,890,028 in the nine years. In the same period the debts of the Southern states have been reduced from $124,066,897 to $89,557,730. With a reduction of the rate of taxation from 4.60 to 4.23 mills per dollar, the revenues have grown from $13,201,866 to $21,128,633, an increase of 60 per cent. Railroad mileage has grown in the nine years from 17,808 to 36,686 miles, with 2447 more miles under construction. Cotton mills have increased from 142, with 542,148 spindles, to 330 with 1,859,627 spindles. Cotton seed mills show a still larger development, the increase having been from 45 in 1880 to 214 in 1889. The value of the oil produced in 1880 was $7,690,921; today it is $17,669,710.

The product of pig iron in 1880 was but 212,722 tons; this year it is 1,245,595 tons. Related to the production of iron is the production of coal, which is now 12,376,500 tons per annum, against 1,963,574 tons in 1880. The value of the annual product of minerals of all kinds was $3,347,445 in 1880; in 1889 it is $29,476,432, an increase of 780 per cent. The lumber product has more than doubled in value, and the same may be said of the fruit product. Live stock has increased in annual value from $391,312,254 to $551,528,731. Agricultural products show a growth in annual value from $611,679,048 to $868,979,523. The total addition to the agricultural, industrial and mineral wealth of the South last year was $1,631,513,686, as against $1,089,366,654 in 1880.

That Little Tickling

In your throat, which makes you cough once in a while and keeps you constantly clearing your throat, arises from catarrh, Kanas catarrh is a constitutional disease, the ordinary cough medicines all fail to hit the spot. What you need is a consitutional remedy like Hoods Sarsaparilla. Many people who have taken this medicine for scrofula. dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and other troubles, have been surprised that it should cure this troublesome cough. But to know the actual cause of the cough is to solve the mystery. Many cases of consumption can be traced back to the neglect of some such slight affection as this. Consumption can be controlled in its early stages, and the effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla in purifying the blood, building up the general health, and expelling the scrofulous taint which is the cause of catarrh and consumption, has restored to perfect health many persons on whom this dreaded disease seemed to have a firm hold.

THE "ARS POETICA" OF HORACE.

[Chicago News.]

I love the lyric muse!
For when mankind ran wild in groves,
Came holy Orpheus with his sons
And turned men's hearts from bestial loves,
From brutal force and savage wrongs:
Came Amphion, too, and on his lyre
Made such sweet music all the day
That rocks, instinct with warm desire,
Pursued him in his glorious way.

I love the lyric muse!
Hers was the wisdom that of yore
Taught man the rights of fellow-man—
Taught him to worship God the more
And to revere love's holy ban:
Hers was the hand that jotted down
The laws correcting divers wrongs—
And so came honor and renown
To bards and to their noble songs.

I love the lyric muse!
Old Homer sing unto the lyre,
Tyrtæus, too, in ancient days—
Still, warmed by their immortal fire,
How doth our patriot spirit blaze!
The oracle, when questioned, sings—
So we our way in life are taught;
In verse we soothe the pride of kings,
In verse the drama has been wrought.

I love the lyric muse!
Be not ashamed, O noble friend,
In honest gratitude to pay
Thy homage to the gods that send
This boon to charm all ill away.
With solemn tenderness revere
This voiceful glory as a shrine
Wherein the quickened heart may hear
The counsels of a voice divine!

Since the election Pierre has been blowing off steam and is now out of danger of exploding, though the pressure has visibly affected its head. Now let it settle down to business and make its title clear to the permanent capital.

There is some method in most of Train's madness, as the bean-eaters who have him in jail are beginning to find out. The Boston Globe remarks that "George Francis Train's refusal to come out of jail compels Massachusetts to advertise herself all over the country as imprisoning a man for debt at this late day; and that, too, for a debt contracted in another state sixteen years ago." Naturally The Globe concludes that "the man who says Train is a fool may well look up the evidence." There is a distiction with a difference between a crank and a fool which Train is now exhibiting.

The launching of the latest McDougall "whale-back," the 103, this afternoon marks the notable success of the new shipbuilding industry at the head of the lakes. In the remarkably short period of sixty-two working days this iron transport has been completed and will take her first cargo in on Monday. In quick succession will follow the 104, 105 and 106, of this noteworthy series, one of which will be fitted with improved propelling machinery and will be the crack tow-boat of the lakes. The working success of the device is now fully demonstrated and its inventor should have due credit for his years of thought and the skill and energy by which it has been realized. Duluth's fleet of whale-backs will soon be recognized as one of the most signal achievements in modern boat building and their production here is both a credit and a service to the city.

The Great Northern railway project is the formal consolidation of the Manitoba and its attachments in one body. Such a fusing together is in line with the general tendency of the day and probably to the advantage of the united members. It assures unity of direction over the whole system and a simplification and cheapening of the executive machine. In the present instance there has been a recognized dominant direction, but the pooling of the earnings of the united parts and the simplifying of the management may benefit all in the long run. The organization is apparently a good financial scheme for the Manitoba, but there is no evidence that it has any wider significance. The assumption that it means the formation of a still greater Northern railway union is purely speculative. Such a union may come, for the drift of the scientific economy of the time is against the waste of competition, but the present purpose of this organization does not reach it.

Minneapolis is getting some rather severe object lessons nowadays anent the folly of trying to assume the airs and graces of a city of twice its size and ratio of growth. The "exposition" which has been held for several years has dwindled from a reported attendance of 500,000 in 1887 to 315,000 in 1889, with a comfortable deficit of $10,000 or more. The quality of the "show" has also deteriorated until this season it was a very uninteresting place to visit. This does not signify that the city has lost its grip, or is experiencing a check in its growth; but simply that the ambition of its "booming" citizens soars too high to secure practical results. They appear to be more fond of beating the tom-tom than of sawing wood. An exposition on the plan of this at Minneapolis should only be attempted once in several years. The American people are workers, and will not patronize fairs beyond a certain point; and it would seem that the Flour city boomers might define that point with considerable accuracy by examining the exposition books.

Judges are beginning to talk sharply and plainly of the true cause of the growing discredit of the jury of the day. One of them said in New York recently: "It is easy for intelligent, serious business men to grumble over their newspapers at the wicked negligence of the district attorney. They ought to blame themselves for the absurd verdicts that are often given. Every effort is made to get respectable men on the jury lists, but not a man of any responsibility is willing to serve. All make excuses. They swear they have read the newspapers and have formed such strong opinions that they will not be influenced solely by the evidence. Nine times out of ten such men must be committing perjury. The result is that cases involving intricate business questions, like a celebrated one the other day, are left to be decided by the rag-tag and bobtail of the people, with a bottle-nosed runner for a brewery as foreman." These be biting words but it is no time to mince words. Unless the country wakes up to the necessity of maintaining the credit of the jury system it will grow worse rather than better. It must not be suffered to fall into contempt.

It is worth noting that Canada is taking no pains whatever to add to her military force, however much bluster there may be over the Behring sea hot-pot and other grievances. In this apathy there may be some reliance on the mother country, but the chief cause is that Canada does not really fear any conflict with this country or propose to make any. She is shrewd enough to seek whatever concession can be got by drum-beating and declaiming, but behind her display she is cultivating the arts of peace without losing a moment. Her commercial energy is particularly notable. A cable is to be laid from her Atlantic coast to Ireland and another from her Pacific coast to Australia. Steamship lines will be established and extended from Halifax and St. John to the West Indies and English ports, and on the west coast from Vancouver to Australasia as well as to Japan and China. At the conference of the Australian colonies a minister of the crown representing Canada will appear and official agents have already been sent to the West Indies, and the leading South American states. It looks as if she was determined to make a name for herself and to cut a far more independent figure than heretofore in the eyes of the world.

ZOCH, NICHOLLS AND HOARE.

The concert given at the Congregational church last evening was, in some respects, the most notable musical event the city is likely to have this season. The audience was smaller than it should have been, but made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers. The program was severely classical, and embraced a wide range. It opened with a prelude by Johann Sebastian Bach, written before pianos were fitted with pedals, and Herr Zoch performed it without touching the pedals. From this the program progressed in nearly chronological order through piano numbers by Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Chopin, Schumann, Raff, Wagner to Listz and closed with the grand etude, "Mazeppa." It was very strong musical diet; it would have been very strong for an audience culled from among the musicians and music lovers of a large city where the people had been given opportunities for musical culture for years and generations. That it did not go over the heads of this Duluth audience should be regarded as conclusive evidence that our city is exceptionally musical.

Herr Zoch's execution of his large proportion of the program was without a glance at a score or a program. His playing was faultless, as to execution and a correct interpretation of the author's motive. He is an artist of very high order, conscientious, careful, competent, sympathetic. Of a pianist who can give such a program as Herr Zoch gave last evening, without a score, and with the spirit and verve which he exhibited, there can nothing be said in derogation and everything in praise. He has fixed his reputation in Duluth, and can rest assured that if he ever comes here again every lover of music will greet him.

The vocal numbers by Mrs. Nicholls were an arrigo from Verdi's "Cicilian Vespers," and Gounod's "Sing, Smile, Slumber." The first selection was given with such finish and power as to reveal a new and unrealized capacity in the singer. It gave excellent opportunity for an exacting test, both of the range and power of her voice and the extent and thoroughness of its cultivation. She endured the test with signal success. She proved that she possesses a a voice of extraordinary power, range and sweetness and that her technique and method are faultless. There were in the audience some exacting critics and entirely competent judges, whose musical standard of excellence has been established by thorough study and intimate knowledge of the best great singers of the generation. Their verdict is that not a flaw was detected in the vocalization of this piece. The Gounod song was charmingly given, with all the excellencies of the first, and an encore being insisted upon by the audience a pretty song written by Campbell for Miss Grace Hilty and sung by her with great success at Chicago, entitled "Finette," was given. A leading place among the sopranos of the Northwest has long been accorded Mrs. Nicholls. Last night's magnificent performance entitles her to a place in the very first rank of the soprano soloists of the country, and she will easily make this claim good when opportunity offers for her to prove her rights before critical Eastern audiences.

Professor Hoare's part of the program was worthily performed also. He gave Artot's "Souvenir de Bellini" with spirit and finish, and showed control of and sympathy with his instrument. He had the courage to choose a selection in harmony with the high character of the program, and he has the satisfaction of knowing that he won the approval and applause of an audience keyed up to a very high classical pitch. He also played an obligato to Mrs. Nicholl's Gounod number.

People Who Fret.

"Care killed the cat," is a well-known old saw. The force of it is in the fact that fret and worry will kill even an animal which is popularly said to have nine lives. Fretting and worrying may not kill, but they will shorten your days, and what happiness is there in a life all cankered with care? But how avoid worry? Well, Americans travel more than any other people on the globe, and probably discomforts and delays in traveling cause us greater annoyance than all other sources of fretting combined. The great Burlington system reaches all the principal cities of the West, and if you always select it as your route, you can banish fretting forever, so smooth is its track, so sumptuous and luxurious are its cars, and so appetizing and well-cooked are the meals served on its diners. For tickets, and any information about this "People's Favorite," call on your local agent, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, General Passenger Agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY.

What Has Been Done in Duluth Social Circles This Week.

People and Affairs, Parties, Musicales and Weddings.

With cooler weather the social ball begins to whirl more rapidly and plans for fall and winter amusements are aplenty, though but little has yet come to the surface. The various societies for literary study, for eleemosynary work, for advancement in art, while not all actively at work are maturing plans. Half-a-dozen dancing clubs will hold their first session in October and card and dancing parties are talked of numerously. There are engagements galore, and in both this month and November will be numerous weddings about which society people have no little curiosity and interest.

Things.

The Womans Industrial exchange has been organized, with Mrs. Wm. R. Stone for president, Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge and Mrs. Thomas Dowse for vice-presidents, Mrs. J. C. Robinson for secretary and Mrs. W. C. White for treasurer. Its object is to provide work for needy women. It is organized on a plan selected as best from the plans of many similar affairs, and the ladies interested are enthusiastic in their work. It is hoped the exchange may do much good.

The cooking school that has been in progress for the past week has been one of the best features of the season. Many Duluth ladies have attended and the results of a few lessons are easily seen by their families. Not the least important part of the lessons has been showing how to do work with the least labor. The lessons continue into next week, entrees and desserts being studied.

Mrs. Howe, a descendant of General Winfield Scott, and on this account a great favorite with the G. A. R., is in the city, the object of her visit being the holding of a kirmess. The entertainment will differ from ordinary affairs of this kind in that it is entirely military in its principal features. The dates set for giving it are the 12th, 13th and 14th of December, the proceeds to go to St. Lukes hospital. Temple Opera house has been engaged for the event. The "Kirmess" is distinctively European, and Mrs. Howe was the first to introduce it into this country. She has superintended their organization in all the large Eastern cities and has been very successful in this work. Many of Duluth's best society people will take part in the entertainment.

This afternoon was held the first session of the Saturday club for the year. Owing to the cooking school it took place in the audience room of the Congregational church. The program carried out successfully was as follows, papers being prepared on the subjects mentioned:

The Troubadours.
Geoffrey of Monmouth
William de Lovis and his "Romance of the Rose."
Norman French writers and poets.
Abelard and Heloise.
Art—Miniature and decorative painting from Charlemagne to 1108.
Picture painting for same time.

Miss A. F. Struckmeyer has re-commenced her dancing lessons. She will soon begin the weekly socials that proved so pleasant last year.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Greenwood give a progressive euchre party, one of the first entertainments of the kind of the season, on next Wednesday evening.

Miss Louisa Brown of West Second street, entertains a small company Monday evening.

Oct. 17 and 18 have been set as the dates on which the musicale for the benefit of a musical library fund will be given, under the direction of Mrs. Stocker. The concert will be given by pupils of Mrs. Stocker, assisted by Mrs. Nicholls, Mrs. Loman, Mr. Wagar and one or two others. There will be no admission price, but it is hoped that enough money can be raised to form a nucleus of a library fund, such library to be merged into the Duluth public library, when there shall be such an organization.

At the Thursday evening meeting of the Duluth Lodge of Elks the resignation of Mr. George French as E. R. was received. At the next meeting someone will be elected to fill the vacancy. The Elks have made arrangements with Col. Thomas Cullyford for several rooms in the new part of the St. Louis hotel, which will be fitted up for their use at once. The suite will include reception and lodge rooms and three anterooms, and will be ready for occupancy in about a month.

Several to Wed.

The prominent young attorney, S. D. Allen of this city, will next Wednesday marry, in Winona, Miss Gertrude Staples, daughter of Dr. Franklin Staples, a prominent resident of that city. Mr and Mrs. Allen will return to Duluth soon after the wedding and will reside here.

Invitations are issued to the wedding of Miss Annie Wieland to Mr. John F. Schlunes, both of this city, which takes place next Thursday evening at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Schlunes will go to housekeeping at once.

West End Social.

The dancing party held in Normanna hall last night was attended by fully 100 couples. Refreshments were served. The dance broke up about 2 o'clock. This is but the first of a series of dances that will be given.

The Estey musicale given at the reading-room was well attended. The leading features of the program were a duet by Misses Evans and Hopkins, a solo by B. F. Hawkins and a duet by Mrs. Findley and Hopkins.

A party of about thirty young people, members of the Young People's Bible class of Grace Sunday School, assembled Wednesday evening at the residence of Mrs. J. L. Lewis on Twenty-fourth avenue and took that lady completely by surprise. After an interesting chat, many good wills having been extended to several of the party who were to leave for Tacoma and Seattle, games were indulged in and refreshments served.

Mrs. Jos. Ryan, with children, returned last night from a short visit in St. Paul.

Mrs. Ribenack, with her son Edward, and daughter Bertha, will leave Monday for their home in Kilbourn City, Wis.

Notes Theatrical.

Paola, the new opera, goes on the road next week.

Manager Haycock will charge $5 for a season ticket to the four Rose Coghlan performances.

The ancient "Evangeline" has been revived in New York and is drawing crowded houses.

Manager Haycock is negotiating with Bennett & Moulton's Opera company for a long engagement here next summer.

The government has begun to levy a duty on scenery imported into this country. Heretofore it has been regarded as "tools of trade." Wilson Barrett paid duty on 380 tons of scenery.

The ventilation and heating of the Temple Opera will be perfect. Under each seat is a small register, which serves both to purify the air and to admit heat from the net work of steam pipes under the floors.

MAKE THEM AT HOME.

Next Spring Artificial Stone Walks Will Be Manufactured at Duluth.

W. P. Cockoy, the president of the Portland Stone company, is in the city. In regard to the establishment at the head of the lakes of a stone plant, Mr. Cockey said:

"Yes, we have about completed arrangements for building a manufactory here, upon which we propose to expend $100,000. We will put in two plants, one at Duluth and a second at West Superior. We have already rented a warehouse in this city. The season is so advanced now, that we will not be able to do any work this year, but directly on the opening of spring we will begin to put in the plant.

"Artificial sidewalk stone, all kinds of tile, sewer pipe, etc. will be made giving employment to fifty men on this side of the bay. Superior has no right to say, as it is saying, that this plant will be a Superior concern, for it will not be. I recognize only one city here. This is 'the head of Lake Superior.' The business interests of the towns here are identical. The growth of one town means the growth of the other. The new stone plant will be a 'head of the lakes' concern."

A WONDERFUL BIRD.

A Parrot With Many Accomplishments and Tricks.

Ticket Broker Charles Kimball of this city, has a parrot which is truly a feathered wonder, and for which he has refused several offers of $500. The bird talks fluently. It whistles "If I were only married," "Johnny get your gun," "The Star Spangled Banner," and several other songs, and with the regularlity of an alarm clock wakes the household at about 7 o'clock in the morning with a series of shrill screams, followed by such remarks as "Come and kiss Harry, "Poor Harry wants a kiss," etc.

Like other parrots, it remembers all the swear words it hears and when an occasion offers repeats them, for which offense he is usually covered over with a blanket. Mr. Kimball, the owner, under great pressure, utters a strong word, and did so in the parrot's presence the other day, when the bird cautioned him against a repetition of the offense by remarking, "Look out, Charley; you'll be put under a blanket if you swear." The bird is said to be one of the most highly educated in the country.

Breathing the Germs of Disease.

To inhale the germs of disease with their daily breath is the fate of denizens of malaria-scourged localities everywhere. The endemic atmospheric poison may, however, be reft of its venom and rendered innoxious by a defensive use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This preeminently safe and effective remedy and safeguard not only eradicates the disease when developed, but enables the system to safely bravo its assaults. Every physical function is confirmed in or restored to regularity, the circulation quickened if sluggish, and the bilious habit, which of itself begets a proneness to both intermittent and remittent types of malarial disease, where extrinsic atmospheric causes exist, powerfully counteracted by this inimitable fortifying and defensive agent, which has, moreover, none of the disagreeable characteristics of a drastic cathartic or an alkaloid. Fever and ague, dumb ague and ague cake and the calentura of the Isthmus are conquered by it surely, pleasantly. Rheumatism, neuralgia, gout, kidney and bladder troubles, constipation and indigestion yield to it.

WM. C. ENDICOTT, JR.

The Son of His Father Married to a Massachusetts Girl.

LENOX, Mass., Oct. 5.—The marriage of Miss Louise Thoron of Boston, and William C. Endicott. Jr., son of the ex-secretary of war, took place at the residence of Samuel G. Ward. Rev. Father Pendergast of Washington, performed the ceremony, assisted by Father Smith of Lee. C. P. Curtis, Jr., of Boston, was best man. Prominent among the guests were ex-President and Mrs. Cleveland.

A Steel and Iron Boom.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 5.—The iron business hereabouts is enjoying a boom, and the outlook for the winter has never been better. Within less than two months steel blooms and billets have advanced $6 per ton in price, and the tendency of the market is still upward. Blooms and billets are now quoted at $33 and are scarce at that. Trade reports say that the demand exceeds the supply, and orders are placed away ahead in many mills. The steel rail market is also in splendid condition and the demand is excellent. Rails are quoted at $32, and but few to be had at that. It is thought that $35 will soon be reached. In the last few days Bessemer pig has stiffened from $18.75 to $19.50, and a heavy consumer said today he doubts if he could buy 100 or 1000 tons for less than $20. This is an advance in the last five weeks of between $5 and $6. Altogether the boom rivals the memorable advance of 1884.

Shooting at Aitkin.

AITKIN, Oct. 5.—A shooting affray occurred at Grand Rapids between Thomas Kelly, a bartender there, and Sam Christy, a noted character and hard man, in which Christy received probably fatal injuries. Kelly was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriff Allen and lodged in jail here. Allen says the trouble arose from Christy abusing Kelly by calling him obscene names and demanding whisky of him, which was refused, when Christy left the saloon threatening to return and do Kelly up. In a short time he was seen returning, when Kelly armed himself with a Winchester and fired at Christy at a distance of 200 feet, the ball striking him above the heart and passing through his body. The victim was brought here by the steamer Fawn and is in the care of Dr. Graves, who thinks his injuries will prove fatal.

The above bright and benevolent face, is Dr. A. W. Acker, of England, discoverer of the celebrated Acker's English Remedy for Consumption and other popular preparations. Dr. Acker practised in his younger days among the middle classes of London, and was the means of doing great good, but his health failed and he found himself in the grasp of consumption, with a wife and child depending upon him for support. While in this condition, he discovered the celebrated English Remedy, saved his own life and has since saved the lives of thousands who were on the sure road to death. Any man or woman who feels a tickling in the throat, who coughs, especially in the morning, who raises or has a tight feeling across the chest, who has sharp shooting pains through the lungs or difficulty in breathing, should realize that these are the first symptoms of consumption which, if neglected, are sure to result fatally. Dr. Acker's English Remedy has cured more than one thousand persons who unquestionably had consumption and who were given up by their friends. It merits its popularity and is sold by reputable druggists in every city and town in America. You can't afford to be without it.

Illustrations and Description of the Patent Iron Freight Car

That the Minnesota Iron Car Company Will Build Here.

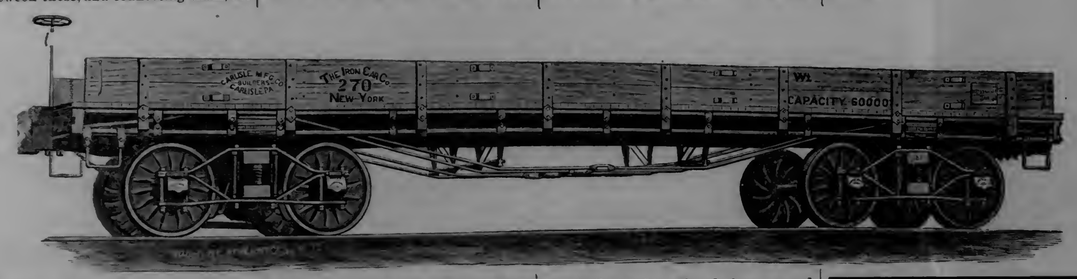

The illustrations published on this page are of the "iron car," so-called, manufactured under patents of the Iron Car company of New York, of which the Minnesota Iron Car company of Duluth is virtually the manufacturing branch. The iron car is comparatively a recent invention, and like many other simple patents, has already met with great success. A brief description of thir car, which looks for all the world like one of the old style, except on close inspection, will be of interest to Duluthians.

The name iron car, in so far as it is supposed to describe the car, is almost a misnomer for there is little more iron about it than goes into the construction of the ordinary freight car, except in the frame. This is composed of wrought iron tubes and malleable iron bars and beams. Whereas the sills of the ordinary car are yellow pine, those of the iron car are made of two malleable tubes, each about 2½ inches in diameter and placed, one above the other, not quite a foot apart.

Between these, and connecting them, are iron clips so formed as to form a sort of truss. Between the ends of these the drawbars are connected and so arranged that the "pull" will be but a small part as destructive as in the timber cars whose drawbar is constantly working against a wood sill. In fact, so great is the destruction at the drawbar that it is estimated that of all ordinary breakages to freight cars fully 75 per cent are either at the bar or caused by it. Such being the case, any device that will render this weak point stronger will be welcomed by railroad men. Such a device is one of the advantages of the iron car, and it is claimed that so perfect is the protection only about 5 per cent of breakage is caused about the drawbar.

The capacity of this car is thirty tons or 60,000 pounds, nearly double that of the wood car, and while the cost is considerably more than the wood car the difference is much more than made up. Its proportion of dead weight is 20 to 25 per cent less than the ordinary style. Being built of a material elastic and strong, it will keep the track when a car of the ordinary style would jump the track. While in case an ordinary car is wrecked there is but little saving in those parts most expensive, the Iron Car company guarantees, in case those parts are returned to it, to replace them at a third the original cost. The average life of a freight car is about ten years, this company proposes to so increase this length of service as to make its money more out of long service than increased cost.

The Iron Car company does not sell its cars but leases them on mileage contracts to roads and transportation corporations. It makes all classes of freight cars in general use, flat, box, hopper, gondola and refrigerator, having just begun the construction of the latter.

As yet there are few roads west of Chicago using the new style car, though railway managers everywhere recognize its advantage and are awake to the need of such a car to compete with other lines. The car has had such success in the East that its owners have been unable to supply a demand west of Chicago. The Minnesota Iron Car company will therefore have a clear field for the West. It will supply all the vast district west of Chicago north to the international boundary and south to the Mexican line.

BOULANGER'S WATERLOO.

He Must Either Submit to Imprisonment or Exile.

PARIS Oct. 5.—Gen. Boulanger will receive his final Waterloo at the supplemental elections to be held tomorrow. In nearly two hundred electoral divisions, where the leading candidates failed two weeks ago to secure the requisite majority, the electoral machinery will be started for the second time tomorrow morning, and tomorrow night the government will be able to congratulate itself upon the possession of a majority in the chambers large enough to ensure the success of any policy it may be inclined to inaugurate.

Boulanger, brave in words, but a veritable coward so far as deeds are concerned, has failed to redeem the promise made to his friends to return to La Belle France on the eve of election and as a result, even among his supporters in the rougher districts of Paris the Boulanger furore is at a low ebb. Only two alternatives are now before him; return to France and its consequent imprisonment in a fortress; or perpetual exile from his native land.

It is not improbable, moreover, that in view of its sweeping victory—which is now conceded even by its opponents, the government may demand his extradition of the English authorities, in which event both Boulanger and Rochefort will lose no time in putting the Atlantic ocean between themselves and their pursuers.

Paris is in its usual pro-election turmoil today, and circulars and posters are being put around by the hundreds of thousands. Trouble is feared in several of the local districts, and additional police precautions will be taken.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

Separation of a Couple in Russia and Their Romantic Meeting in America.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 5.—In a divorce case filed in the circuit court entitled Mariah Miller vs. Louis Miller, there is a most strange and romantic history.

Twenty-five years ago Louis Miller, then of St. Petersburg, Russia, was married to one of the nobility of that city, a beautiful lady of high birth, possessing all of the accomplishments that education and refinement could bring. After the marriage the couple settled in their native city. But misfortunes came to them. The country was at that time seriously threatened by the nihilists. Miller decided to leave his native land and try his fortune among a free people. Bidding his wife of a few months farewell he came to this country.

Being a man of fine business qualifications he readily found employment and finally settled in this city. Here he entered into business and accumulated a fortune. During all of this time he was sending money to his wife and receiving letters from her, but in a few months after he left home his mother, with whom he left his young wife, died, and the wife left to join her friends, 500 miles in the interior of Russia. All of this time the mails were very irregular, and letters hardly ever reached their destination. The wife received no letters from him and he received none from her until one day a letter came to him with the sad tidings of her death.

Years passed and time healed his sorrow. During all this time the wife could get no news of her husband. Thinking him lost she concluded to visit this country and learn, if possible, what had become of him. Bringing with her their son, who had grown to manhood, she landed in Baltimore, and the son came to St. Louis and engaged in business, meeting some friends, and one day they asked him where his father was and he told them the story of his father's life. They said the son looked like a man they knew, and he sent to his mother for a picture of his father, which was shown his friends, who took him at once to that gentleman.

But in the meantime the father had married again and was living in fine style on one of the avenues of this city. His first wife came to see him, and the meeting between them was one of joy and happiness. Both wives, it is declared, loved the husband, but the good judgment of the last wife did not forsake her, and she said she would release him to again live and love his bride of the years gone by. Acting on this resolution she has brought a suit for divorce.

THE ROCK ISLAND.

Change in Management Likely to Occur on Account of Late Disaster.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—The Rock Island railroad management does not propose to burden itself with the expense of litigation in addition to the loss sustained by the recent disastrous accident on its suburban system. It has already paid to the family of one of the victims the sum of $5000, the highest amount that can be recovered by a suit, and the same course will be followed in the other cases. Substantial justice moreover will be done to the surviving victims, and altogether the accident will make something of a hole in the treasury of the corporation.

Private advices from the East are to the effect that some of the heaviest stockholders are considerably wrought up over the affair; and that it would not be surprising if some radical changes in the management were shortly announced.

WHO WROTE IT?

Mrs. Burnett Charged With Plagiarizing "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

LONDON, Oct. 5.—A letter is published here from Mrs. A. J. Winthrop to A. A. Hayes, in which she charges Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett with taking the plot and much of the dialogue of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" from "Wilfred," a story the former wrote five years before, and sent a copy of to Mrs. Burnett. The letter in part is as follows:

DEAR SIR: I understand that you feel some interest in the history of the little book written by me some years ago, from the fact of its having been so closely reproduced in the far-famed "Little Lord Fauntleroy." After printing my story "Wilfred," I naturally was anxious to find a publisher. I wrote to Mrs. Burnett asking her if she could suggest a publishing house. She wrote a kind and polite reply, advising me to apply to Messrs Scribner & Son. They declined the manuscript as being unfit for any of their publications. Then I sent it to Messrs. A. D. F. Ramlolph & Co. New York. They accepted the book and it appeared early in 1880. In acknowledgment of Mrs. Burnett's courtesy I mailed her a copy. Some weeks afterward I received a note of thanks dated June 18, 1880, in which she says: "I have only so far been able to glance through the book, but I have gathered enough of the story to feel sure that children will like it very much." "Little Lord Fauntleroy" appeared five years later. I then found that she had indeed gathered enough of my story to make her book the very counterpart of mine. Had I seen it when it appeared as a serial I think I would have written to call her attention to the resemblance between the two stories, but, as it happened, I did not see hers until it was published in book form, when it was already too late. I might have thought that she had unconsciously appropriated my story but for the resemblance of the details. I wrote a paper comparing the two, and sent it to Mr. A. D. F. Randolph, thinking that he would hand it to some editor. Months later Mr. Randolph returned it with a letter which amounted to nothing. All that I desire is to have it known that "Wilfred" appeared before "Little Lord Fauntleroy," and that it is not I who am guilty of plagiarism.

Chicago Feels Assured.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—An international amateur regatta will be one of the features of the world's fair to be held in this city four years hence. Correspondence to that end has already been opened with prominent amateurs in England, Australia and Canada as well as in this country, and a conference of local oarsmen who have initiated the movement will be held in a few weeks. The proposed program includes single scull, pair, double and four-oared races, and the prizes will be the largest and the trophies the most valuable than at any previous regatta, national or international in the history of aquatic events.

Released from Prison.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—A Dublin dispatch says that Mr. Conybeare, the English member of parliament convicted of offenses against the crimes actby speaking at prohibited meetings, was released from prison this morning after having suffered the full term of three months' incarceration. This is the member whose treatment in prison was the subject of several violent scenes in the house of commons last session. He will be tendered a grand demonstration upon his arrival in London.

Delegates Fast Arriving.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The hotels are fast filling up with delegates to the triennial conclave of the Knights Templars which opens on Monday, although the large delegations from the West, Northwest and Pacific coast are yet to arrive. Tomorrow there will be special devotional exercises in the princi pal churches.

Dr. Waldenstrom Critically Ill.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Dr. P. Waldenstrom of Stockholm, Sweden, who has been making a tour of this country and who was prostrated by typhoid fever some weeks ago in this city, is still in a precarious condition, although it is believed that he will eventually recover. He is a prominent member of the Swedish parliament, and a noted orator and writer.

WE WISH TO ANNOUNCE

that the property of the Lakeside Land Company will not be on sale at present prices longer than January 1st, 1890, at which time a new list of prices will be made, materially advancing the same. Everyone who is acquainted with the prices of real estate in St. Louis county knows that the prices which we now have on our property are lower by comparison than the prices on any residence property in or about Duluth. We have choice lots in London and Lester Park for sale at very low prices, compared with their actual worth, for residence property. We have the property now listed at such low prices that we know it will warrant an advance; our present prices being from 25 to 50 per cent less than other holders of property in London and Lester Park ask for their lots. There is still time to build this fall, and we are offering 20 per cent discount off the regular price of the lots if bought to build on. We loan money to build houses, and only ask one-quarter down on the price of the house and lot, giving five years time to pay the balance in at 8 per cent interest. Our regular terms on the sale of lots, without a building contract, are one-third down and the balance in one and two years at 8 per cent interest. The lots in the Second Division of Lester Park that we have just put on the market are beautifully situated, lie well, and we offer them at very reasonable figures. We are grading Grand avenue, which runs east and west through this property, which grading will be completed November 1st. We ask all who are thinking of purchasing property for investment, or are seeking to get themselves a permanent home, to look our property in London Addition and Lester Park over well before purchasing elsewhere. We wish to call attention to the admirable train service on the Short Line, and also to the fact that the Duluth and Iron Range Railroad company are now selling a 100-ride ticket, good to the person to whom issued for twelve months from the date of issue, at $7, so that a resident of Lester Park or New London can now figure that his rides cost but seven cents each, only a little more than street care fare; that the rides are much pleasanter, and that he can get backward and forward to his business quicker living in either of these suburbs than he can from Tenth avenue east, or any point east of that in the city of Duluth. With water works, electric lights, and sewers, which are to be put in next year, this charming suburb of Lakeside, in which our property is situated, will have all the conveniences and none of the disadvantages of the city of Duluth. Pure air, pure water, good sewerage, first-class streets and sidewalks—all of these we will have in the near future. This, taken into consideration with the beautifully lying land, gently sloping to the lake, of which our village is comprised, what more can one ask of a place in which to make one's self a permanent home.

Take a trip on the Iron Range Short Line and look this property over, and then come and make arrangements to get yourself a good home before it is too late.

CONSTRUCTION OF HOUSES.

Stone, Brick, Wood, etc.---What Should be Considered in Building.

The kind of house we live in has very much to do with health. Indeed, so much of our time is necessarily spent within doors that a healthy house and a healthy home are indispensable. The first great design of a house is to modify the conditions of the weather outside. Protection from rain and from heavy winds is the first idea. Next to this is protection from severe cold or intense heat.

Our first consideration as to the house is to prevent dampness. We do not mean by this that a house can be prevented from responding in some degree to outside conditions of moisture, but it must be so constructed as not to favor continued dampness. It must have capacity for quick drying, and to prevent mold, mildew and any of the conditions of continued dampness. One of the essential prerequisites is a dry ground so that the house may not continually be drawing moisture from it. We know of a house well built, but resting on a water-soaked foundation, in which by capillary attraction the walls in the second story often showed dampness. Where there cannot be complete drying of the foundation, not only should the cellar wall be laid in cement, but it should have an inner cement lining, and with a cement cellar floor. A damp course should be laid above ground so as to intercept wetness and prevent it from passing to the upper walls.

It is the porosity of bricks that gives to them their special advantage as building material. The air permeates them, and so has a chance to dry out the moisture; yet even these are best if protected from long storms. The old mode of a brick filling in and a board inclosure was very favorable to dryness. When stone is used it should be tested as to its porosity, since very dense stone always makes a damp house. An owner of an iron furnace once conceived the idea of building for his workmen houses made of the slag from the furnace; but the houses proved too damp to live in.

All houses should in some form have an air space between the walls and the inclosure. Hence it is never right to plaster directly on the brick. Where there is space this serves as a kind of general dryingroom surrounding the house. As the wall is retentive of heat, this also aids the process. Where houses are built of wood, with air space and hard walls, the plan of sheathing now in use or the employment of an impermeable paper adds much to tightness. Yet the need of porosity is not to be lost sight of. It is recognized that a house may have its walls papered or painted so thickly as to make it damper.

While the adobe house is best suited for warm climates, it is an example of how clay can be used, and if proper attention is given to inside housekeeping the building is much drier than many of more pretentious construction.

In the last few years portable houses have come to be used considerably. They are constructed either of wood or of some form of so-called patent lumber. This generally consists of some form of paper or pulp mingled with resin or other impermeable material. If they are well and properly constructed of thoroughly dry lumber and put together with precision they make very comfortable summer houses. They should never be purchased without being put up by those that construct. While pretty to the eye if too open or leaky they are unsatisfactory. There is generally need of a chimney, except in countries where there are no summer rains or cold winds. A cold June or July storm requires a fire almost as much as the cold of winter. It is to be remembered as to all such houses that the inner air responds too quickly to external changes. With the exception of keeping out wind and rain they do not much modify external conditions of dampness or temperature.

Many houses are injured by the absence of sunlight. There are days when the rays of the sun should, if possible, reach every part of the house. Nor is there at all times any substitute for the open window. With all of our artificial modes of ventilation there is a freshness and purity about the outer air not easily dispensed with unless severe cold or wet renders its admission unadvisable. We approve of the many devices now in vogue for letting in air by windows without draught—such as the bird ventilator, by which a slip of board under the lower sash gives ventilation at the junction of the two sashes. Also the elbow ventilator with valve so as to turn the current and regulate its amount.

THIBET.

How a Plucky American Secretary of Legation Explored It.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Col. W. W. Rockhill, secretary of legation at Pekin, China, has just returned to Washington from an exploring tour of 1500 miles through the eastern part of Thibet. Half the country traversed had never been seen before by either an American or a European. Col. Rockhill, in making the tour, succeeded where all others have failed.

He left Pekin in December last and entered Thibet in January emerging into China again in June, and reaching the coast in August. He wore a Chinese costume in China and on the borders, and a Thibetan costume in Thibet, and lived on native food. He speaks Chinese and Thibetan, and so was able to make himself understood everywhere. He has brought back most valuable data about the country, the people, their religion, customs and commerce. He estimates the population at 2,000,000, one-third of whom are lamas or priests, who practically monopolize education and wealth. There is a nominal king, beside the grand lama, but the country is governed by the Chinese minister and residents, and pays tribute to China. The Chinese want to keep all the other foreigners out, so as to continue to monopolize the tea trade. Thibet buys nearly 13,000,000 pounds of tea from China each year. The country is poor, exporting only musk and rhubarb. Gold mining is carried on feebly, being discouraged by the lamas. The country is largely a wilderness. England is trying to break in on the southern border of the country, to introduce Indian tea, although they are eager for all other Indian exports. The people are ignorant, superstitious and poor.

A New Style of Cars.

The Northern Pacific has just received twenty new colonist sleepers from Barney, Smith & Co. that are models of beauty, convenience and comfort, and contain many improvements over the ordinary colonist sleeper, or so-called tourist car, generally in use.

Each car has fourteen sections, with gentlemen's toiletroom in one end, and the ladies' room, supplied with marble-topped washstand and force pump, in the other. In one end of the car is a Baker fireproof heater, which heats the car by means of hot water conducted through pipes. In the opposite end of the car is a cooking range surrounded by good kitchen facilities. Opposite this range is a twenty-gallon cooler for drinking water, also a large tank holding seventy gallons of water for general use.

These cars are finished in natural woods, ash, maple and butternut, beautifully polished, and at night are lighted up with eight Acme lamps exactly similar to those in use on Pullman sleepers. The sections are divided by sliding headboards, effecting a privacy not possible in the present style of cars where the sections are separated by a wire netting. An ingenious arrangement of the seats enables them to be extended flat or with head rests when prepared for bedding, and under each seat is a box in which can be stored bedding or small baggage. In each section there is also provided a movable table similar to those in use in Pullman cars, which is extremely convenient for many purposes. All cars are provided with curtain rods.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Northern Pacific employs a porter to look after these sleepers, all holders of second-class Montana and Pacific coast tickets are allowed to use them free of charge. The Northern Pacific has a greater number of these sleepers in service than any other transcontinental line, their total equipment now amounting to sixty-three cars. It is clear that in providing for the comfort of the traveling public, the Northern Pacific, with its new vestibuled dining and sleeping cars and superior accommodations for second-class passengers, leads all its competitors.

Little Lumps of Wisdom

AND SOME MILD REFLECTIONS CONCERNING

INDUSTRY, ECONOMY AND THRIFT.

—Proverbs.

Did you ever think, dear reader, what a big, bustling world we live in. How every man seems to be bound, by the very law of his being, to work and toil and struggle to keep his head above water. We all know this by experience, and while it seems hard, yet as it is the common fate of mankind we are bound to do our level best and leave the results to God. But we, after all, are the architects of our own fortune. Some people fail in life because they are too lazy to work. Such people should learn a lesson from the industrious ant. But there are millions of industrious people who work hard and long, people of good habits and the best of citizens, and yet they fail utterly to accumulate anything for a rainy day. And why is it? Please listen and we will tell you: The secret of acquiring wealth is to put money where it will make money---in other words, where it will grow. The rich men of this country never got their wealth by day labor. More than 80 per cent of them commenced life in that way, but by saving up their earnings and putting them into judicious investments their wealth grew and increased, like the farmer's crops, while they slept. Kind reader, you can become a landowner and capitalist if you only will. No such opportunities have ever been placed before any people as we present to you. We have what will soon become very popular and high-priced suburban property, which we are selling at ground-floor prices and on terms so easy that anyone who has any desire to acquire property can buy one or more lots, pay a very small sum down and make the deferred payments without feeling it. If you want to embrace this great opportunity call and get a plat of Crosley Park and learn all about it. If you fail to do this, please reflect in after years that in the year of our Lord 1889 you had the ladder of fortune placed at your very feet and that you deliberately refused to climb. Think of these things, and come in at once and talk the matter over with us.

WHEAT ACCUMULATING.

Stocks Grow Considerably Larger in the Past Week.

Today's Local Market and Trade Notes---The Movement.

Estimating that today's receipts are 120,000 bu, and shipments nothing, the receipts for the week will aggregate 855,280 bu and shipments 648,000 bu less than that amount, so that on Monday for the first time in many weeks stocks will be over a million bushels. Receipts have been better the past week and promise to be better from ow on, country elevators being well filled up. The Imperial mill is using now about 30,000 bu wheat weekly, and will next week increase its demand to over 40,000 bu. Its flour is meeting with ready sale, and in addition to large orders already received is just about closing one for 5000 bbls for Glasgow. It is almost certain that the coming year will see the mill capacity increased to about that amount daily.

Wheat opened very strong this morning at 1c above yesterday's close for cash and October delivery of the two grades of No. 1 hard and No. 1 northern, and ¾c advance for December delivery, and ½c up on No. 2 northern wheat. The market ruled stubborn but firm up to noon at the opening figures. The advance seemed to check business and trading was very dull. During the last hour concessions of ⅛ to ¼ were made resulting in further small transactions. The decline was recovered before the close, and the market closed very firm with buyers at outside quotations.

The following were the ruling and closing prices of the session: Cash No. 1 hard opened very strong at 1c above last night's close at 82½c, closed very firm at 82½c. No. 1 northern opened firm and 1c higher at 78½, ruled dull, selling off to 78¼ cash and the same to arrive, closed firm at 78¼. No. 2 northern opened firm and ½c higher at 75, close at 75⅝c. No grade two northern sold early at ¼ off from the regular grade at 75. October wheat opened 1 above last night's close at 82½. It closed firm at 82⅝. No. 1 northern for October delivery opened at 78½, sold off to 78¼ and 77⅛, closed at 87¾ for a 3000 bu lot. December opened strong at 84 and closed at 83½.

The Day's Movement.

Cars of wheat on track this morning were 321; Northern Pacific, 101; Eastern, 220. Receipts were 105,970 bu wheat. Shipments, 416 bu wheat.

Chicago Close.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 —1:15 p. m. close—Wheat firm: October, 81¼; December, 83¾; May, 88½. Corn firm: October, 31; November, 31¼; May, 33⅜.

Minneapolis Close.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct 5—Closing quotations: No. 1 hard, October, 80; November, 81; December, 82; May, 87½; on track, 80½. No. 1 northern, October, 77; November, 78; December, 79; May, 84½; on track, 78. No. 2 northern, October, 73; November, 74; December, 75½; May, 81; on track, 73@75.

NEXT YEAR'S BALL.

Duluth to Join the Western, or Re-form the Old Northwestern League.

In all probability not all the cities of Des Moines, Denver, Milwaukee, Minneappolis, Omaha, Sioux City, St. Joseph and St. Paul will be included in the Western Baseball association next season. Des Moines is said to have dropped $10,000 this season. Such a costly experiment as this is not likely to be repeated. St. Joseph has also paid dearly for the honor of belonging to the Western association and it is not at all probable that she will have a club next year. According to The Sentinel Milwaukee will not go into the association if Sam Morton has anything to do with it officially.

All these financial failures, disagreements, etc., in the new association go to show that there is sure to be a big fight at the association meeting next month. Milwaukee will make a strong bid to enter the American association. J. S. Barnes, the St. Paul manager, has written to Jay Anderson, the president of the old Duluth ball team, offering to get this city a place in the new association, further promising help to secure a team of good players.

Mr. Anderson has written in reply that he would try to form a company here, providing a salary limit clause was embodied in the new constitution. If this scheme fails to go through Duluth will issue a call to the cities embraced in the old Northwestern league and make an effort to re-form the old association, the only Western league, by the way, that ever played out a season unbroken.

Contract Let.

The following bids were received by the board of public works yesterday for the improvement of Fourth street, between Piedmont and Twenty-fifth avenue west: Wolf & Truax, $14,328; Zimmerman & Moore, $16,501; T. A. Sheridan, $14,113; Stewart & Fitzgerald, $13,370. The contract was let to the last named firm.

For paving Fifth avenue west below the railroad track the following bids were offered: By Wilson & Thatcher, $25,243; T. A. Sheridan, $22,283; Zimmerman and Moore, $25,966; Foster & Caughall, $25,094; Wolf & Truax, $26,493. This contract will not be awarded before next week. Bids were also received for putting a sewer in First alley between Second and Sixth avenues east, but the contract will not be let before Monday.

Bright Business Prospect.

Mr. G. H. Young, customs inspector for Manitoba, and Mr. W. H. Swinford, general agent for the Manitoba and Northern Pacific roads, are in the city. Business is much better in Manitoba, they told a Herald reporter, than was expected last spring. The crop has been excellent and the railroads have had plenty of freight to carry. Everyone at Winnipeg is looking forward to the completion of the Duluth and Winnipeg road, as they think this line will benefit them more than any other road could possibly do that did not run towards Duluth.

Bad Bread vs. Bad Whisky.

In the race for the championship in crime producing, bad bread is a good second, if it does not hold its own with bad whisky. Fully half the family quarrels, half the divorces, half the murders, are indirectly the result of bad cooking, bad digestion, bad stomachs, bad bread. Unrivaled Baking Powder makes good bread. Demand it of your grocer. Full weight, 25c per pound.

Who Nimrod Was.

Nimrod, according to the Scriptures, was a mighty hunter, contemporaneous with Babylonian celebrities. His exploits are not given in detail, but they must have been wonderful. Mighty hunters of local fame in Minnesota at present should take a trip over the Saint Paul and Duluth railroad in search of sport. The vicinity of Moose, White Bear, Chisago and Forest Lakes furnishes small game, and in the vicinity of Hinckley and Northern Pacific Junction heavier game may be found. This promises to be a good hunting season. For these points take the Duluth Short line, the quickest route between St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and West Superior, with close connections beyond. Address A. B. Plough, general passenger agent, St. Paul.

Malaria

Literally means bad air. Poisonous germs arising from low, marshy land, or from decaying vegetable matter, are breathed into the lungs, taken up by the blood, and unless the vital fluid is purified by the use of a good medicine like Hoods Sarsaparilla, the unfortunate victim is soon overpowered. Even in the more advanced cases, where the terrible fever prevails, this successful medicine has effected remarkable cures. Those who are exposed to malarial or other poisons should keep the blood pure by taking Hoods Sarsaparilla.

The Question of Woman's Rights.

Much has been said pro and con regarding women and politics. Whatever may or may not be right in this matter one thing remains true, that woman is and ever should be the queen of the household. By good management she can buy for one-half the cost of similar articles, the Unrivaled Baking Powder, full weight, pure wholesome, the other other half can be saved. Ask for it. Get it.

A Handsome Lady

And her beautiful child were passing one of our leading grocers a few days ago when the little girl's eye was attracted by something in the window. It is needless to say that the article, a can of Unrivaled Baking Powder, was procured and turned out to be the purest, most wholesome, full-weight powder in the market, and costs but one-half the price of other good powders. GRAND FALL AND WINTER OPENING,

MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 7, 8 AND 9.

At last we have completed the extensive alterations, improvements and additions to our Mammoth Emporium, and all will be in readiness for our Grand Fall Opening, Monday, Oct. 7th, when we will throw our entire Fall and Winter Stock open for inspection and comparison. Never in the history of Duluth or in any city twice its size has such a magnificent stock of goods been shown, nor have such low prices been quoted. NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS, and our success has been marvelous. Only two and a half years ago we occupied the small store in the corner of the block we are now located. Two years ago we opened in our Glass Block, 118 and 120 Superior street. Having found that entirely too inadequate for our rapid increasing business we have been compelled to lease for a term of years the store next to us. The Glass Block store now occupies 116, 118, 120 Superior street, and 117 and 119 Michigan street. We feel very grateful for the liberal patronage we have received in the past and we guarantee our efforts in the future will be to give our patrons the latest and choicest goods the market affords and at prices that defys any and all competition. Our success has been the result of small profits and quick sales.

GIVEN AWAY---A handsome Family Cook Book will be given to every lady visiting our Cloak Department during Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. It has 316 pages and is worth 50 cents. To be given away, whether you buy or not.
